Senior Motto:

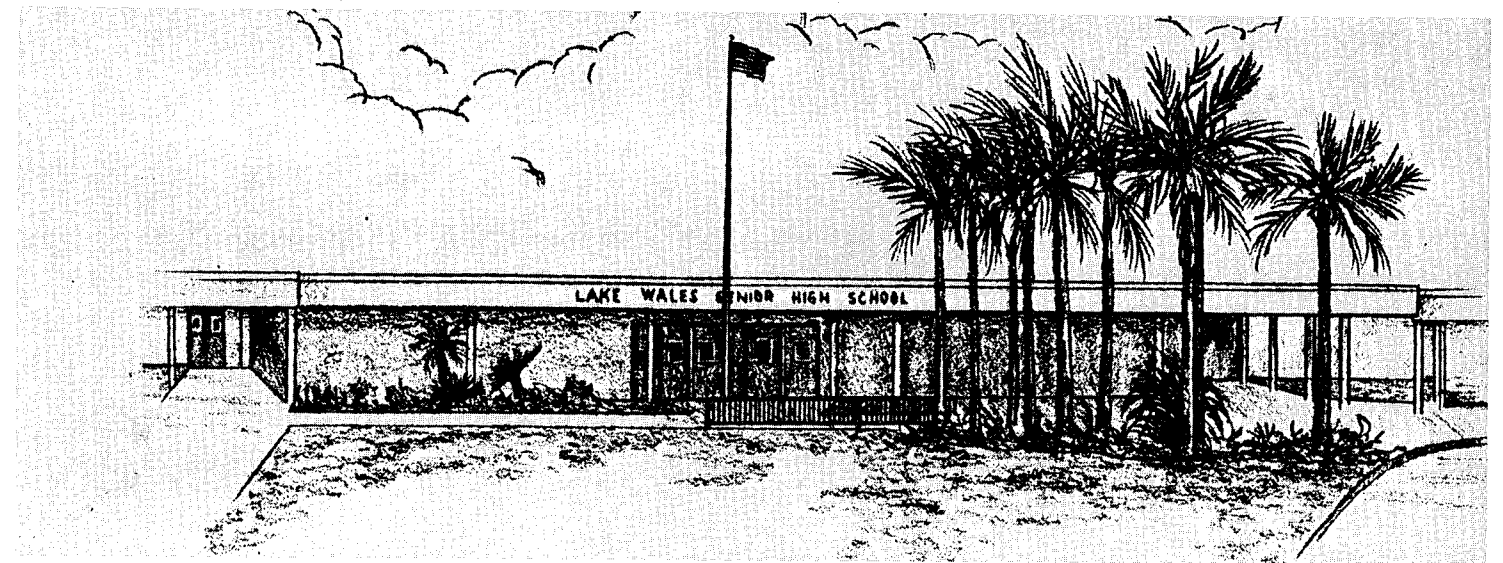

I Am Busy Knowing Myself and Making Me Count

Mrs. Cloud, Senior Class Sponsor

Brenda Ramsey, President; Karen Whitmire, Vice-President; Mr. Rizer, Class Sponsor; Cynthia Richards, Secretary; Dori Green, Treasurer

YOU ... the Senior Class of Nineteen hundred and eighty have left your footprints for all to follow. You have set goals and started traditions that we as future graduates can only hope to accomplish.

YOU ... are the first class to have completed four years at the new Lake Wales Senior High. In your Freshman year you were denied a float in the homecoming parade. But overlooking this, you let yourselves be seen and heard. You decorated an M.G. belonging to the friend of Miss Zitch, your sponsor. You were given your own section in the gym and walls to decorate in the activity center. "Baby Highlanders" was the name given to you by the upper classmen. Soon shedding this name and handing it down to your successors, you became Sophomores. You set a new record for paying your class dues; you were given a key chain by your sponsors for paying them. You sold booster items and had car washes to help support your class. That year you captured 3rd place for your homecoming float, and on field day you came in 2nd. When you became Juniors, you really proved you were #1. To start off the year your homecoming float won first place. You also won the Spirit Chain contest. On the annual magazine sale you passed all records ever set, making a new one for others to live up to. You gave the class of 1979 a great prom for their remembrance as well as yours.

YOU ... As Seniors now have reached your highest peak. You captured 1st place for your Homecoming float entitled "Take the Tigers by Their Tails!" You bought your senior pictures and caps n' gowns as well as other graduation supplies. You were given a grand prom held at the Lakeland Civic Center Banquet Hall, a tradition you started.

Seniors of 1980, you are a proud class with many talents and ambitions. Your fellow classmates are proud to say we knew you and were a part of your special year to remember.

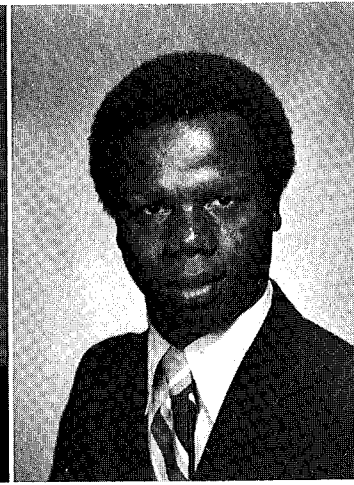

We thank Mr. Rizer and Mrs. Cloud for boosting you and helping you in your accomplishments, many of which we enjoyed with you.

Outstanding Seniors Honored on Awards Day

Late in your senior year you were chosen by your classmates as the twelve most outstanding. You were chosen on the basis of your scholastic and extracurricular achievements. When you were announced on awards day, you were presented with a gift that was characteristic of your accomplishments.

