MANY MOONS

Native Americans had special names for every full moon of the year. One name for this month's full moon is the "Full Crust Moon," because by March snow cover is melting during the day and re-freezing and crusting over by night.

"Read Across America" Day

"The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go."

"Today you are you, that is truer than true. There is no one alive who is youer than you."

"Think left and think right and think low and think high. Oh, the things you can think up if only you try!"

"Kid, you'll move mountains! Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting. So get on your way."

★ OUR NATION'S HISTORY ★

Beginning with a severe famine in the 1840's, millions of Irish people came to America seeking a better life and greater freedom. By the late 1800's, New York had a larger population of people born in Ireland than did Dublin, the Irish capital. Today, more than 30 million Americans claim Irish heritage, more than seven times the entire population of Ireland.

BARNYARD MANNERS

When a rooster finds something good to eat in the course of making his rounds, he will often call his flock over to eat first before he eats. He even has a special call to let the hens know that he has found something tasty. So the next time someone accuses you of having barnyard manners, tell them thanks!
