Cumberland County High School

2010-2011

by Marshall Pickard

It all started in a dorm room at Austin Peay. The four members of the yearbook staff and Mr. Sanderson were attending a yearbook camp, and at this late hour, they were attempting to come up with a theme for this year's book. They were all stumped, but they knew what direction they wanted the book to head in. Finally, one word sparked the curiosity of one of the staff members.

"What if we used the word timeless?" one student asked.

Timeless, the theme of this year's book, describes the high school experience perfectly. High school truly is timeless—enduring, ageless, classic. High school lingers in the hearts and minds of students forever; it surpasses time. The experience is the same for each high school student there has ever been—a time when students grow physically and amplify their social lives, meet new people and leave others behind, face the teenage drama and learn how to get along with others, experience the time of their lives and endure the most heart-breaking moments, and start a new beginning as a freshman and then end that chapter of life by walking across a graduation stage. Finally, each person has to leave high school behind and begin their lives.

It seems ironic, however, when people say the "real world" starts after high school. Could the real world be any more real than these four years? All the stress, all the drama, all the tribulations, all the joy, all the laughs, all the memories, and all the friendships are the ingredients of a normal adult life. High school is simply the prequel to an exciting, abundant life.

So the title Timeless applies universally to the high school experience. The memories of high school are everlasting, undying, perennial, infinite, and immortal—all synonyms of timeless. An old proverb opines, "To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose." Enjoy this season while it is still here.

p.82

Tailgating Tradition

"Senior tailgating is a great Jet tradition! It is an exceptionally delicious tradition because it gets my tummy full before a big game, so I cheer even louder and with more gusto. I only got to go to tailgating once, but the time I went, we had Big Boy's Barbeque. It was an excellent addition to my last homecoming night. Being a senior, with graduation on the horizon, is pretty sad, but I love spending these last few months with best friends. I love senior year!"

-Kelsey Davis

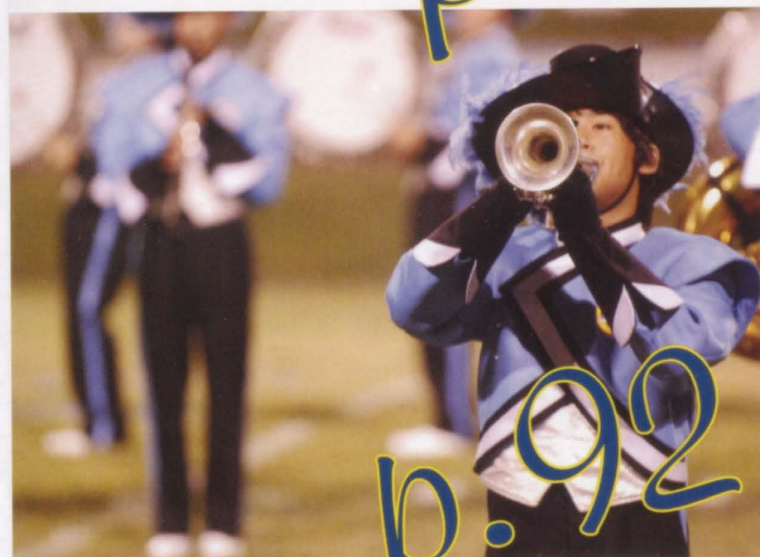

p.112

Rocket to the Moon

"I'm really glad everything went as planned on the day we shot rockets in Mr. Wanamaker's class. We collaborated with Mrs. Phillips's Honors English 12 class. They wrote essays on the history of rockets and the proposed future funding of NASA, and we created rockets to launch. Then one day, we all got together and shot off the rockets. Mine went pretty well, and I really hope I get a good grade. It was quite a fun project."