Seniors Take Gold

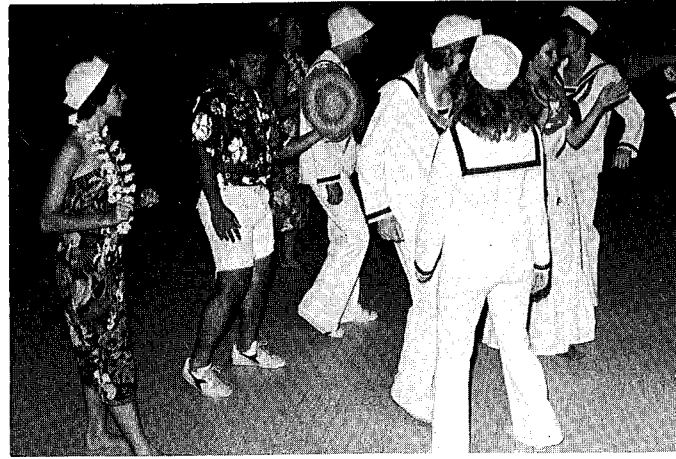

After tossing aces, dropping straws, lighting candles one-footed on a can and getting raw noses and mashed potatoes, your scores were widely varied following each event. Some people blew the competition during the balloon pop while others got tied up with the human chain; the scores hung in limbo until the finish of the last contest, after which it was announced that the seniors were naturally number one!

1. V. Brunson blows it for junior class.
2. Senior class cheers teammate on.
3. T. Williams waits her turn.
4. Senior J. Tucker hands Mrs. Smith scorecard.
5. Emcee M. Fletcher relays instructions.
6. A. Biglete pins up sophomore points.
7. J. Daniels throws away freshman victory.
8. D. Barnes lights up for senior class.
9. W. Tillman loses the touch.
10. "That's no way to throw it!" D. Fisher.
11. G. Fulton and T. Corriveau watch enthusiastically.
12. Coach Howell awaits J. Griffin's attempt.

Seniors and juniors "sailed away" to Lakeland Civic Center which was the site for the 1980 Lake Wales High School prom. As you entered the magic door, you stepped onto a tropical island somewhere far away. You were greeted by island natives and sporty sailors, really sophomore servers in disguise, with glistening smiles and sparkling eyes. After adorning your necks with leis and planting sweet kisses on your cheeks, the natives "punched" you Hawaiian style.

Unbalanced and unstrung by the music of Ricky and Tightrope, you sailed around the dance floor like a schooner on the waves.

While you viewed a memorable slide presentation, tears cascaded down your cheeks as you realized how soon it all would end. Kim Floyd and Lee Brunson were crowned as your Prom King and Queen.

1. Sophomore servers have a moment of fun after the prom.
2. The Queen and King: Kim Floyd and Lee Brunson.
3. Ricky and Tightrope kept the guests moving to the music.
4. Senior Superlatives
5. Outstanding seniors L. Peterson and S. Clack enjoy prom.
6. Mr. and Mrs. Williams get down at prom.
7. M. Norton shows Mrs. Goss the juniors' appreciation.
8. M. Norton reads the names of the senior superlatives.

Seniors Sail Away

A new twist was added to your prom with the section of senior superlatives. Earlier in the year the class of '81 polled the seniors on who they felt the outstanding students in their class were. The categories ranged from the funniest to the best dressed. One guy and one girl were picked in each of the ten categories. These select seniors were recognized and given sashes depicting their special qualities. This ceremony was appreciated by everyone and will be anticipated by students and teachers as a traditional part of prom for years to come.

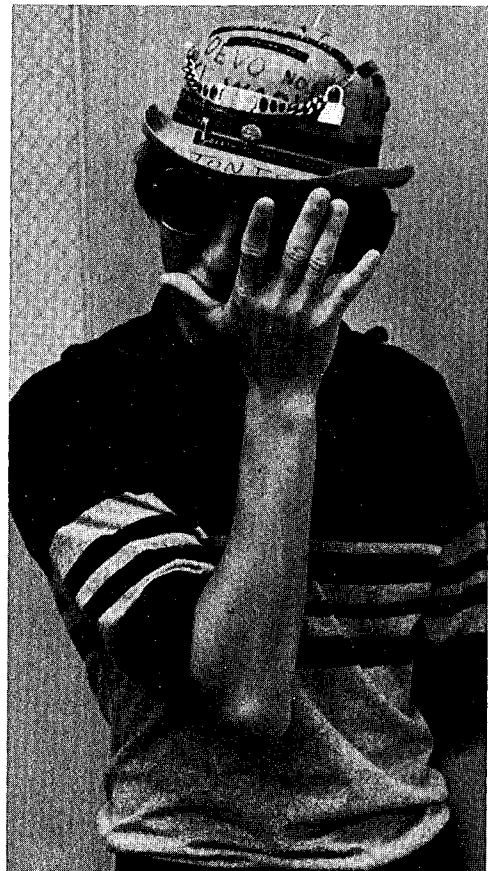

After you danced your last dance and drank your last glass of punch you all headed for your cars with memories of your all-to-brief tropical paradise that will not soon be forgotten. You then headed to your own private breakfast parties to be with your friends, or to your secret spot to be alone. By sunrise you had all found your way back to your homes and were dreaming of your tropical evening.

The junior class would like to give special thanks to Mr. Potter, Mr. Deaton, Mrs. Goss, Mrs. Waller and the many other people who helped in the creation of the prom. Without their hard work, special talents, and ideas the evening would not have been such a success.

1. Junior class president David Brunson prepares to announce his brother, Lee as the prom king, as Mrs. Goss stands ready with the crown.
3. Prom guests sign in before entering the tropical paradise.
4. P. Borders greets a prom guest with a kiss as J. Powell looks on.
5. A. Nelson and J. Border's clown around after prom.
6. Mr. and Mrs. Forbes enjoy the prom as much as the students.
7. Sophomore server P. Geils tries to figure out where to escort L. Holton after she was announced "Best Dressed."

