Welcome, Fr. Wolfgang Seitz!

Fr. Wolfgang Seitz, ORC, will be speaking at all of THIS WEEKEND'S Masses in preparation for his Mission here from March 17th to 20th (Sunday through Wednesday). (Fr. Wolfgang spoke at St. Therese Church previously—in October of 2016.)

At this weekend's Masses (January 19/20), he will give an introductory talk—especially directed toward parents—about devotion to the Guardian Angels and the value of making a

Consecration to one's Angel—especially by our children. The parents are, of course, a child's first educators in the Faith, and it is important for them to include Angels as part of family life.

"Behold, I am sending an Angel before you to guard you on the way.
..hearken to his voice."

-Exodus 23:20

After each Mass, any parents who are interested in having their children make a Consecration to their Angels will be able to obtain a book (for a small donation of $6—at Father's cost, instead of the usual $15.45 retail) written by Sr. Maria Antonia and published by TANBooks entitled, "Under Angel Wings," which contains true stories of a girl who could see her Guardian Angel, as well as a booklet, "Our Guardian Angel," and Guardian Angel prayer cards. The parents and the children will then read the book together or individually over the next two months.

Then when Fr. Wolfgang returns for the mission in March, each participating child will be able to make a FORMAL Consecration to his or her Guardian Angel. This consecration was approved by Cardinal Josef Ratzinger (later Pope Benedict XVI) on May 31, 2000. (Our patroness, St. Therese, made a consecration to her own Angel!). It is a real growth experience not only for children, but also for the parents themselves as they go through the process.

So...please be sure to mark your calendars for March 17 to 20 for Fr. Wolfgang's mission talks!

ABOUT FR. WOLFGANG: Fr. Wolfgang Seitz, ORC, is originally from Ehingen, Germany. He is a member of the Order of Canons Regular of the Holy Cross, an international Order which has its Motherhouse in Tirol, Austria. The Order has the overall direction of the international apostolate, Opus Sanctorum Angelorum (Work of the Holy Angels), a public association of the faithful, whose mission is to spread devotion to the holy angels in the Church. Fr. Wolfgang studied at the seminary of the Order, Institutum Sapientiae, in Anapolis, Brazil, after which he was ordained a priest in 2002. His first mission after Ordination was to Detroit for a pastoral year at Assumption Grotto Parish. Since then, he has been giving retreats and conferences throughout the United States.

Perpetual Adoration

"As Mary is the treasurer and dispenser of the gifts and graces of the Most High God, she reserves a choice portion to nourish and sustain her children and servants. They grow strong on the Bread of Life; they are made joyful with the wine that brings forth virgins. They are carried at her breast. They bear with ease the yoke of Christ, scarcely feeling its weight because of the oil of devotion with which she has softened its wood." -From St. Louis de Montfort's True Devotion to Mary

We are accepting new student applications for the 3rd quarter.

WATER INTO WINE: HOW CHRIST TRANSFORMS US by Bro. Don Schwager

John, the beloved disciple of Jesus, tells us that Jesus did many signs in the presence of His disciples, seven of which were recorded by John. Jesus' first sign took place at a wedding reception in the town of Cana which occurred on the "third day". What is the significance of the third day? It was three days after Nathaniel's first encounter with Jesus (whom he met with the encouragement of Philip). When Nathaniel meets Him, Jesus reveals something that only Nathaniel would have known and then claims, "You shall see greater things than these. Truly, truly, I say to you, you will see Heaven opened, and the Angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man" (John 1:50-51). If someone makes that kind of claim to you, you are going to closely watch whatever he does to see if he can make good on the claim. You want to find out if he is genuine or just an imposter.

Back to the wedding reception, where they have run out of wine. When Jesus' mother presses Him to do something about it ("...they have no wine"), Jesus seems to put her off ("...My hour has not yet come"). But she knows her Son can do something to help. Mary said to the servants, "Do whatever He tells you." Jesus said, "Fill the jars with water" (there were six stone jars, each able to hold twenty or thirty gallons). They filled each to the brim and He said, "Now draw some out, and take it to the steward of the feast." When the steward tasted the water-now-become-wine, he said to the bridegroom in confusion, "Every man serves the good wine first... but you have kept the good wine until now" (John 2:3-10), a reminder to us of all the prophets who came before Jesus.

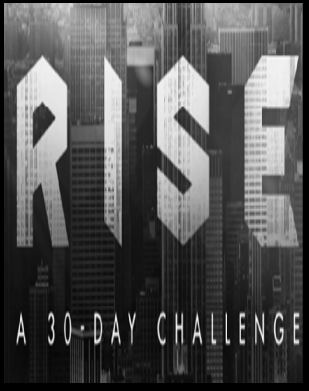

Why did Jesus pick an ordinary wedding feast in a little out-of-the-way town to perform His first sign and to launch His public ministry? He not only wanted to bless a newly-wed couple but all those at the wedding banquet as well. John describes Jesus' first public miracle as a sign—a sign of what He has come to do: Transform the lives of all who will believe in Him. For the people of Israel, a wedding feast symbolized God's special relationship and covenant with the people of Israel. The Old Testament describes God as the Bridegroom of Israel and presents His covenant relationship with the people of God as a spiritual marriage (Isaiah 54:5; Jeremiah 3:14; Hosea 2:16, 19-20).

If Jesus can change water into wine for an embarrassed wedding couple, how much more can He change US through the transforming power of His Holy Spirit. John tells us that "to all who received Him, He gave power to become children of God (John 1:12,13). This sign at Cana points to His power, not simply to improve the quality of our lives, but to change and transform us to be like Him—people of joy, peace, and love who do not fear death, but instead who know and experience even now the taste of eternal life—the life of God's Kingdom. He gives us everything we need to live as His disciples. Jesus blessed a nameless couple in Cana not only with His presence, but also with His power. He will bless us as well, not only with His presence, but with His healing love and life-changing power.

What might hold us back from allowing Jesus to change and transform us? Perhaps you feel that your faith is weak or that you are unworthy to receive God's favor and gifts. Perhaps you struggle with anxiety or despair because your life feels hopelessly out of control. Jesus knows our struggles and weaknesses better than we do. And that doesn't stop Him from offering us freedom and transformation through the gift and working of His Holy Spirit. Paul the Apostle reminds us that God chooses to work in and through fragile and cracked vessels, such as us, to reveal the power of His glory and love. "We have this treasure in earthen vessels, to show that the transcendent power belongs to God and not to us" (2 Corinthians 4:7). If there is anything holding you back from trusting in Jesus, let it go—give it to Jesus. Let go of fear—fear of losing your life. Let go of pride—wanting to always be in control and have things your way. And let go of unbelief—the stubborn refusal to accept Jesus on His own terms and to deny that He has the words of eternal life. Be like Nathaniel and choose to follow the Master to the wedding banquet and beyond, to even greater things.