-Dalton Stafford

I'm with the Band

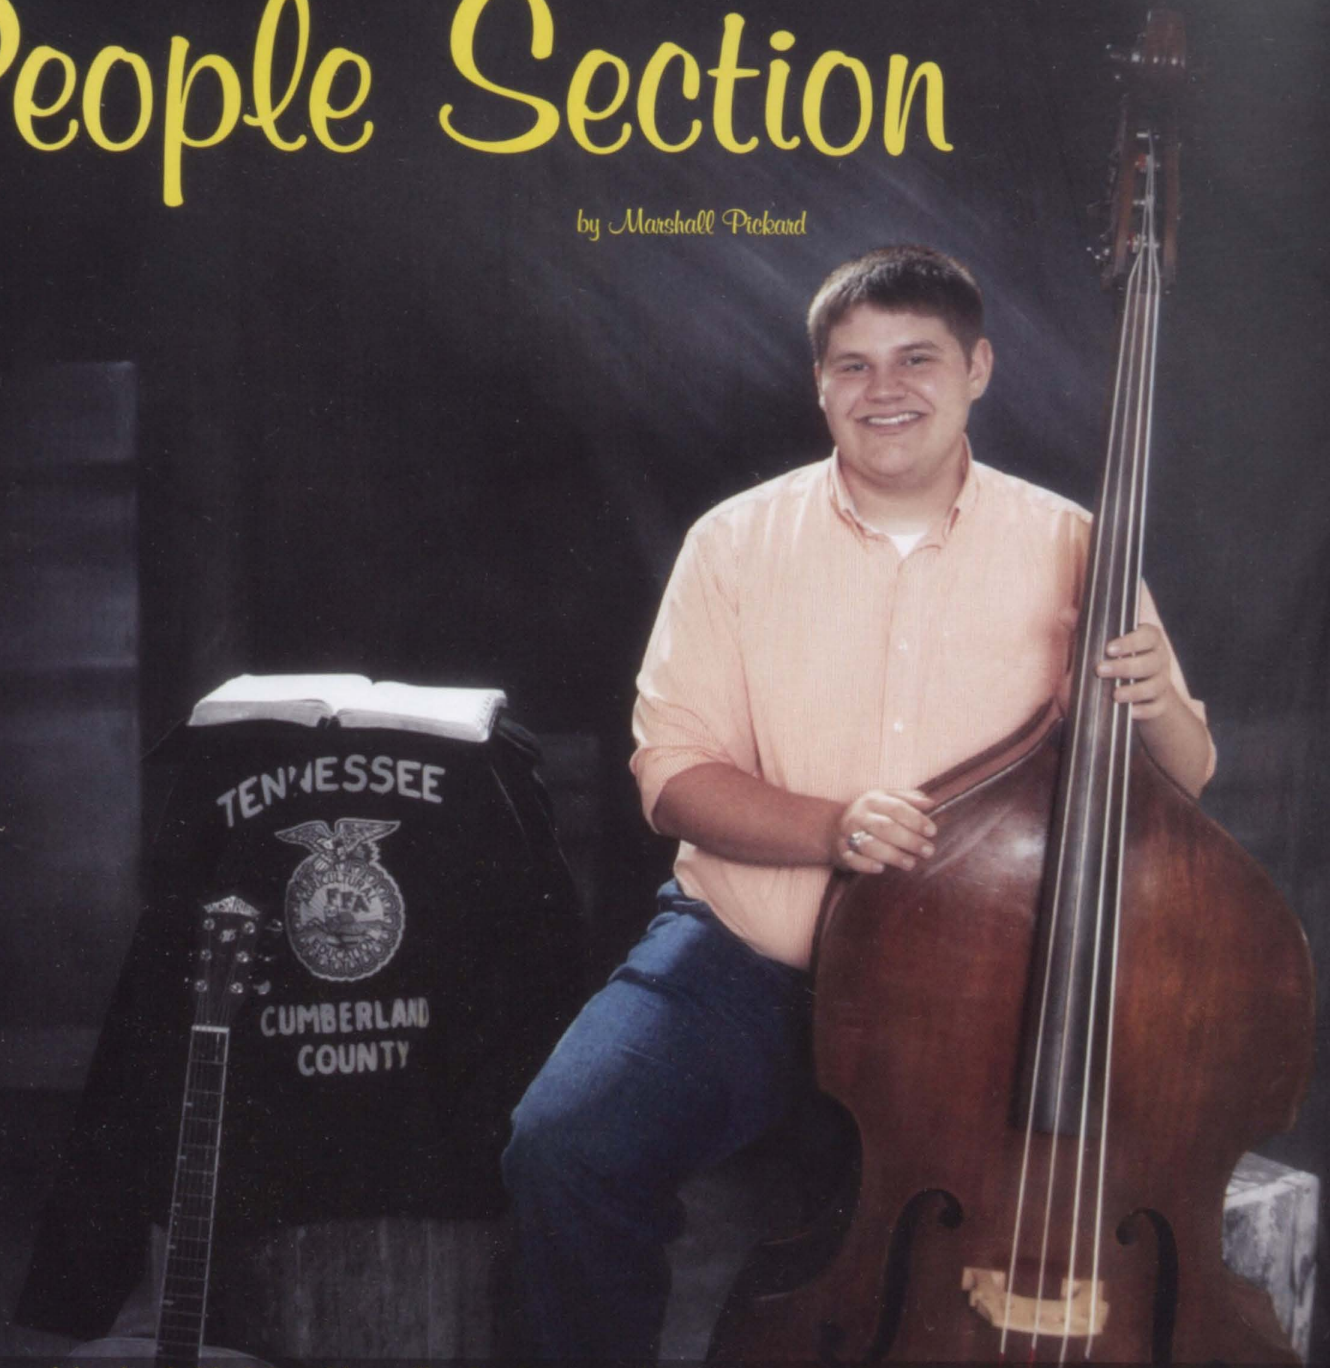

"Band is such a fun class, and it is my hobby and my passion. My favorite part is getting to perform for the entire school during football games. Plus, the band is like a family. From playing at competitions, to going on trips, and to attending band camp, we grow together as we challenge ourselves individually. Our goal is to make the band as amazing as it can possibly be, by working hard and bettering the band with each performance."

-Brendan McCartt

People Section

by Marshall Pickard

The anticipation behind the white smile of a photo on picture day. The calming wind blowing the hair of senior superlatives, walking the streets of downtown Crossville. The poll chronicling someone's favorite movie. The long-awaited senior picture order arriving in the mail. This is the people section.

Justin Dye sits down and picks up his bass. He rests one foot on a nearby box, and his Bible, guitar, and FFA jacket are present beside him. These are the true expressions of his personality, his hobbies, and his faith. The photographer starts up conversation, asking him about himself. "Between school, FFA, and playing the bass and guitar, I stay pretty busy most days," Justin explains. The photographer takes another picture, and Justin continues, "Without God, I couldn't do anything. I got my first guitar when I was just three years old. I worked my way up, and eventually I started playing in a Christian bluegrass band. It's my favorite thing to do."

The photographer asks about the FFA jacket. "Well you see," he continues, "I have been in FFA all four years of high school. It's really important to me cause I'm following in Papaw and Dad's footsteps. What can I say? It's a family tradition." Justin smiles, "Plus, I have been an officer all four years. FFA has even taught me some very valuable life lessons."

Later he said, "Senior pictures took four hours, and I was sure glad to be done. I felt bad because I left my hat at home, but I was reassured by the fact that my mom was satisfied with my pictures. Mom was really happy, which is what really matters."

Senior pictures aren't the only pictures included in the people section. "Mugshots," class officer pictures, senior superlatives, and casual pictures make this section vital to the yearbook. Polling questions show how the fads and trends of today affect students. These pictures preserve time because once you leave high school, everything changes.

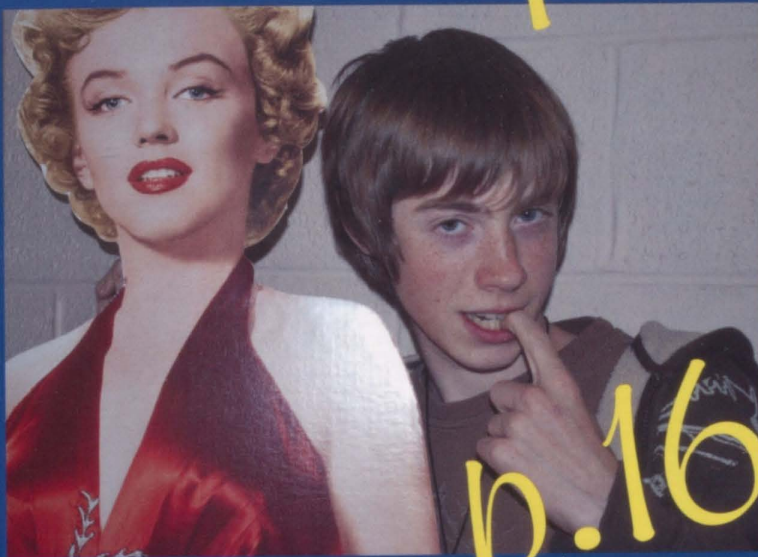

p.6

Flash Those Pearly Whites

"Picture day as a high school teacher reminds me a lot of picture day when I was in elementary school. Everyone would look forward to that one special day once every year when they could dress to impress and smile an extra special smile. It is so fun to get to see everyone all dressed up. Some things never change."

-Mrs. Atkins

p.16

A Superlative Afternoon

"The superlative trip downtown was quite amazing. I had never eaten at Forte's before, and I was pleasantly surprised. For my Wittiest picture, we tried posing with the hotdog lady. Then we dressed in cowboy attire, and I enjoyed wearing my pink hat and pink boots. My favorite parts had to have been taking a picture with my woman, Marilyn Monroe, and playing an epic card game with Mr. John Garland. Oh, and when we went to get milkshakes at Mitchell's, the power even went out! It was certainly a memorable day."

-Tyler Flack

p.26

Underground Perspective

"I was walking on the side of the road, and I found an 'underground' music album. That's what first got me into underground music. I've listened to it for ten years now. It has made me accept every style of music, person, and idea: I see everything differently now. The so-called 'different people' are amazing to me now, and I truly cherish original people. People should feel free to be themselves. Those kind of people are the most important to me."

Spring/Summer

by Marshall Pickard

Blossoming trees. Splashes from a backyard pool. The rhythmic, undulating waves crashing into rocks on a Florida shore. These are the sights and sounds of spring and summer. By springtime, students can hardly contain their excitement. School is almost out, but there is still so much to do--AP tests, prom, End of Course exams, and college visits. Then underclassmen have the face the sad reality that they have to say goodbye to their senior friends. Finally, the seniors graduate, and the other students are free for the summer. Teenage mischief abounds as students have ample free time on their hands. Students visit myriads of unbelievable sites across the globe--London, the Phillipines, Turkey, and even Myrtle Beach. They are amazed by the wonders of the world, but they also enjoy the simple pleasure of eventually returning home to their friends and family.

Devin Yates opened the E-wing door to the school, and he immediately felt the arid blast of hot air. It was still spring, but it felt like summer. He made his way down to the football field to sign yearbooks and hang out with his friends. It was Springfest. "Springfest was lots of fun this year, but I have to say, it was way too hot to be down there. Everyone was sweating like crazy, and I wonder how the kids playing football could stand the heat."

Spring was filled with other activities and trips, and Jet Theatrix performed their production, Stone Soup. Barbara Gibson, one of the actors, really enjoyed performing in the show. "Stone Soup was the best show, it had the best cast, and we all had the best time."

Spring passed, and as summer soon slipped away, students realized that they would soon return to school. The summer was over, but they would once again get to see their friends at school. One good thing had ended, and another began.

A Beautifully Orchastrated Night

"The Arabian Nights prom this year was absolutely stunning. It was a beautiful night, seeing everyone all decked out and looking at all the decorations. From going out to eat at fancy restaurants to the after-parties, everyone seemed to have a truly special night. Memories become that much more dear when made doing things that you love with people that you love."

-Marissa Mitchell

Foreshadowing the Future

"Getting to put on a graduation gown and pose with my family and a sample diploma was really kind of surreal. Here I was, at the Blue Bash, just beginning high school, and at the same time, putting on a cap and gown like I was graduating. It definitely made me picture myself there on graduation day--all the people filling the stands, the cameras flashing, and Mrs. Graham handing me a diploma. Taking the mock-graduation picture really gave me something to look forward to and showed me that my graduation really isn't that far in the future."

-Taylor Moss

Come On In! The Mud is Fine!

"This summer, I got to go to Lake Frances, a nearby summer camp run by Olympic athletes for mainly cheerleaders and gymnasts. I attended their biggest event, Flip Fest, because my grandma works at the camp. The mud pit behind the gym was incredible; we all played mud tug of war. I had a great time at the Flip Fest!"

