Thousands of Mosques Close: Why Christianity Is Soaring in Iran While Islam Is Collapsing

For decades, Iran's Shiite government leaders have been obsessed with death. Since the Iranian Revolution in 1978, children have been raised on stories of martyrdom. Young men were taught that dying for Allah was the highest honor they could attain. But now, as thousands of mosques close and the Islamic regime loses its grip on the hearts of its people, something extraordinary is happening. Islam is dying in Iran, but the underground church is alive!

A Texas high school principal steps down

Tiffany Doolan has left her post at Wylie East High School after a firestorm of controversy. Parents expressed outrage after the school allowed a Muslim group to set up inside the building during school hours and hand out Korans and hijabs. The district apologized and now Doolan has tendered her resignation. A statement from the Wylie Independent School District says that “the situation should never have happened and mistakes were made.”

A victory for religious freedom in Egypt

The government has granted legal status to nearly 200 churches and church-affiliated buildings after years of delay. Religious freedom advocates have complained for decades about Egypt's unusually slow process of allowing Christians to legally open houses of worship. Christians make up about 10% of the country's population and while they enjoy generally good relations with the government, the legal status issue has been a sore spot.

Highlights from Letters to Power 88

Hey Kenny.

I am the guy that runs a little four-cylinder car in endurance races in Pensacola and Montgomery. I called you one night a while ago to play "Jesus Freak" on my way home from a race.

I can only say that Power 88.5 was a tool that God used to help me GREATLY about 25 years ago during what was an unwanted Divorce.

The first Christian concert I ever attended was put on by 88.5 the group "Truth" played at a water park off of Wilcox exit off of I-10. When I called the station about a ticket, I asked the very nice lady, (I think her name was Joy) if they were good? she asked me where I had been to not know about them. I laughed and explained "it wasn't in church". I attended several concerts put on by Power 88 over the next few years. I learned what the Lordship of Christ meant. I grew in my Faith and Faithfulness. I fought with God about a "Call to Preach" then surrendered and won! Sold my home in Pensacola quit my job and went to Florida Baptist College. God provided for all my needs (not wants) all the way through going to college after age thirty. I had been out of school longer than I had been in it, and I did not like it then. Got remarried to a wonderful Godly woman, graduated with some Honors, waited for the Lord to open the door he had for me, and it was to be a Prison Chaplain. That is a little funny because in my family dad, one uncle and two brothers did or would do time in prison. One brother died while incarcerated, but God did Save him before his death. Not so sure about the others.

I have been serving as a Chaplain for over 17 years. and without POWER 88.5 I may/probably would not have held on to Christ.

I can't thank God enough for Wilbur Goforth and the DJ's, you included. The little car that I had been running has been placed in Automotive Hospice care with a DNR already signed. :-) It finished 4th once 5th once and always made it into the top ten, God used working on it to restore my relationship with my only remaining brother. THANKS again for YOUR service unto the LORD. If I can ever help you let me know. Just wanted to send you some encouragement.

Sincerely, Chaplain