The derby competition was tops when many of you entered hats of all kinds. The Derby Day winners who were announced at Awards Day were Melissa Beai, Bunny Walcutt, Barney Moore and Ken McMullen. After being dismissed from school, you picnicked in the park at the lake. With bright sunshine lighting up your smiles of enjoyment, you tossed frisbies, played basketball and competed as teams of four in many events.

1. McIntyre moves in on Mixon.
2. Finger lickin' good L. Tonjes.
3. Team cheering squads.
4. Senior creativity is tops (Anderson and Hurr)
5. Seniors picnic in the park.
6. S. Acheson and S. Dupree gossip awhile.
7. D. Sanders, K. Floyd, K. Sparks and J. Lockridge "spectate."
8. J. Daniels and P. Lloyd talk over the day.
9. Sponsors: J. Blasco, L. Cloud, and C. Eubanks.
10. P. Lloyd tires out!
11. Lorenzo says "I am top!"

Privileged Seniors Step Up

On Thursday, May 29th, the 1980 graduating class attained new heights as you climbed the stairs of Bok Tower. With lifted spirits and watchful eyes, you surveyed the tranquil beauty of the Mountain Lake Sanctuary from the tower's marble balconies. After tuning in to several short carillon recitals, you descended the steps and emerged feeling privileged with such a refreshing opportunity.

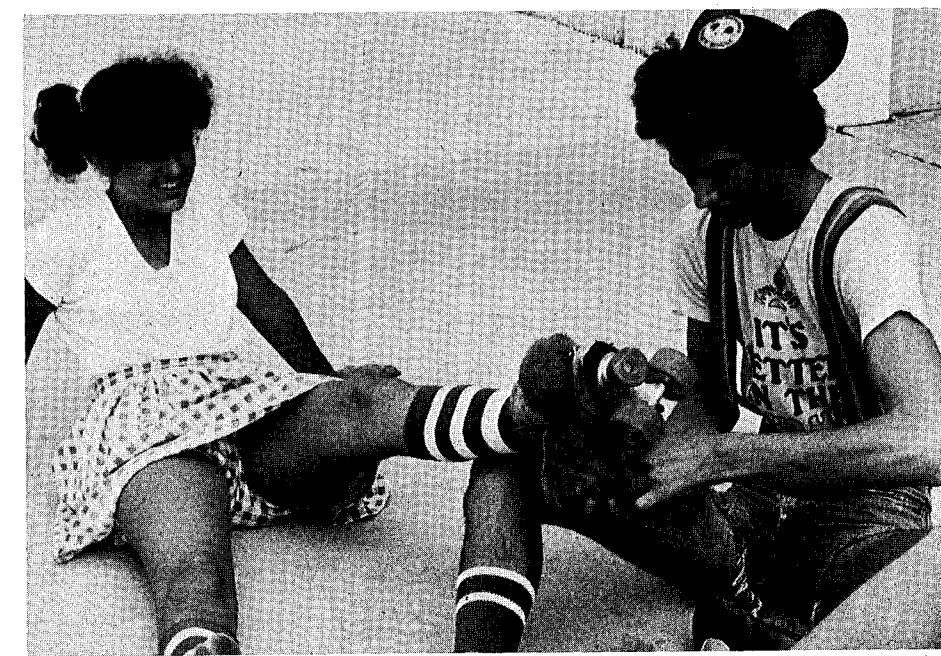

1. D. Broome and C. Brunson gaze in awe.
2. A time for reflections.
3. D. Clemons studies the interior.
4. D. Dickey and T. Houk whisper in the wind.
5. D. Aguilera enjoys the peaceful serenity.
6. The History of the tower and sanctuary.

Seniors Kid Around

Jumping rope, playing hopskotch and jacks, bouncing balls and blowing bubbles, you spent the morning playing in the gym. After being dismissed from classes for the day, you became kids for one last time both in dress and in actions.

1. Kids play red rover in the gym.
2. Little Cynt and Pooh.
3. L. Singletary helps T. Brewer get back on her wheels.
4. Kids stop to plan their next game.
5. The Dickey twins conspire mischief.

Seniors Enjoy Tea

Lake Wales church women hosted the traditional Senior Tea at the Methodist Church. Serving you sweet candies and cookies, fudge and tasty sandwiches on fine crystal tea plates, the women made the Tea more pleasant. Your attendance was good this year when many of you brought your mothers for a time of "sweet" socializing.

1. M. Beai and S. Brown chat with Mrs. Beai.
2. Barney and Mrs. Moore wait to sign guest book.
3. R. Hobbs and M. Borders enjoy Tea with mothers.
4. S. Thompson dresses for tea.
5. Mrs. Davis and M. Guyton serve seniors.

Seniors Party at Disney World

Your night to party finally came. Clothed in coats and ties and evening attire, you loaded the six busses for your evening in the Kingdom. After you arrived, you split up and covered the world — dancing to K.C. and Kool and the Gang, getting spaced out on the mountain, and partying until five in the morning. You then found your way back to your bus to sleep all the way home.

1. C. Johnson, C. Davis, G. Benson say "Oh, my aching feet!"
2. Grinning and bearing it.
3. K.C. gets down tonight.
4. The "bear" necessities of Disney entertainment.

Baccalaureate Service Held for Seniors

As the graduating class of 1980, when the school year drew to a close, you attended the traditional Baccalaureate Service held at the Passion Play Amphitheatre. The Reverend Charles Robinson gave the sermon before your friends, relatives, and the administrators. Before the day of the service arrived, however, you were all out at the amphitheatre going up and down the steps hoping that each time you would get it right. After all the practice, you were rewarded when your senior sponsors, Mr. Rizer and Mrs. Cloud, said that your class had been the best that they had worked with.

