

NOTES FROM THE PRINCIPAL

- Students in 8th Grade who are receiving Confirmation have a practice this Sunday, March 3, from 5-6:15 p.m. in the Church. Only students need to attend, not their sponsors.
- Our annual Tricky Tray will be held on March 15-16-17 in the Community Center. Please plan to attend. There are some nice prizes and gift baskets up for auction. Food will also be served each day.
- Our second marking period for the school year will be closing next Wednesday, March 6. Report cards will be made available on Option C on March 20. Once completed there are 60 days remaining in the school year. Our final day of classes is Wednesday, June 5.
- Registration for the new school year continues with open enrollment on Option C. We currently have 60% of the students registered for next year. The tuition fees for the 2024-2025 school year are available on the school web site.

Good afternoon, St. Anne Families,

We are pleased to announce that the Diocese of Allentown is taking a bold step forward in the realm of standardized student assessments. As you are aware, effective schools utilize data from standardized tests in order to measure student growth and adjust teaching methods.

Our aim is to use standardized testing thoughtfully without it becoming an overpowering force within the calendar of a school. To this end, our schools will no longer be administering the IOWA Assessments. In departing from the traditional IOWA tests, we are embracing the innovative Star Benchmark Assessments for Reading and Math.

This shift allows us to monitor individual student progress and benchmark ourselves against a broader educational landscape, comparing our performance with other Catholic and public schools across the State of Pennsylvania. All of our elementary schools have begun using Star and the results are positive. Teachers can receive results days after a student completes an assessment, enabling them to quickly assess their students' performance and facilitating timely interventions and enrichment, if needed.

The Star Assessments, which align with more current educational standards, promise a comprehensive and insightful evaluation, offering a holistic view of our students' progress, and allows for timely instructional adjustments to maximize growth for all students. This move reflects our commitment to remaining at the forefront of educational practices by allocating resources to target specific skill areas necessary for each student's success.

What does this look like across all our elementary schools? First, the Office of Education can see a school's performance, grade by grade. Second, each principal can review the performance of every class. Third, each teacher can monitor the progress of every student. This level of detail helps to improve instruction without losing any of the Catholic ethos that makes our schools so caring.

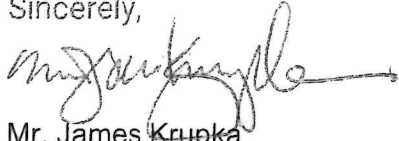

May God continue to guide and bless our teachers and students as we embrace this opportunity to ensure that our students receive the best possible learning experience. Please contact me or Dr. Emily Kleintop, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Government Programs, if you have any questions.
