KINGSTREE HIGH SCHOOL'S MYCHEAL WALLACE AN OUTSTANDING ATHLETE

Mycheal Wallace from Kingstree High School has been playing football for approximately thirteen years, having started at the age of five with flag football at the Kingstree City Recreational Department. He has participated in recreational leagues every year until he became eligible to play middle school football. Mycheal believes that building lifelong relationships is crucial for becoming a successful and productive citizen. The lessons he has learned on the field have shaped him into the person he is today. Football has provided him with valuable leadership and self-management skills that he plans to utilize as he pursues his career goals and enters the next chapter of his life. Moreover, he truly enjoys the sport itself and relishes the intensity of the game.

Mycheal looks up to Jordan Davis, the Defensive Tackle for the Philadelphia Eagles and a graduate of the University of Georgia. He models his game after Davis, admiring his quickness despite his size. Mycheal has also been praised by many coaches for his own speed and agility relative to his stature.

"Mycheal is one of the best two-way linemen in the state of South Carolina and is destined for greatness in college! It has been an honor to coach Mycheal and to see his growth these last three years into one of the most dominant linemen in the state!"
KHS Head Football Coach Brian Smith

Mycheal believes that keeping God first is essential for preparing for life after high school. He plans to attend a four-year Division I college to pursue a degree in Cybersecurity while also playing football. With hard work and determination, Mycheal aims to obtain his Bachelor's Degree in his chosen field and advance in his football career. In October, Mycheal was recognized as the Lineman of the Week by the Sumter Touch Club. He was also selected to play in the Shriner's Bowl game scheduled for December 2024 and was recently named the South Carolina Football Coaches Association's 2A Lower State Lineman of the Year. Being chosen as one of the 88 players from the Carolinas is a tremendous honor and a significant achievement. Furthermore, Mycheal is only the second person in Kingstree High School's history to receive this recognition. This experience has taught him that commitment, hard work, and making positive choices can lead to success.
