In the 2023-2024 academic year, Stony Creek Joint Unified School District (SCJUSD) successfully launched the "Art in Action" program for its K-5 grades, made possible through the funds provided by Proposition 28. This initiative underscored our commitment to fostering a well-rounded education that includes robust arts education for our young learners. The "Art in Action" program was designed to integrate art into the daily curriculum, ensuring that students from kindergarten through fifth grade had regular and meaningful exposure to visual arts. This program emphasized creativity, critical thinking, and cultural awareness, providing students with hands-on experiences in various art forms, including drawing, painting, sculpture, and mixed media. Each classroom was equipped with high-quality art supplies, and teachers received professional development to effectively integrate art lessons into their teaching practices. Through this program, students engaged in projects that enhanced their understanding of art history, techniques, and the role of art in society. They also learned to express their creativity and develop critical thinking skills through artistic endeavors.