-Coco Bennett

Three's Company While On Spring Trips

All Dolled-Up
"At State FCCLA competitions in Nashville, Rachel and I ate a wonderful dinner. We had an amazing time and enjoyed getting all dressed up to celebrate with FCCLA members from other schools across the state."
-Mrs. Shoemaker

For many people looking back on their high school experiences, one of the most memorable events was going on trips with fellow students and teachers. The fun times students in school have when they go on trips with clubs and sports teams will never fade out of their memories.

The Opryland Hotel in Nashville is a place of beauty, joy, and great fun. In spring 2010, three of CCHS's clubs went to conventions at this wondrous hotel and convention center--all at the same time! Members of HOSA, FCCLA, and Beta Club all enjoyed seeing their fellow classmates, sharing each other's company, and making unforgettable memories.

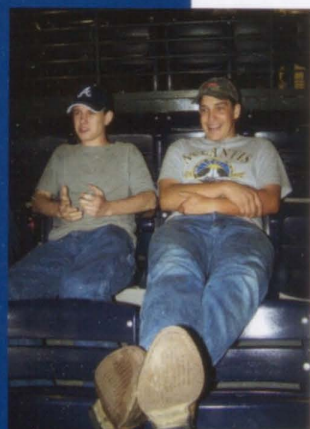

Beta Club members John Garland and Brandon Fehr made the most out of their spring trip.

"When Beta Club went to Beta State Convention at Opryland Hotel, Brandon and I had decided to go mingle with the candidates and acquire all the free stuff we could get our hands on. We were very prolific about taking it back to the room," John shared.

FBLA also went to FBLA State Convention and Competitions last spring and stayed at the Chattanooga Choo Choo Hotel. CCHS's Sadie Shadden competed in impromptu speaking. "I thought I was dreaming when I found myself the last competitor standing onstage. To my surprise, I won first place!" Sadie was ecstatic with all of the support from her friends in FBLA and her new first place award. It was truly an experience that she will never forget.

by Erin Curry

Special Seats
"On the Math Club trip to Atlanta, Georgia, Anthony Scott and I snuck into some awesome seats at the Atlanta Braves game that we went to. Mrs. Buck didn't buy the 'special' tickets, so we just snuck in with a big group of people!"
-Ben Hardt

Student Teachers

"HOSA took a trip to Roane State to assist Noah Baker in teaching his Emergency Medical Services class. It was very interesting because I got to pretend to be a pregnant lady that obtained brain damage after a bomb explosion! We did our own wound makeup and set up the scene. Then the EMS class came in and helped us as if it was a real emergency."
-Shannon Wynn

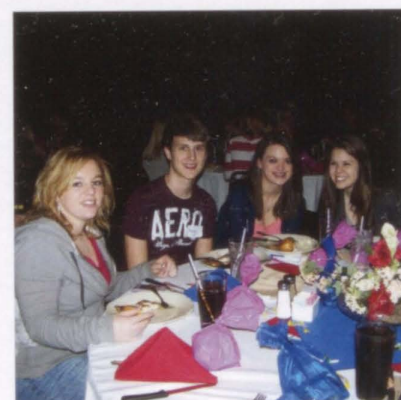

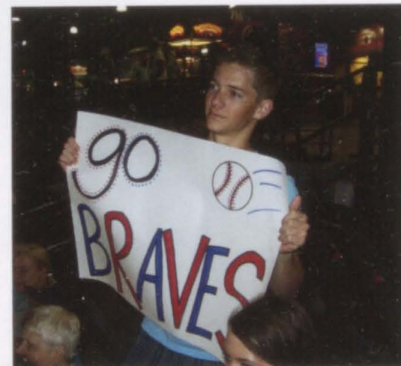

Champion!

"The best part of FBLA Conference was our last night there. Five finalists for the Impromptu Speaking Competition were called to the stage--one of them being Sadie Shadden. We were all so proud of her for being the national champion! I only regret forgetting to bring my swimsuit..."
-Anna Hill

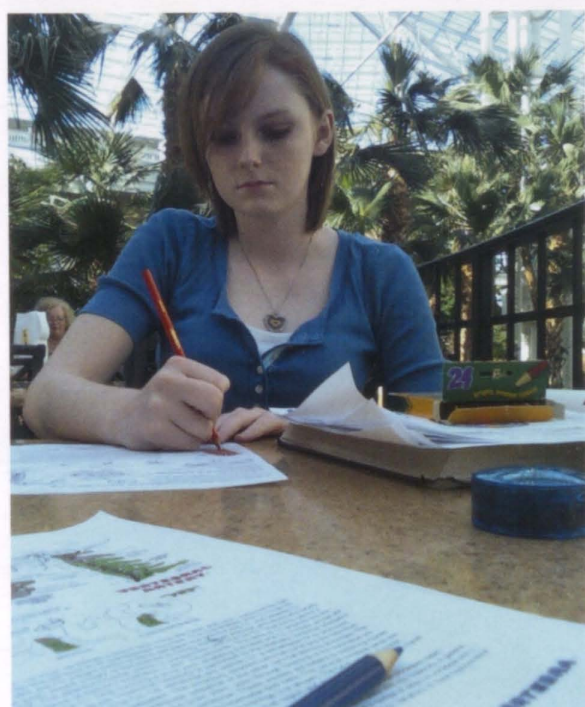

Glass Elevator

"When HOSA went to Opryland, I had so much fun with my friends! My favorite part of the trip was riding up and down the glass elevator with Abi Stone."
-Blaklee Garrett

Rain, Rain Go Away
 "On the math trip to Atlanta, we finally found a place out of the torrential downpour to show some Braves Pride!"
 -Houston Vincent

Coloring at Convention?
 "I finally made it to Coloring 105, and then Ms. Lay gave me tons of coloring to do during Beta Convention."
 -Kaitlyn Mathis

It's All "NG"
 "At Jostens Spring Workshop, that was supposed to be at the 'Batman building,' we inhaled as many sodas as we could, and everything was NG (not good.)"
 -Karli Threet

Burger King
 "Once upon a time when Garden Club was at Biltmore in Asheville, North Carolina, a creepy man was creepily creeping around us. He randomly yelled at us, 'I like gardeners!' but we thought he said, 'I like burgers!'"
 -Samantha Keeton

"To me, softball season is definitely the most timeless part of spring!"
 -Kate Vanlandingham

Spring Into Activities

Throw Them Out

"I loved throwing stuff into the crowd, but I hated when my friends got mad at me for not throwing them shirts and stuff. It was a perfect job for a CCHS cheerleader to do."
-Cassie Judkins

Spring had many various memorable events. Among these events were prom, the Dave Kirk car drawing, and the play Stone Soup.

Rachel Lee strolled into prom with the loud music booming, the people dancing, and the smiles shining. Little did she know her night was going to be more spectacular than she had anticipated. Rachel commented, "Prom was a great experience. I knew that I had been nominated for princess, but I didn't expect to get it. It was a wonderful addition to my prom night." As she danced away in her lovely yellow dress, she and Marshall Pickard were soon to be crowned prom prince and princess of Prom 2010. Rachel's dress was an exact replica of Kate Hudson's from the movie How to Lose a Guy in 10 Days.

Prom wasn't the only thing that spring had in store for the students that semester. Samantha Keeton said, "I was so close to winning that car. I wish I would have, but the gift card came in handy for gas anyway." Although a CCHS student didn't win, it was still a fun experience.

The spring play Stone Soup, put on by Mrs. Robbins, was an experience most will never forget. With the vivid colors, the great actors, and the fun the play brought to all of the people that participated, this play was truly unforgettable. Kimber Falls said, "The play was really cute and funny; I had a lot of fun being a clown."

by Judy Tuohy

This I Swear

"The senior banquet for Beta officer installment was a great experience for me. Tyler Janow passed down Anna Hill's Communications Coordinator position to me."
-Frances Marasigan

Green Years

"Spring Fest was a little emotional for me signing yearbooks since I would not be back for my senior year. Once a Jet always a Jet. I will be back eventually."
-Brittany Giattino

Clowning Around

"Stone Soup was a great play. Almost everyone enjoyed the great actors and actresses on stage. I must say Kimber Falls and I definitely got our clown on."
-Reggie Morton

Spring Awakening

"Spring Fest is a good time to celebrate the ending of a great school year with all of your friends. I'm so glad I wore shorts because it was one of the hottest days of the spring."

-Richard Demaison

All Dressed Up

"This was a very fun night. I had a lot of fun with all my friends. To top it all off, I didn't end up stabbing Tyler Davenport with his boutonniere."

