Parent Online Resources for Distance

This unforeseen pandemic affected our communities in ways we weren't prepared for, but we are doing the best we can to continue our student's education uninterrupted. At To'Hajiilee Community School, our families' safety is the outmost important thing and our transition to distance learning allows for educational content with minimal contact. We understand the current struggle our TCS parents are going through at this time and we want to provide additional resources to help educate your child.
