MATERIALS NEEDED:

- ✓ 3-ring binder and dividers
- ✓ #2 pencils
- ✓ Composition Notebook
- ✓ Note Cards for Research Paper

GENERAL COURSE INFORMATION:

The focus of the Honors Eng. II course is the study of world literature by unit and standard(s). This course will continue an in-depth study of the short story, poetry, drama, and non-fiction genres that began in the Eng. 1 course. Selections of short stories, poetry, drama and nonfiction will be studied and used as a springboard for discussion and composition. The K-12 College and Career Readiness Anchor Standards in Reading, Writing, Speaking, and Listening, and Language will be implemented and can be found in more detail in the 10th Grade Parent ELA Guide.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:

In Honors English II, students will:

- Identify explicit textual evidence
- Support inference using several pieces from the text (evidence)
- Analyze theme /central idea development
- Identify multiple/conflicting character motivations
- Understand casual and complex relationship of dialogue and/or events on plot development
- Determine figurative, connotative, and technical meaning
- Understand how word choice impacts tone and meaning
- Identify the influence of cultural experiences on point of view
- Identify the emergence and refinement of the central idea in a text
- Understand, identify, and analyze the rhetorical situation of a text.
- Understand, identify and analyze the use of rhetorical devices (i.e., repetition, parallelism, slogan, rhetorical questions)
- Understand the differences in various mediums (print, video, multimedia)
- Outline or trace the arguments and claims in text
- Understand various writing text types and their organizational structures
- Conduct research drawing on multiple sources
- Synthesize and summarize information
- Adapt speech delivery to audience and purpose
- Understand presentation elements. (i.e., eye contact, gesture purposefully, enunciate words, and speak using an appropriate volume and rate.)
- Understand concepts of parallelism (i.e.; repeated grammatical patterns, types of phrases, and types of clauses)
- Know standard English grammar, punctuation, and capitalization

PURPOSE OF THE COURSE:

Honors Eng. II introduces literary global perspectives focusing on literature from the Americas (Caribbean, Central, South, and North), Africa, Eastern Europe, Asia, Oceania, and the Middle East. Students in Honors English II read, discuss, and write about both classical and contemporary world literature through which students will identify cultural significance. They will examine pieces of world literature in a cultural context to appreciate the diversity and complexity of world issues and to connect global ideas to their own experiences. Students will continue to explore language for expressive, explanatory, critical, argumentative and literary purposes, although emphasis will be placed on informational contexts. Influential U.S. documents and a Shakespearean play may also be included in this course. This course has an End-of-Course test requirement – students must score a Level III or above to be deemed proficient.

COURSE GOALS:

The goal of the Honors Eng. II course is to prepare students for AP Language and Composition and to give these students the language skills necessary to achieve their life goals, whether in college or in a vocation. The work and the reading required will not be unreasonable but will be steady.

FACILITIES AND TEACHING METHODS:

-Students will be responsible for reading anchor texts independently outside of class, taking appropriate notes, answering assigned questions, and preparing for class discussions and comprehension assessments by the specified dates.

-Students should arrive at class on time, be respectful of teacher, peers, and classroom property, and be ready to participate.

-Primary texts, current works being studied, notebook, handouts, and pen/pencil should be brought to class daily unless otherwise instructed.

-Deadlines will be strictly enforced. Unless otherwise approved, no late work will be accepted, and arrangements to turn in any work past the scheduled deadline must be orchestrated through the teacher.

-Discussion and collaboration are essential elements in this class. Cooperation and participation will be graded like other more tangible assignments, with teacher feedback given to those who aren't meeting expectations.

MAKE UP/ LATE WORK:

- It is the student's responsibility to know when assignments are due and to complete the work on time. If a student is absent on the day a long-standing assignment is due, the assignment must still be turned in on the due date or before. If a student is absent on a quiz or test day, they will have 3 days to reschedule and take the quiz/test. No late work will ever be accepted. Deadlines will be strictly enforced.
- Academic dishonesty and/or plagiarism on an assignment earn a zero and a parental contact. A second offense results in office referral, and additional offenses could result in course failure.