-Jacqueline Maynard

Sword of the Stars

"Jet Theatrix- where sword fights, fake beards, donuts, and raps about soup are all part of the norm. In my opinion, this is the best club at our school."

-Abigayle Claflin

"To me, all the fun times of spring break was the most timeless part of spring."

-Victoria Becker

Grand Ole Time

"My family and I went to Las Vegas for a week, visited the Grand Canyon, and then drove along the California Coast for a week. The Grand Canyon was so beautiful! I got butterflies when I stood near the edge because it was so steep!"

-Marissa Webb

Dive Into Summer Vacation

"Summer lovin'" happened so fast? It doesn't have to. Memories are one of the most heartfelt parts of summer vacation. Pictures of all the magnificent times and hysterical laughter remind us all of our wonderous high school years.

Francis Marasigan definitely knows how to make a summer memorable. He went to a beautiful place he used to live, the Philippines. "I loved seeing all of my family." Reconnection was not the only amazing part on this trip.

"The best part was going to Boracai (probably one of the prettiest beaches in Asia) and being able to helmet dive with the fish!" How lucky is he? "It was also fun experiencing different cultures!"

The rays of the brilliant sun brings smiles, and the warmth of a late night bonfire brings us all closer together. This is a time to let go and break away from the books. How could anyone compete with something so fantastic? Emily Lowe sure can't argue about the enjoyment of the sun-kissed moments. She says, "I always have a blast during the summer. Hanging out with my friends at the lake always makes summer worth the wait!"

Mr. and Mrs. Atkinson and family had fun in the sun in Destin, Florida. Mrs. Atkinson said, "My favorite part of the whole trip had to be the food!" Summer vacation is incomparable. It gives us all the chance to experience magical, unforgettable moments with family and friends. That's what it's all about, right?

by Lydia Emery

What Happens in Vegas...

"I went to Las Vegas this summer for my eighteenth birthday! It was gnarly. In this picture, I was standing on the balcony at the Venican on Las Vegas Boulevard! I also went to the wax museum and hung out with Hugh Hefner!"

-Elizabeth Krumpols

"To me, playing baseball in 90 degree weather was the most timeless part of summer."

-William Stallworth

-Drake Parrot

Most students love summer. It's two months out of the year that teenagers do not have to awakened by the sound of an alarm clock.

There are plenty of kids in high school that love going to summer camp, whether it's for sports, church, or just somewhere to go meet new people and create lasting memories. Cassie Wyatt went to a national convention for Renaissance in Orlando, Fl. The Renaissance group fought the humid summer heat and enjoyed visiting Animal Kingdom and Islands of Adventure theme parks. Cassie says, "We had an amazing time getting lost in Dr. Suess Land at Universal Studios in the rain. This was a perfect beginning to my senior year."

Renaissance wasn't the only group that went to summer camp. The cheerleaders also went away to camp this summer. When the CCHS cheerleaders stepped onto the campus of TTU, they were awestruck by the wonderous sights that they had seen. Leah Stephens said, "Cheer camp was a blast! It was a great experience, and I have a lot of memories I will never forget." The CCHS Marching Band also went to camp this summer here on our Jet campus. Shalee Sapp says, "Camp was a good way to get to know the upcoming freshman that are joining band this year. It was fun to learn new things, but I have to say that my favorite part was the shaving cream fight on the last day! It was very competitive and definitely very fun."

by Kelsey Threer

"Fowl" Play

"At Renaissance Convention, we were divided into teams with Elmo, the Count, Oscar, and Cookie Monster. For Cookie's Monster's game, we had to eat cookies as quickly as possible.

We would have won if Elmo wouldn't have cheated!"

-Cassie Judkins

I've Been Creamed!

-Crystal Clark

-Amber Flowers

Happy Days

"As you can tell by the look on my face, we were having a great time! Cheer camp was a lot of hard work, but it was also really fun. Go Jets!!!"

-Taylor Leggett

Kodak Moment

"The Renaissance trip was very exciting. We got a lot of ideas from other schools on how to make our school the best. Plus, we had a great night when Jostens rented out Animal Kingdom."

-Mr. Atkinson

"To me, going to Wal-Mart was the most timeless part of summer."

-Angel Kessler

"The purpose of the FFA demonstrations was so that the freshman could see what FFA was all about."

-Haley Whittenburg

"Hanging out with the freshmen while drinking slushies was very unforgettable."

-Brianna Brewer

Chicken Little

"The FFA demonstration was one of the best because we had live animals, like the chickens, and slushies. Hopefully, we encouraged the freshmen to take agriculture classes."

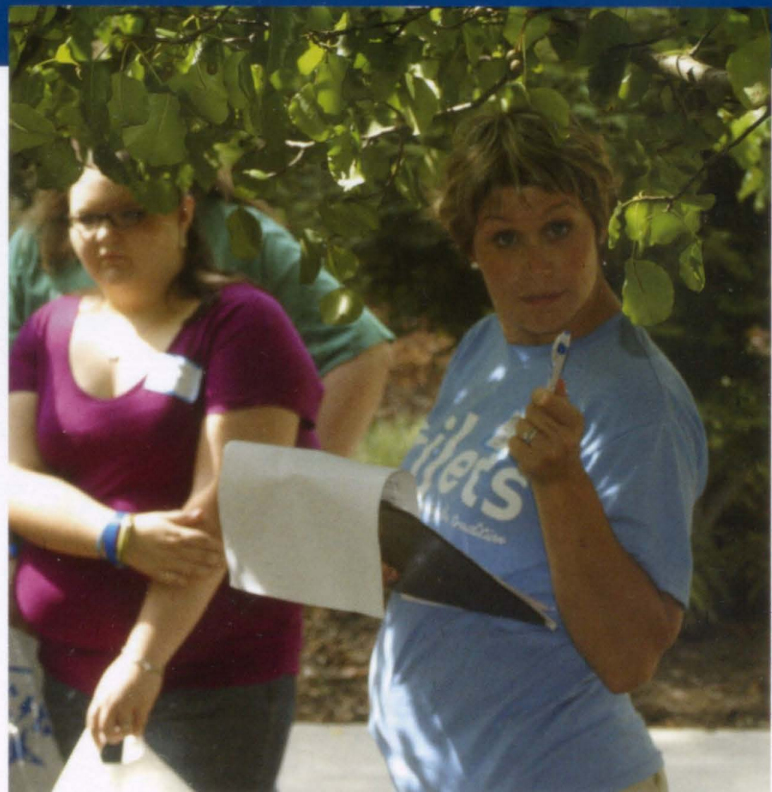

-Justin Dye

"Blue Bash has made this freshman class feel more self-assured and secure."

-Mrs. Gargac

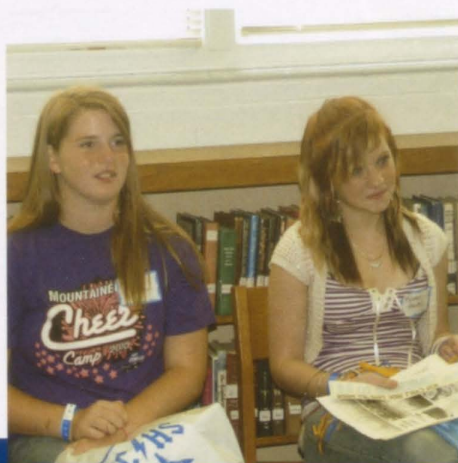

Undivided Attention

"I was very interested in all of the activities that took place at Blue Bash. My favorite part was probably the Fashionless Fashion Show."

-Kileen Farley

Packed House

"Blue Bash was an amazing success. More than half of the class of 2014 attended. As a result of Blue Bash, these freshmen seem much more well adjusted than in previous years."

-K.J. Smith

Bash In A Flash!

Hurry, Hurry!

"I was in a rush to get to the gym to see all my friends that I missed over the summer."

-Patrick Smith

Class of 2014. This phrase is more than just letters and numbers: it's a statement. This class is more than just freshmen: it's the future generation. "I'm proud to be a freshman because everyone is full of generosity, spontaneity, and spunk. They just rock!" says newcomer Amanda Beck.

The phrase "Once a Jet, Always a Jet" inspires most students to strive to the best of their ability to attend classes and succeed in their school work. Participating in after school activities and clubs invites students to become more social.

CCHS's Blue Bash offered incoming freshmen the opportunity to get a glimpse of what it means to be involved. "The best part of the whole event was getting to know what all of the clubs were about and where everything is and the feeling of being in a high school atmosphere. It made me feel more at home," says freshman Rachel Greatorex.