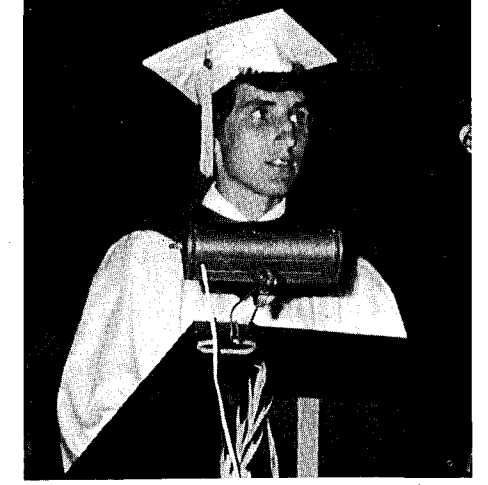

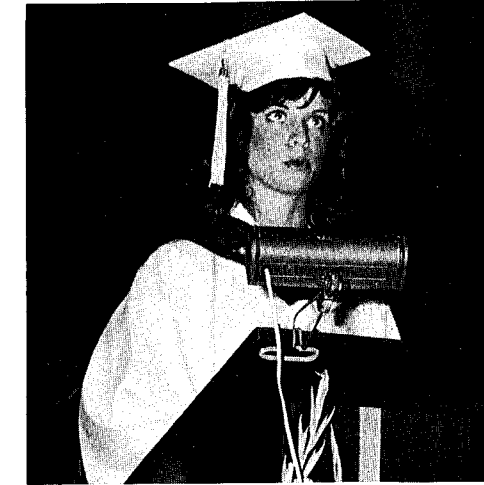

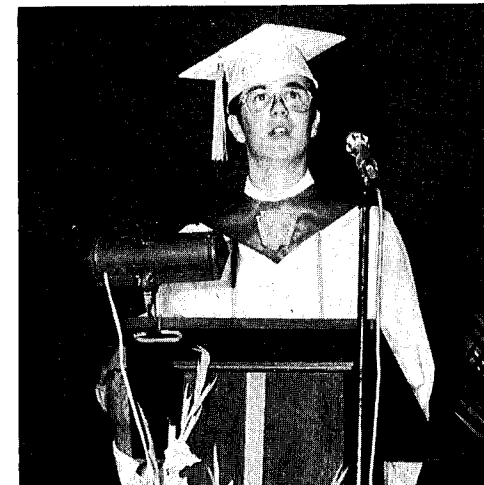

1. B. Cook, C. Cook, K. Cooper, and D. Copeland play follow the leader.
2. The Reverend Charles Robinson gives the sermon at Baccalaureate.
3. Concert Choir performs at Baccalaureate.

