What do you love about Langston Road?

I love how much the teachers and staff have created a positive learning environment! Building relationships and fostering the love of learning is evident at Langston Road Elementary School.

What do you love most about being a principal?

What do you love most about being a principal? One of my favorite things about being a principal is building relationships with my students and faculty. One of the highlights of my day is starting each morning greeting everyone as they enter the building. As a principal, I am able to touch the lives of so many people each day. I want to make sure those encounters are focused on high expectations for learning and positive culture at Langston Road Elementary.

Tell us about the person who inspired you to become a leader.

There are several people who inspired me to become a leader. As a teacher, Mr. Kight was my first principal. He told me in my third year of teaching that I would be a principal one day. At the time, he saw something in me that I hadn't seen in myself. As I continued down my educational journey, Tonya Maddox was my principal in Houston County. She provided me with teacher leader opportunities and challenged me to step outside of my comfort zone to learn the Houston County Way. Once I became an Assistant Principal for Instruction, Gloria Smith continued to support me in my leadership role. She has a passion for student learning and a love for her school that I knew that I would one day model as Principal.
