Work-Based Learning/Youth Apprenticeship Program

Youth Apprenticeship Program Student, Jasmine Newsome, Enjoys Learning in the Operating Room Department at Houston Healthcare

Jasmine is a first year Youth Apprenticeship Program (YAP) student who, because of completing a healthcare pathway at Houston College and Career Academy, was eligible for this year-long experience. Each day Jasmine reports to Houston Healthcare (HHC) during her first period to observe the many interesting events in the operating room department. So far, she has volunteered for over 109 hours which will be a great addition to her resume as she applies for colleges in the future.

When asked about her hospital experience, Jasmine said, "Working at HHC has provided me with a huge advantage. It has given me firsthand experience of what it's like to be inside a fast pace and tedious environment, allowed me to work on my communication skills, and has exposed me to different specialties. Seeing how the operating room works on a day-to-day basis has expanded my knowledge about what I want to pursue in the medical field, Physician Assistant or Radiology Technician. Having this experience makes me a stronger applicant for PA and Radiology programs that I will apply to in the future! Without this wonderful opportunity at HHC I wouldn't have been exposed to a clinical environment nor realize what my future career will be."

Houston County School District's Youth Apprenticeship Coordinator, Sandi Couillard, recruits and manages the healthcare students for the HHC workplace opportunities.