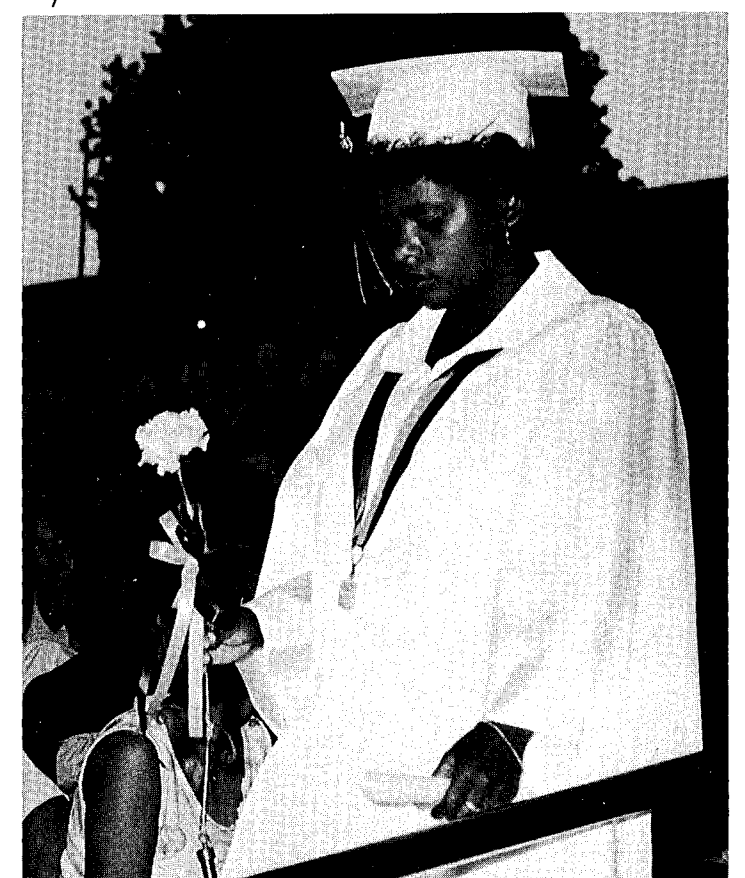

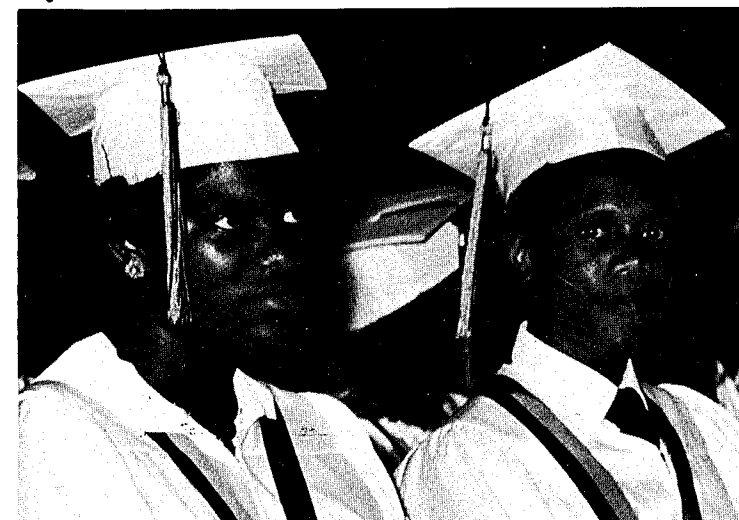

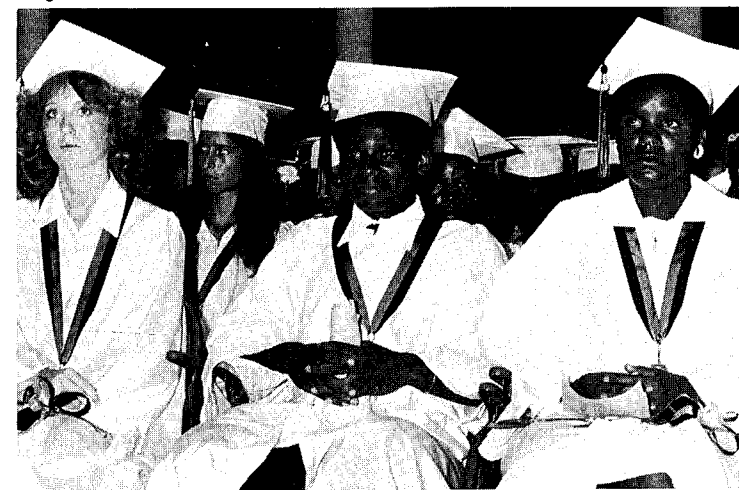

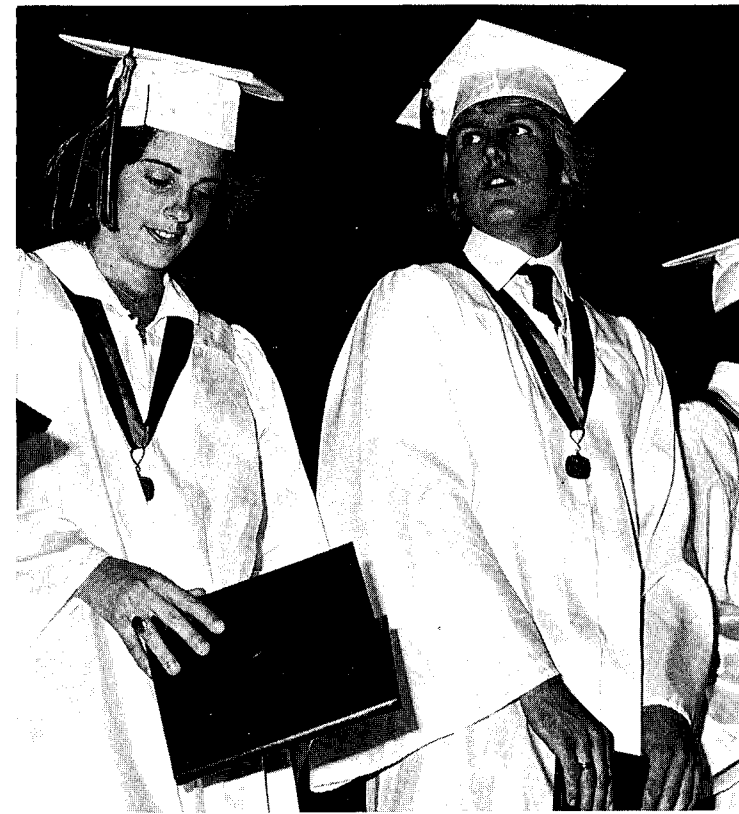

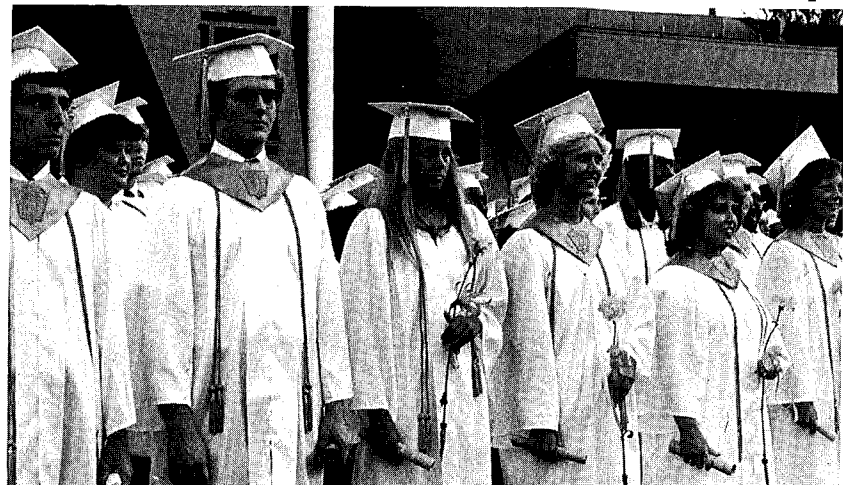

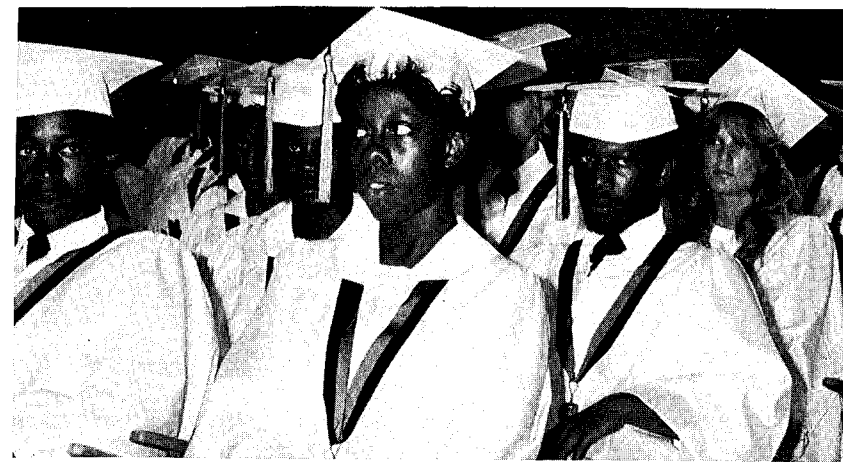

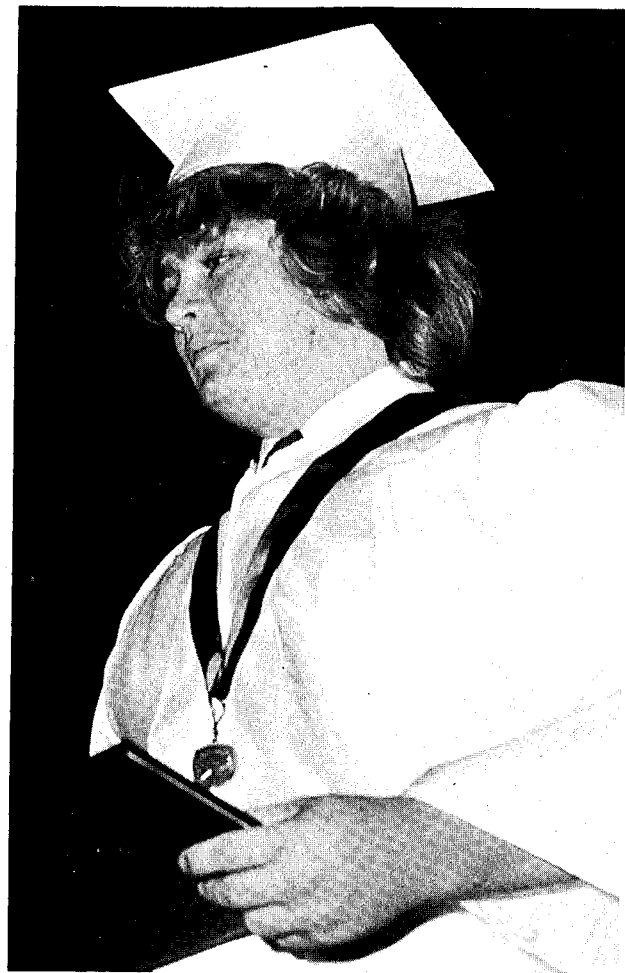

Class Graduates Into New Decade

On June 3, you, the seniors of Lake Wales Senior High, went to the amphitheatre to receive your diplomas. As you waited to march down the steps to your designated place, you became nervous and excited and tried to imagine what it would be like when it was all over. Then at 8 P.M., the band played Pomp and Circumstance and your long awaited march began. The amphitheatre was packed and the weather couldn't have been any better. All of a sudden it was time for the singing of the Alma Mater. It was then that you realized you were no longer a member of Lake Wales High.

