Principal's Post

Good attendance in school is important for various reasons, as it contributes to academic success and personal development. Students who consistently attend school have the opportunity to engage with teachers, participate in discussions, and complete assignments. This active involvement in the learning process often leads to better academic performance and higher grades. Missing school can result in gaps in understanding, which can make it challenging for students to catch up. This can lead to a cycle of struggling to keep up, lowering self-esteem, and disengagement from learning.

The next Coffee With The Principal will be March 29th from 7:45-8:15. I look forward to our second Coffee With The Principal to continue my partnership with families to support students on campus.

Counselor's Corner – Tool Box

Personal Space Tool – I have the right to my space. You have the right to yours. We all have an indelible right to our personal space and the responsibility to give others the same right. Noticing the space around us helps us see our own needs and how we may be impacting others.

Using Our Words Tool – I use the “right” words in the “right” way, at the “right” time, for the “right” reason.

By learning the importance of words and how they impact relationships, the Using Our Words Tool gives us a voice to ask for what we want and need. Using Our Words well helps us with clarifying misunderstandings and conflict resolution.

Garbage Can Tool – I let the little things go.

Using the Garbage Can Tool allows us to take responsibility for what we do with other people's words and actions. Sometimes the best choice is to throw harmful words away.

Taking Time Tool – I take time-in and time-away.

Stepping back and taking Time Away from some situations renews our resiliency and allows us time to evaluate the situation and think about how we want to respond rather than possibly reacting inappropriately. Taking Time-In (within oneself) leads to better self-understanding and more authentic connections with others.
