Dragonfly Law Group gave a short presentation on Restorative Justice and how it is implemented into schools. They did share that it is a 3 year implementation and the first would be working on circles. The circles are talking, peace, reintegration, healing/support, parent/community, staff and celebration circles. They asked the school board to answer 5 questions that pertained to implementing restorative practices, what do you want to see as a success, training and support use effectively and ways students can be involved.

CHS Student Council representatives (Treydon Doyle & Margaret Chipps) along with their advisor Stefanie Blackbear spoke on wanting dress codes, better lunch menu, healthier snacks, students skipping and students being excused until 10:00 a.m. the next day after sports events prior. They also shared that the higher grades are mentoring younger grades (a stepdown technique) also including the elementary students into this.

SPED director Deb Cross input that she is seeing more bullying going on throughout the school and we need to be made more aware of this in our school. Cora Yellow Elk shared that her grandson continues to be bullied more so on the playground and that we need to have a Bully Committee put into place.. Doreen Milk also said that her son is being bullied on the bus and this needs to stop.