1. Graduates wait patiently to be seated after the processional.
2. Honor Speaker K. McMullen speaks on "Now or Never."
3. R. Bice speaks on "Success and Society."
4. L. Tonjes speaks on "Ideas Have Consequences."
5. and 6. The graduating class of 1980.

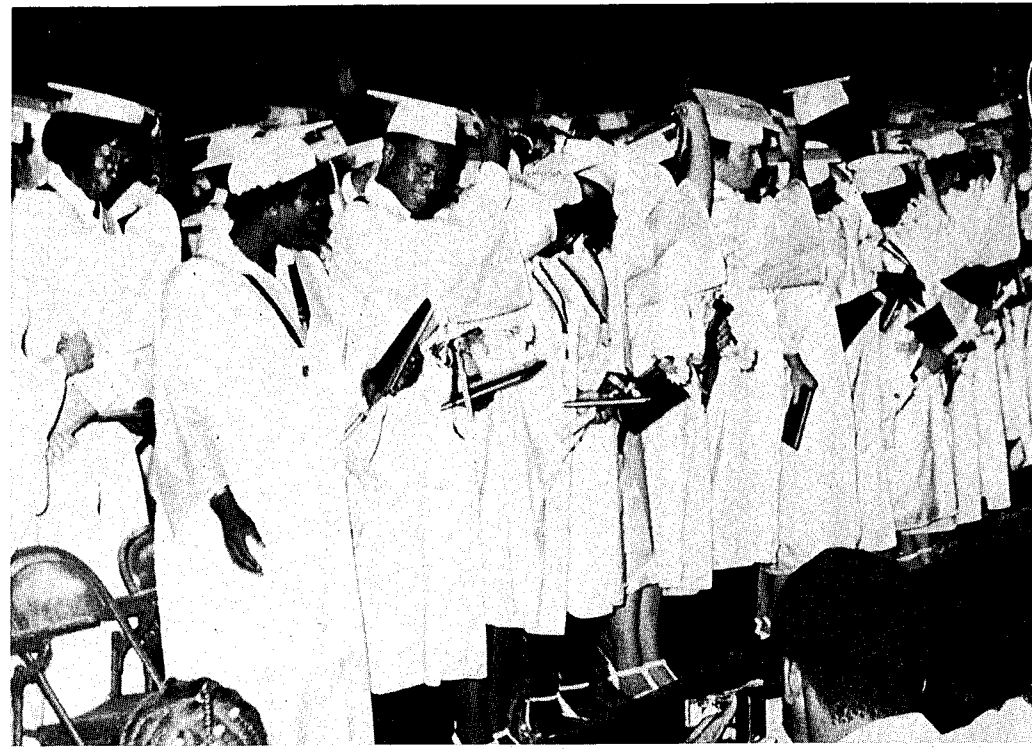

Graduates March Under Clear Skies

1. Sandy Parramoure says "Whew!"
2. Seniors wait their turn.
3. Honor students stand proud.
4. J. Taylor pauses for the prayer.
5. B. Godfrey directs the graduation band.
6. S. Hendricks and B. Heath finally made it.
7. R. Mercer and R. O'Brien observe solemnly.
8. L. Holton, R. Hobbs, P. Harmon reflect on the last days.
9. Final steps for A. Howard.
10. O. Johnson, L. Johnson, look into the future.

