Read Across America Week

This week we celebrated Read Across America. Each day the students participated in various activities ranging from donating books, dressing as their favorite book character, wacky Wednesday, reading with a book buddy or having a guest reader in class and to end the week, they enjoyed pajama day with D.E.A.R. Time. Hopefully this will continue to help the children further their love of reading.

One School One Book

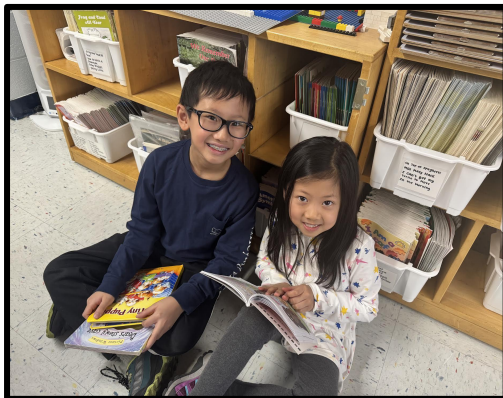

The LLE students read Save Me A Seat by Gita Varadarajan and Sarah Weeks. The students enjoyed the nightly mystery readers and paid close attention to each section so that they could answer the trivia questions in the morning. We were fortunate to have co-author Gita Varadarajan come to visit with the students to discuss the book. This program helps the children develop a love of reading.

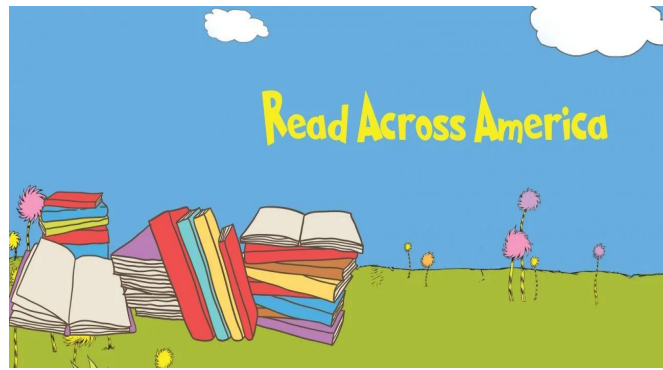

Spotlight on First Grade

As part of Read Across America week, the first graders were visited by their 4th grade reading buddies for "Book Buddy" day. Each first grade class welcomed a fourth grade class to their classroom for this special time. The first graders were paired with fourth graders to read books together. The first graders came prepared with some of their favorite books and enjoyed being read to, and reading to, their 4th grade buddies. A fun time was had by all!!!

Dear CRS and LLE Families,

What a wonderful week we had celebrating Read Across America week! It was the end of a celebration of reading. I hope that all of our families enjoyed the One School, One Book initiative.

The students enjoyed dressing up as their favorite characters and wearing wacky outfits. Also, our LLE students had the chance to meet the co-author of Save Me a Seat, Gita Varadarajan. While our CRS students had guest readers from the Demarest Fire and Police Departments, our Business Administrator Antoinette Kelly and our town Librarian. One of the best parts was when our fourth graders came to CRS to read with the first graders. What an amazing time they all had reading together! Later this month, CRS will have an assembly that compliments the book they read. Below are a few updates to remember.