Over the years, Freshman Academy has been an excellent success. "We're the class of 2014; we're the future generation of this school. The next four chapters of our lives begin here at CCHS. We're ready," says freshman Hayden Shadden.

When incoming freshmen make that first step into the school on the first day of the year, apprehension is present and accounted for. The butterflies eventually fly away, and reality sinks in. The adventure has just begun.

by Jordan McCoy

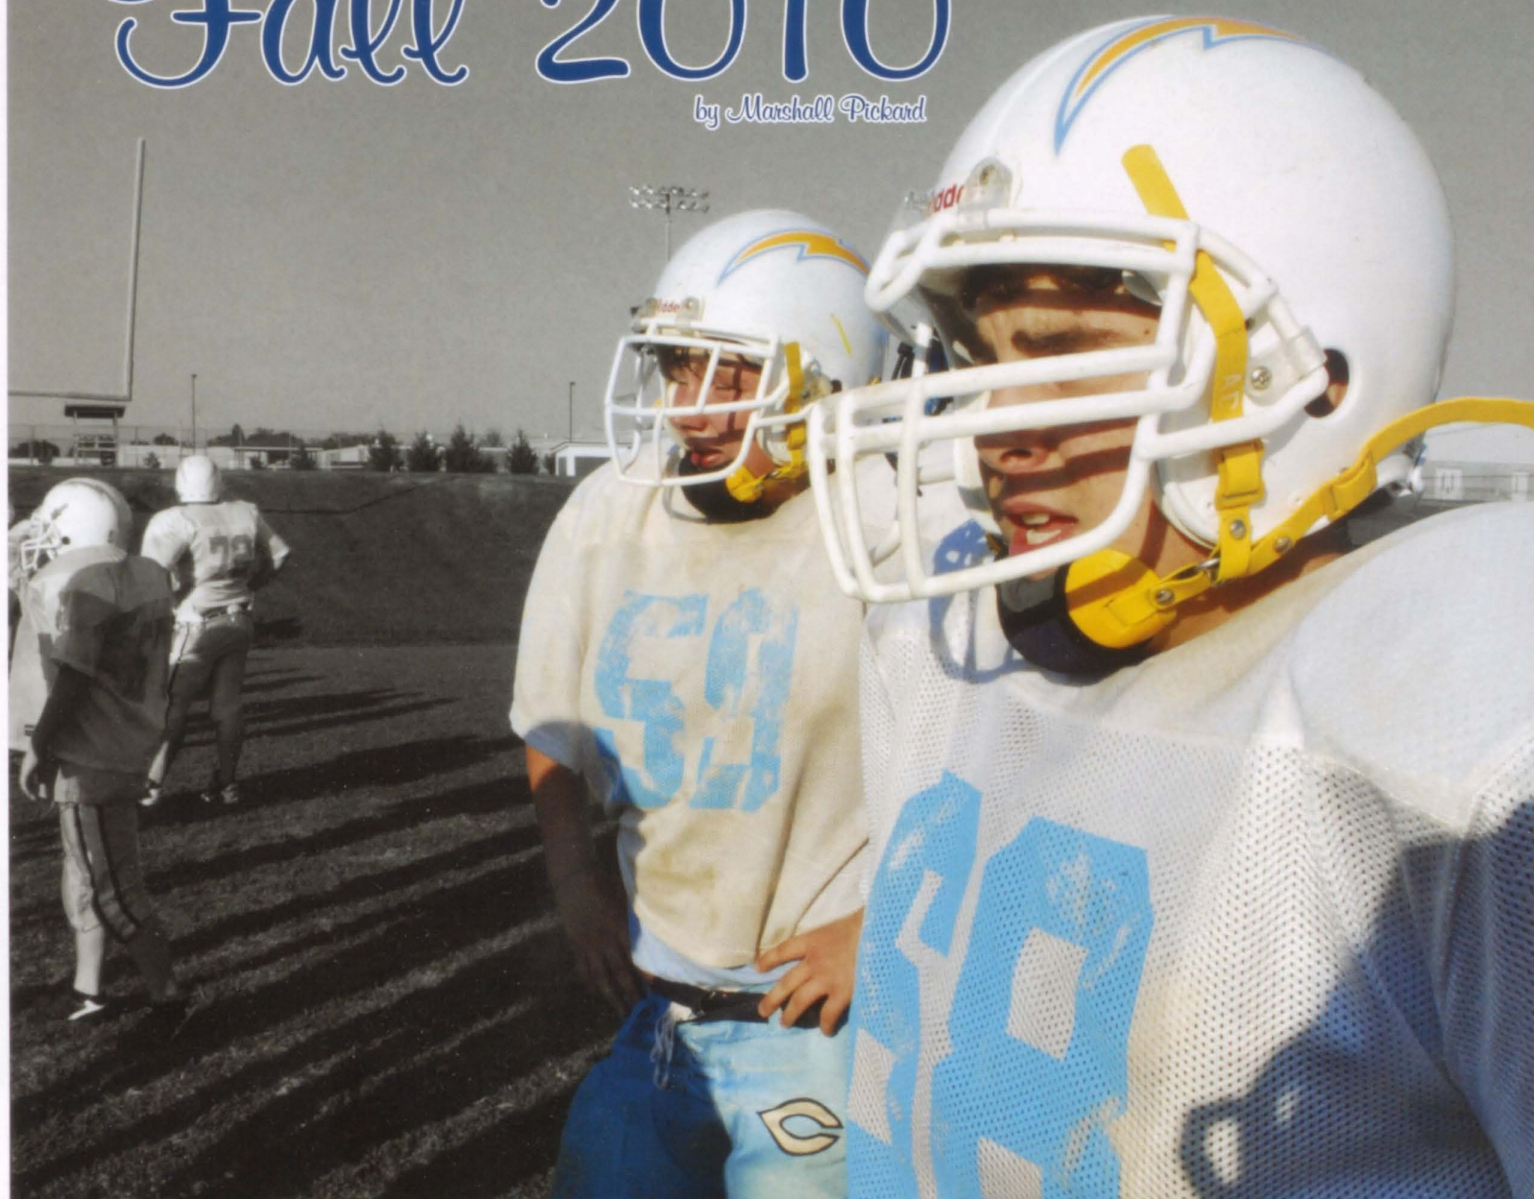

"To me, basically living on the lake was the most timeless part of summer!"

-Emily Lowe

Fall 2010

by Marshall Pickard

It was one of the hottest summers in years; however, the proverbial heat truly turned up when students started back to school in the fall. The pressures of school returned, including complex projects, mind-boggling midterms, sleepless nights, and hours of homework. The start of the school year wasn't all bad, though, because it was a new opportunity. Students tested their minds, developed new friendships, and expanded their social lives by attending ball games and the county fair.

Michael Davis stopped to take a breath. The afternoon practice was warm, but at last the cool of fall was approaching. The vibrant colors of fall covered the trees in the distance. Michael commented about being a freshman football player, "This year's football season was great. Even though I am just a freshman on the team, it is cool to be a part of this large group. Practice makes perfect, and we definitely improved our team this year. Maybe the best game was the Stone vs. CCHS game. It was a pretty close finish, and I was almost afraid the other team was going to score a surprise touchdown at the end. Nothing was more exciting than when the scoreboard ran out, and we were victorious. The other students ran out on the field, and the cheers from the stands were amazing. I think the whole school felt on top of the world."

Challenges were presented in the classroom, as well as on the field. Students had to overcome difficult classes, like AP Biology 2 and Dual English. Paramount social events took place during the fall, and this year's football homecoming was perhaps one of the best in recent history. Sophomore Cemre Chadwick described her experience that week. "I dressed up this year because I absolutely love it! Even though the sophomores had basically a Hippie Day, I dressed in eighties attire. I enjoy the extravagance of the time period, and I think I probably should have been born in the eighties. It's my favorite decade." CCHS also won its homecoming game this year.

Finally, the bright leaves were traded in for barren branches, and a harsh winter descended upon the plateau.

Incentive to Succeed

"Because I was passing all my core classes and didn't have any office referrals, Freshman Academy detentions, or reform forms, I was eligible to attend the first Freshman Academy incentive. For our first incentive, we went out to the stadium for refreshments and time to hang out with good friends. The whole event was very well organized, and the reward was definitely well deserved. While other students were sitting in class, we got to reap the benefits of our good behavior."

