

College Going Seminar Workshop

event purpose

The College Going Seminar workshop is designed to create early awareness and exposure to Tennessee's diverse higher education pathways, including dual enrollment, adult enrollment, and available financial aid opportunities. While the primary audience is youth, particularly students from rising 5th to 12th grades, the seminar emphasizes the critical role of parent and guardian involvement in supporting informed college and career planning. Whether a student is considering a Technical College (TCAT), Community College, Public University, or a combination of all three, this seminar will provide valuable insights to guide future educational and career decisions.
