

Ethan Delventhal-Parker:

Ethan Delventhal-Parker, from Waterford VT, has been off to a terrific start here at North Country Charter Academy. So much so that we have chosen to acknowledge Ethan as our student of the quarter for GP1. Ethan started with us as a new student this year at the end of September, and he has already shown what terrific work he is capable of. Very quickly he was able to get a credit and a half completed as he made the decision to focus his attention on what needed to get done; And he has not stopped there. Since earning that 1.5 credits, Ethan has taken on math, geography and even Spanish as a chosen elective. On Thursday's he has elected to take part in our art programming at the Littleton Studio School. He created amazing stained glass artwork to start, and has now moved onto pottery. He is a friendly, polite and outgoing student who has earned the respect and friendship of his peers. He is a silent leader who shows his resilience through his dedication and hard work. Keep it up Ethan, we are all proud of you!