-Austin Brown

Building a Foundation on F-wing

"The F-wing classes were extending the retaining wall down at the football field because we wanted to keep the field looking beautiful. At the time, I was in Mr. Freeman's construction core class, and the project took about five weeks to complete. I also helped patch holes on the old wall and sow grass near Miss Nettie. It is kind of cool to know that I was able to help the school and do work that everyone who visits the school will admire."

-Caleb Stafford

Soccer Star

"District 6 AAA Defensive MVP--it was so rewarding to know that I earned that name! I know I did my job for my team, but I mostly did it because I love soccer. Earning this award for two years running is an amazing experience. It has helped me get my scholarship for college soccer. I love having this title, but it's all because my coaches voted for me and believed in me."

-Rebecca Kennedy

Timeless.

First Week Jitters

Stupid Lock!

"I could not, for the life of me, figure out my combination, and I couldn't open my lock. I got very frustrated with life."

-Trevor Norris

The first week of school. The friend-making, picture-taking, memory-creating first week of school. Some dread it, and some anticipate it. To seniors, it's the beginning of the end of the beginning, but to the freshmen, it is challenging to walk into a new, crowded atmosphere.

Even though it is only week one, homework assignments and unexpected pop quizzes are still on the agenda. Seeing all the changes of people with new tans, haircuts, shoes, and outfits is a timeless surprise of this special week. "I always get excited to see all of the changes that everyone has undergone. It's definitely one of my favorite parts of the new school year," said Bethany Ariks.

From one year to the next, advancements are necessary and thrilling. Sophomores now have a year of school under their belts and do not have to worry about finding their way around the building. Juniors begin to realize that there is only one year left until they are allowed to take part in senior traditions and graduation. Seniors prepare to enjoy their final chapter in high school. As students come and go out of classes, the teachers must keep up with pupils entering and leaving their class. Mrs. Robbins said, "My favorite thing about the first week of school, other than my birthday, was seeing the stacks of schedule change forms quickly depleting."

And so the stress begins, and teachers and students begin missing the seemingly carefree days of summer. However, because this is a new year, everyone has hope that this year will be better than the year before.

by Jordan McCoy

New Car Smell

"I'm just extremely glad that I don't have to ride the bus anymore. I prefer the new car smell over the noxious fumes of a normal bus any day."

-Gregory Maxwell

Those Who Care, Teach

"I came from a much smaller school of about four hundred people total.

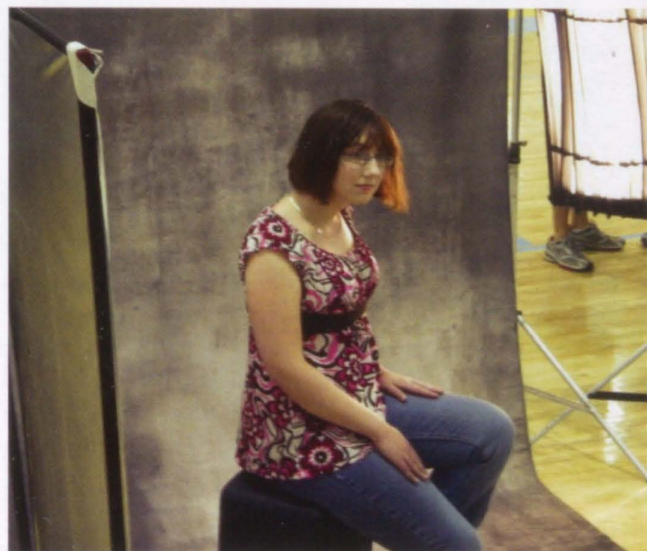

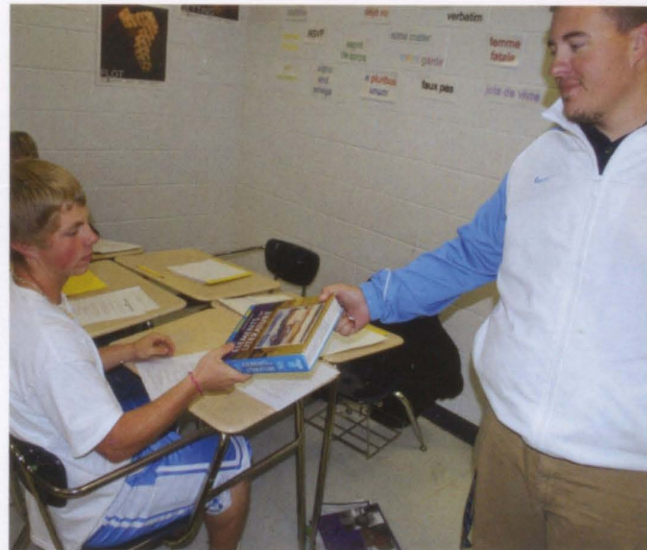

Entering a new school was kind of confusing. The teachers have really helped with the adjustment, though."

-Justin Humphries

Say Cheese!

"Picture day is always a little stressful, and I don't think I'm alone in thinking that. You have to look good for the yearbook."

-Danielle Brannon

Snack Time

"Snack time is definitely my favorite part of the day! I always get the usual chips and soda. My second favorite part of the day is advisory with Mr. Kington."

-Chase Selby

Easy as Pie

"Because I'm a freshman, I was a little afraid to come back to school, but my first week of high school didn't live up to typical stereotypes: it was actually extremely easy!"

-Ivy Luttrell

Delicious and Refreshing

Grayson Witt's favorite memory of the first week of school was when he got to go to the snack machine for a nice, cold Coke.

"To me, the crisp weather is the most timeless part of fall."

-Brandi Green

Studying Social Studies

Social studies affects everybody's life. It plays a big role in our past, present, and future. Every branch from U.S history, U.S government, psychology, sociology, economics, to marketing are a part of everyday life situations. As Mr. Taylor says, "A lot of past mistakes usually reoccur in the future, but like everything else, we must study to learn from them and get better at what we do." Who would have known our world could be so interesting? As we grow and learn things, we can change the world. Jenny Widger stated, "With our teachers' knowledge and help, we could be the ones to make a difference in the world. Who knows, maybe one day our names could be in a history book."

-Korinthya Smith

Good Humor

"The way Coach Mac teaches is what makes learning history fun; he is always putting humor into it."

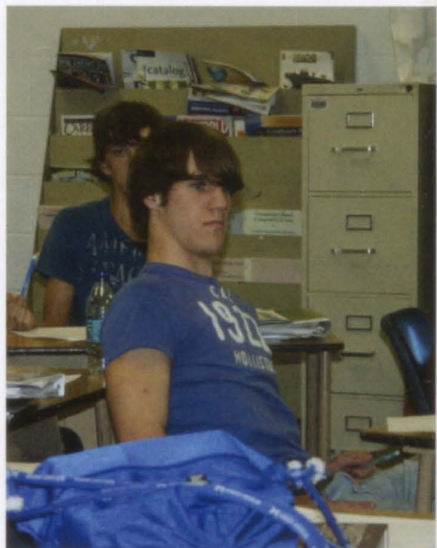

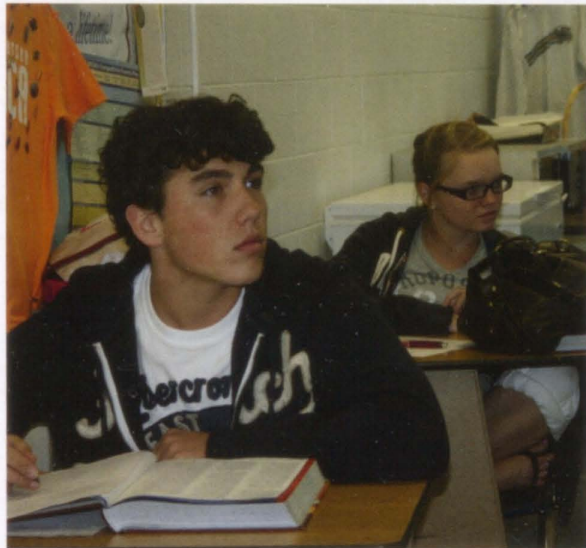

-Samantha Avalos

Diverse Perspectives

"The most interesting thing about my history class would have to be sharing a classroom with a U.S. History teacher who admits to being a dyslexic and a precise English teacher."

-Caleb Luttrell

Preparation, Time and Success

"Marketing has been a great class. It prepares you in every way to start your own business."

-Cadie Pollock

Too Much Tension!

