

MASTER'S ACADEMY'S C.S. Lewis Scholars Program

An Upper School Honors Cohort

Master's Academy invites Upper School students to step into the world, wisdom, and wonder of C.S. Lewis—one of the most influential Christian thinkers of the modern era.

Built on these five themes highlighted by Lewis scholar Donald Sweeting, this program forms students who think deeply, communicate clearly, and pursue joy in Christ.

Why C.S. Lewis still inspires – and how our scholars follow his path

1 A SCHOLAR OF MANY WORLDS

Lewis mastered nearly every genre—fiction, theology, criticism, fantasy, and more—reflecting an intellect shaped by breadth and curiosity.

Our Scholars explore a wide, interdisciplinary curriculum that builds intellectual depth and a distinctly Christian worldview.

2 REASON + IMAGINATION

Lewis united logical clarity with vivid imagination, believing both point toward God.

Our Scholars learn to argue thoughtfully, imagine boldly, and see truth through both logic and wonder. This comes alive during a capstone travel experience to Oxford, Magdalen College, The Kilns, and Cambridge.

3 CLEAR, COMPELLING COMMUNICATION

Lewis translated profound Christian truths into language accessible to all.

Our Scholars practice writing, speaking, and discussing with clarity and grace—preparing them to influence their generation with truth and humility.

4 WISDOM FOR THE MODERN WORLD

Lewis saw with striking clarity the cultural challenges that would shape our age - relativism, scientism, and the loss of objective moral values.

Our Scholars learn to evaluate modern cultural trends through a biblical lens, to identify the competing worldviews shaping society, and to respond with discernment and compassion.

5 A LIFELONG PURSUIT OF JOY

Lewis understood that deep joy points us beyond this world and ultimately toward Christ.

Our Scholars pursue learning not as an academic exercise alone, but as a pathway to the joy, purpose, and calling found in God.