The End Is Here

Who would ever have thought that you would make it? There were probably times when you yourself didn't think that you would ever be marching down those long steps of the amphitheatre, dressed in your white gown and wearing a proud smile. Well, congratulations and good luck, because you finally made it!

1. Grads turn their tassels.
2. A happy Lori Peterson after receiving diploma.
3. Class of 1980 sings alma mater for the final time.

Hard Work Pays

With the cooperation of a few good staff members and the able guidance of Mrs. Hunt, you worked long tedious hours to produce the most memorable yearbook ever. Reviving school moments with words, capturing smiles and tears of school years and binding them permanently together was the ultimate goal that you strived to achieve. With love, you dedicated this book to your fellow students.

Special thanks to you who worked into the summer to complete the book: Melissa Beai, Amy Tucker, Tammy Coulliette, Lorrie Frederick, Donna Lambertson, Terry Morrow, Mindy VanGilder, Jenny and Mindy Wyrosdick.

1. M. Wyrosdick examines yearbook pictures. 2. Business Manager, D. Grubbs. 3. Advisor, Gloria Hunt grins at finished pages. 4. N. Blocker says "Who me?" 5. M. VanGilder works on sports pages. 6. D. Lambertson lends a helping hand. 7. T. Coulliette gives an order. 8. Our Bryn Allan photographer, J.W. 9. J. Wyrosdick captions memories from pictures. 10. J. Brannon ponders a point. 11. For once L. Andersson has her picture made rather than taking one. 12. L. Frederick and T. Morrow shirt their way into editorship. 13. D. Gooch gloats "That's depressing!" 14. "That's not funny!" comments A. Tucker. 15. "Curly" M. Beai smiles for the camera. 16. T. Houk thinks of new mischief. 17. R. Antcil and his characterized tissue.

Nixon Resigns

The year, 1971, began with Richard Nixon clinging to the Presidency with the support of only 25 percent of his countrymen. From there, it was constant decline for him all the way. Nixon's role was uncovered during the year as the complex affair called Watergate yielded most of its secrets.

The affair originally took its name from the Watergate, an office complex in Washington, D.C. On June 17, 1972, five men were arrested trying to repair an illegal wire tap on a telephone in the offices of the Democratic National Committee. The men were hired by the Committee for the reelection of the President, known as CREEP. The "break-in" was temporarily dismissed as a "third-rate" burglary by a Presidential spokesman and White House involvement was denied.

Meanwhile, the phrase "Watergate Affair" had begun to stand for every facet of the illegal activities of the Nixon administration. Included were the contributions made by individuals and corporations to the President's 1972 reelection campaign, the dropping of an antitrust suit against the international Telephone and Telegraph Corporation, the raising of prices on dairy goods, the President's delinquent income taxes, the spending of public monies on the President's private homes in Florida and California, illegal electronic and other surveillance, interference with the trial of Daniel Ellsberg, Presidential impounding of funds appropriated by Congress, and even the secret pre-invasion bombing of Cambodia by U.S. planes.

The walls of justice were caving in on Nixon. Embattled and besieged, Nixon fought for survival. When impeachment fever was generated in government, Richard Nixon became the first U.S. President ever to resign. On August 8, 1972, on a nationwide television and radio address, Nixon announced his resignation. The next day, Nixon and his family left the White House with a tearful departure and Vice-President Gerald Ford was sworn in as President.

Gas Prices Soar

Two years ago who would have believed that gas prices would ever reach 70¢ per gallon. Now, thanks to the O.P.E.C. nations, people are paying up to $1.50 for gas that was only costing 40¢ in 1970. This sudden increase changed the lifestyle of the entire country overnight; big cars were out, economy cars were in. Everyone drove slower and walked or bicycled more. There was always the same question in everyone's minds; how high will the gas prices go? No one knows yet!

Hurricane David Hits Coast

The small hurricane that was born far out in the ocean was watched by the entire east coast of the United States for days. Hurricane David slowly headed towards Florida.

On Labor Day, 1979, Hurricane David became a reality as it struck Key West. David then proceeded up the coast of the United States tearing a path of destruction from the southern tip of Florida to Maryland. Then David calmed to a tropical storm, finally dying altogether and leaving behind a torn country with a nightmare that it would not soon forget.

Tragedy of Guyana

In November, 1978, the former British colony of Guyana was catapulted into the headlines. The eyes of the world were drawn deep into Guyana's tropical jungles to the commune of a religious cult led by Reverend Jim Jones.

In 1977 Jones, an Indiana-born Protestant minister, and members of his California-based People's Temple moved to Guyana to establish an agricultural-religious commune called Jonestown. In 1978, United States Representative Leo J. Ryan (D. California) went to Jonestown to investigate charges that Jones was depriving his followers of their civil rights. As Ryan and his group were preparing to leave on November 18th, he and four other Americans were shot and killed, allegedly by followers of Jones.