"I have really enjoyed being able to express my feelings in this class."

-Cheyenne Freeman

Inside Marketing

"I have learned a lot in marketing, but my favorite part would be graphing statistics and such."

-Jarrod Rogers

Hard at Work

"He has been one of my favorite teachers so far. I've learned so much. Mr. Brock is a great teacher and fills us in on all of his wisdom."

-MaShayla Selby

Stories to Tell

"I like Mrs. York's marketing class because it's fun being able to make up stories with Nick, Gibby and Beans. Other than that it's good."

-Tyler Hritz

That's An Easy Question!

"If I could spend a day with anyone famous from history, it would be Amelia Earnhart because she proved everyone wrong."

-Ambriel Hinkle

A Mind is a Terrible Thing to Waste

"My favorite history book would have to be Animal Farm by George Orwell because it tells important information about World War II."

-Andrew Seiber

Movie Time

"The one thing I have really liked about history was being able to watch the movie The Patriot. It was a good movie, and I learned something from it."

-Jasmine Worthington

Local Hero

"If I could spend a day with anyone in history, it would be Alvin C. York because he was a local hero who was recognized for what he did."

-Cheyenne Jones

"To me, stuffing my face for Thanksgiving is the most timeless part of fall."

-Becca Monday

Words of Wisdom

"All year you have been scrappers. You never gave up in a game, no matter what the score was. I encourage you to continue to be scrappers--in volleyball, school, and life. Never give up. Continue to show that Jet Pride!"

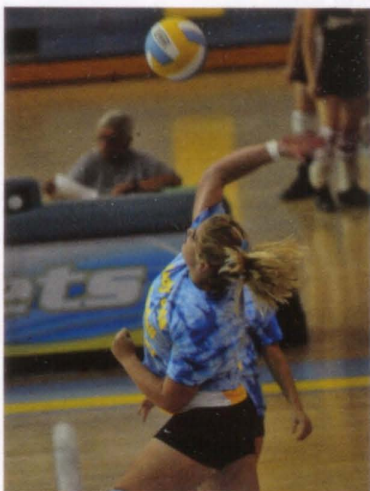

-Coach Smith

Scary Skills

"My favorite position is at the net. When I jump up, I like scaring the other girls with my skills."

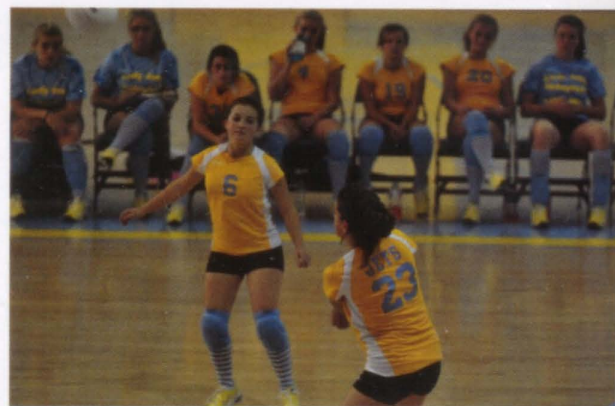

-Brianna Hawkins #5

Pass, Set, Hit

"Calling the ball is important because if you don't you could crash into someone who is also after it, or no one could go after it, and you miss the point. Passing, or bumping, is what you do to pass the ball to the setter. After the set, we hit it over the net, trying to spike. I hope all the hard work I've done leads me to becoming a captain one day."

-Amanda Hackett #23

Say it Loud, Say it Proud

"We are a very loud team. We have to communicate on the court and cheer each other on during the game. Before a game, the starters did this dance and chant that I thought was really cool. We were loud at games and at practice. Anytime someone on our team got a point, we yelled as loud as we could!"

-Nithya Kanagasegar #7

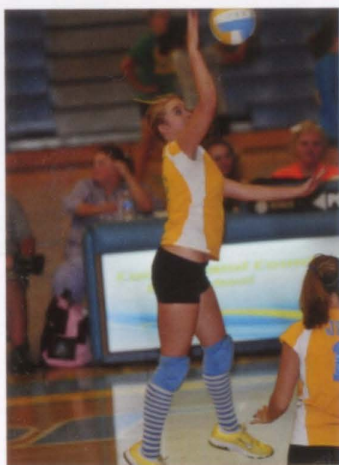

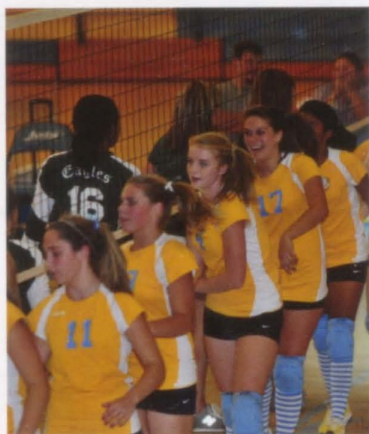

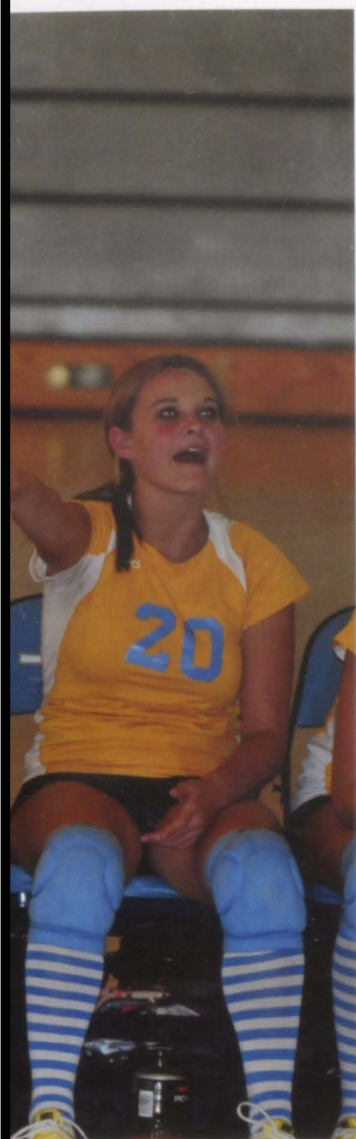

Enough Said

"My favorite part of the game is when my first hit is the spike that puts it away. Enough said."

-Kat Kerr #10

Spiking with Volleyball

Blocking Hits

"Blocking hits makes you look awesome! Volleyball makes me feel great and confident. I'm so glad I joined the team as a freshman. I rarely have fear when I'm on the court. I plan on playing for the rest of my high school career."

Appreciation

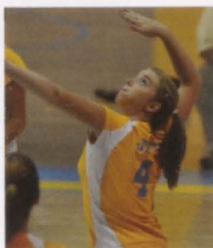

"I love serving because you have the chance to ace it up! When I make a point for the team, I can feel how much my teammates appreciate me. Their cheers make me feel awesome!"

-Tori Noel #1

Keep on Laughing

"I don't want to sound cocky, but I am really funny. We have a great time together in and outside of the games. It's hard to keep a straight face when you have such great friends on the team with you."

-Becca Forte #17

The Cumberland County High School Lady Jets volleyball team is more than a team: they're a family. They spend not just the school year together, but also the summer. Practice for this team starts long before school does. Even in the hottest months of the year, morning runs and drills are scheduled to prepare the girls for the season.

Eight freshmen joined the team this year. These players are Becca Teeple, Nithya Kanagasagar, Christine Jones, Tessa Dixon, Shayla Reagan, Amanda Hackett, Meghan Server, and Shelby Smith. Nithya Kanagasagar was asked why she joined the team, and she responded, "I've played volleyball since seventh grade. I couldn't imagine not playing in high school."

Kaitlyn Mathis, a junior at CCHS, remembers one game in particular. It was against a team that she would prefer to remain anonymous. She said, "I loved when we came together because we knew how hard it was to play against them. Just as expected from the beasts we are, we managed to spike the winning point!" Christine Jones, a freshman at CCHS, loves being a part of the Lady Jets volleyball team. She said, "I love my teammates. They make the the game fun!"

Kirsten Turner, a senior at CCHS, says she will miss her teammates and all the fun she had playing volleyball for CCHS.

The Cumberland County High School volleyball team, like a family, shares many memories. From hours of bus riding to having a home game, these girls have shared memories they won't forget.

Freshman Academy: The Beginning

Getting Friend's Help.