Men on the Moon, Vietnam, Energy Shortage, Inflation, Hostages in Iran

By order of Jones, their leader, nine hundred eleven of the cultists, including two hundred sixty children, were killed or took their own lives by drinking a poisonous liquid. Amid criticism of the State Department for not having foreseen or prevented the tragedy, U.S. troops were sent to airlift hundreds of bodies to Dover Air Force Base in Delaware and help to identify them.

Jones, who emphasized interracial harmony and social justice to outsiders, had moved to California in 1965. He was a mayoral appointee in San Francisco before 1977, when complaints about the inside workings of his movement led him and many of his disciples to establish Jonestown. The Jonestown incident, called an "orgy of suicide-murder-infanticide that defied all attempts at rational analysis," provoked extensive examinations of cult behavior. It also led to a move in Congress to reexamine national policies in regard to religious tolerance.

Test Tube Baby

Medical science successfully achieved new dimensions on July 25, 1978, in Oldham, England, with the birth of a normal, healthy, 5 lb. 12 oz. girl to Gilbert and Liesley Brown. The child, who was named Louise Joy Brown, was the first human to have been conceived outside of the mother's womb. Her birth marked the culmination of years of painstaking research by two British doctors — gynecologist Patrick Steptoe and physiologist Robert Edwards. This well-known team had won praise a few years before for their success in manipulating human eggs before and after fertilization.

Since that first medical breakthrough, several other "test tube" babies have been conceived. This development has given new hope to women who want children but are physically unable.

Styles and Fads of the Decade

In the seventies, clothing and hairstyles became more wearable, more classic, and more versatile. Women began to buy and wear what they felt was right for them, and they disregarded guidelines set by fashion designers. The sportswear industry boomed as clothing and sporting accessories grew in demand.

The "natural look" was considered the best look. Make-up was toned down and limited to the bare essentials. Hairstyles varied from the short straight Dorothy Hamil to the long, free Fawcett hairdo; even men got in on the "afro" look.

People also became more health conscious during the seventies. Lifestyles changed to favor the active and youthful. Styles of dress and undress called for a lean, physically fit appearance. Jogging, vegetarianism and salad bars swept the country as health food stores sprung up everywhere.

The popularity of jeans continued to increase as chic names such as Gloria Vanderbilt and Calvin Klein battled the old favorite, Levis. T-shirts with those popular movie titles, Star Wars, Jaws, and Rocky were worn by many people. Some people chose to wear clogs, mood rings and flip-flops. Songs, movies and books were written about such far-out fads as discoing, skateboarding and C.B.ing. Besides the wild and zany ideas worn and practiced in the seventies, the decade is remembered more seriously as the age of computer development, the march of ERA, the explosion of space technology and a time of mourning for the deaths of such celebrities as Bing Crosby, Elvis Presley and John Wayne.

The seventies will continue to dwell in the hearts and minds of all who experienced them.

The 80's Are Here

You are all in this world learning to be brothers by living for each other, instead of yourselves. You realize how close you are to those around you and how much closer you could be. You are united in a common goal — to make the world a better place for the eighties by working together side by side from day to day. Together, you find new horizons to conquer. As you leave your footprints in the sand of time, you realize that one step leads to a lifetime journey. For you the first step has been made, and now is the time to take another.

10. T. Williams and C. Blake believe in music.

A Final Farewell to the Year

Brainiest, brawniest, dreamiest, dizziest — You are the students of L.W.H.S.! As you step into the new decade with high hopes remember that the world belongs to

YOU

You Will Be Missed

This page has been reserved for you who are retiring, Mr. Don Mann and Mrs. Evelyn May. You have been essential to the school's well-being in the past and will be missed very much. Thanks to you both and to Mr. Chris Potter. Mr. Potter, though you aren't retiring, you are leaving us to explore new horizons! Good luck to you all!

DON MANN

DON MANN

You, Don Mann, were born on July 9 in New Albany, Indiana. At an early age you moved with your family to Oxford, Ohio, where you graduated from high school. You were in the Army during World War II. Upon completion of your duty, you moved to Lake Wales to join your parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Stephenson. You attended Erskine College in Due West, South Carolina. Then you and your wife, the former Ann Templeton, returned to Lake Wales to make your home. Your first teaching assignment was in the sixth grade with Mr. Allen Garrison as principal and Mr. F. S. McLaughlin as supervising principal. With the exception of one and one half years, your teaching career was spent in Lake Wales. In addition to the sixth grade, you taught eighth grade history, driver education, work experience, and you were a DCT coordinator as well as teaching classes in ninth grade history.

You and Ann have two children, Mrs. Albert McKenzie of Bartow and Donald, Jr., of Lake Wales and one grandchild, Joe Ryan McKenzie.

Your future plans include further employment as well as travel throughout the United States. Among your hobbies are traveling, camping, and horses. Your warm heart and fun-loving, youthful spirit will brighten the lives of your new associates as they have ours.

EVELYN MAY

EVELYN MAY

You, Evelyn May, moved to Lake Wales in the forties. You are married and have one son who is honorably retiring from the Coast Guard this year. Your husband is also retiring from his job as head of school board maintenance. You have two grandchildren of whom you are extremely proud.

You have many interesting hobbies and awards to your credit, Mrs. May; for example, you were once state champion banjo player of Ohio. Now, you spend a lot of time playing the organ which you do very well. A few of your other hobbies are oil painting, needlepoint, and most handcrafts, and fishing.

Your duties at school are numerous. You balance the books and budget, keep all internal accounts, and handle ordering and inventory of supplies. You also are in charge of all personnel records and payroll checks, including those of the bus drivers, cafeteria staff, custodians and faculty. According to Mr. Mercer, you were his "right hand" as his private secretary.

Your plans after retirement are to remain busy. You plan to keep house and do lots of fishing. Also, you are going to spend time with your mother.

The annual staff and school express sincere appreciation for all the patience, aid, and consideration you have shown to all. Best wishes for your future!