Mrs. Pickard's class splits up into groups sometimes to work on things that are difficult so that they can help each other to understand it better. "Your friends can help you on answers and problems that you find difficult."

-Trevor Chapman

Freshman Academy! That is what is each incoming freshman hears as they enter into the halls of Cumberland County High School for the very first time. This new program was put into place to help in the transition from elementary school to high school. The teachers of this program put together a marvelous event on July 29 this summer to show the students the layout of our school and to introduce them to some of the clubs that are available to ninth graders. The activities that occurred included a "Fashionless Fashion Show" that showed the students what not to wear when coming to school. Mrs. Graham spoke to the students about general rules and policies to introduce them to requirements of high school.

According to Megan Johnson, "Freshman Academy and English class make this year enjoyable." Mrs. Anna Pickard is the Freshman Academy Coordinator and says, "We are thrilled with the progress of our Freshman Academy at CCHS. The students are discovering quickly that high school is a great place to be. It's exciting to watch these first-time freshmen grow into successful young men and women who love being Jets. Although this is only our fourth year, our team believes that Freshman Academy is here to stay."
-Karli Threet

Speak!

"I'm reading Speak in Mrs. Gargac's class. It's my favorite thing that we have done so far in this class because it has a really good plot."
-Michael Lee

Different kinds of energy

"I have learned quite a bit in Mr. Patton's Physical Science class, especially about kinetic energy."
-Bradley Burgess

"To me, fall break was the most timeless part of fall."

-Brenden McCort

Jump for Joy

"We spent all of our money on the rides and the food, so we had nothing else to do. That's why we were jumping off a picnic table. It was actually pretty fun!"

-Becky Carter

Chicken Pox

"I really enjoy my Ag class because we get to visit the fair and see all the different animals."

-Emily Hurley

Cookie Monster

"I love eating the delicious fair food. It's my favorite part of Ag science. Those cookies were fantastic!"

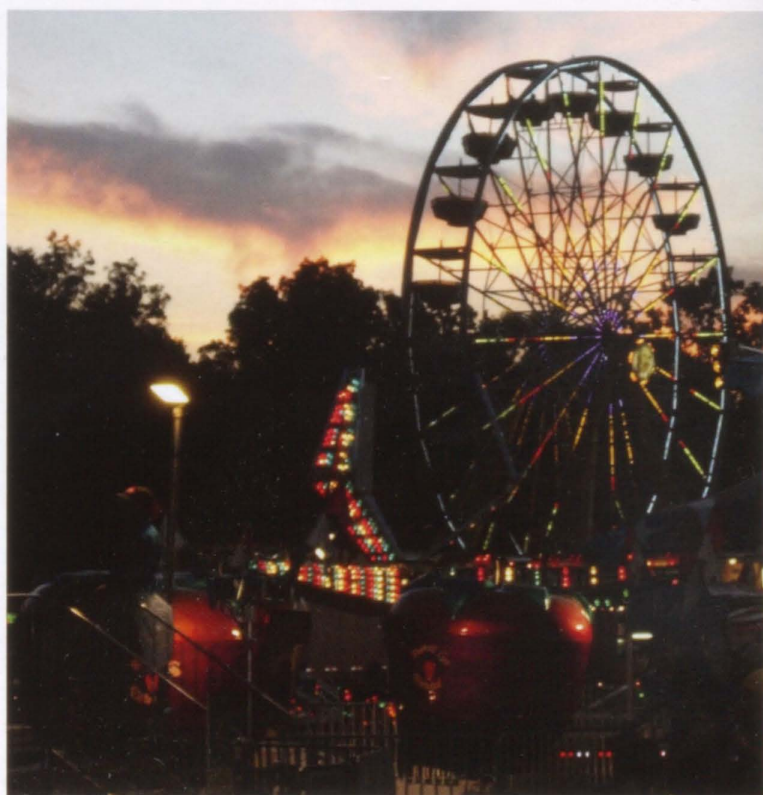

-Seth Aytes

Light Up My Life

"I look forward to the fair every single year. It's one time during the year where you get to have fun and hang out with friends. It reminds me of when I was a little kid."

-Trevor Harris

Holy Cow

"Cattle shows are always fun at the fair. I get out of school and get to show all my amazing animals. I love it!"

-Carlie Davis

The Grass is Greener on the Other Side

"I look forward to the fair all year. The rides are pretty great, but the really amazing part is hanging out with friends and enjoying the scenery."

-Dakota Cooper

Fair Enough?

What is it about the fair that gets kids pumped? Is it the delicious food? Maybe it's the beautiful lights on a breezy, dark night. One may never truly know. What people young and old do know is that the fair is an enormous part of Crossville history. It brings people joy and gives us all the ability to feel like a child again.

The pageant is a time during the fair that allows girls to feel beautiful. Stephanie Hinch had the privilege of participating in the pageant and surely enjoyed herself.

"It was amazing being all decked out in my best attire," she stated. "I made so many friends in the process!" The fair brings people together in so many ways; it's unbelievable.

If someone asked what your favorite part of the fair was, most would say the fantastic food. Clint Martin could vouch for that. "The Frito banditos were amazing! I could eat them all day!" Some people visit just to eat delicious funnel cakes.

Rides, rides, rides, and more rides! That's what everyone wants. The flashing lights and entertaining music gives a rush to anyone who takes the time to enjoy them.

"The Zipper was definitely my favorite ride," Ryan Bedgood explained. "I love when rides flip you upside down. The rush of the adrenaline is incredible!"

It is nearly impossible for anyone to turn down the fair's incredible opportunities for entertainment. Cumberland County should be thankful for this yearly gift. Hopefully, the joy of the fair can bring happiness for years to come.

LRE Becomes Independent

Building Blocks

Ryan enjoys his free time after lunch. He also enjoys being able to spend time with his friends in and out of the classroom. Ryan's favorite thing to do in the classroom is work with the blocks.

Social Butterfly

Bethany enjoys spending time and conversing with her friends during advisory and lunch. She is also a very hard worker and is always willing to take on a challenge.

LRE, or least restrictive environment, means that a student who has a disability should have the opportunity to be educated with non-disabled peers, to the greatest extent appropriate. Each student should have access to the general education curriculum, extracurricular activities, or any other program that non-disabled peers would be able to access. At CCHS, we have great teachers and assistants to make this possible. Each student is provided with supplementary aids and services necessary to achieve educational goals. The LRE for Life classroom provides students with opportunities to learn life skills that are timeless. The teachers and staff provide each student with the level of support to be successful inside and outside of the classroom. Each skill that they are taught will help them not only now but when they graduate and enter the real world, too. Each student in the classroom is very hard-working and has individual character traits that makes them who they are. Donovan at times requires one-on-one instruction. Mr. Kington and assistants are always willing to help. One of his favorite things to do is spell his name out with velcro letters. He does very well with this task every time he performs it. When asked, Mr. Kington said, "I love working with all the kids in my classroom and helping them accomplish what they want to do."

-Lauren Davis

Gettin' Money

Chase Selby is working on money. He enjoys doing this activity because he "likes money a lot." He also enjoys watching movies. He is a very hard-working student in and out of the classroom. His favorite time of the day is lunch because he gets to "eat lots of good food."

Working Hard

Grayson Witt is a very determined, hard-working student. His favorite thing to do in class is to work with blocks with Mr. Kington. Grayson also enjoys doing outdoor activities with his friends, such as participating in the Special Olympics. Grayson participated in the Olympics with many of his friends this year, and he loved every bit of it.

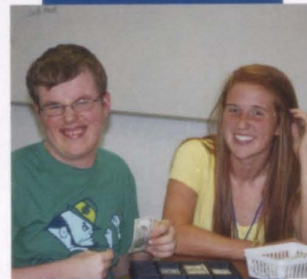

Fun and Games

Joshua Dunaway enjoys being able to have time to play with all of his favorite toys, but he also is very good at doing his work. His favorite time of the day is lunch time because he gets to see and socialize with all of his friends.

Working Hard

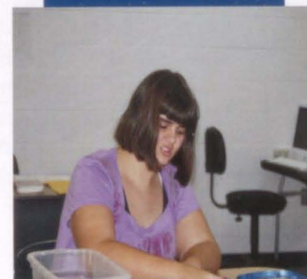

Nicole Noe is also an extremely hard-working student. She is shown working on her writing skills during fourth period. She loves spending time with her friends in the classroom.

Helping Others

"My favorite part about working in the LRE classroom is just being able to help out and have fun."

-Jordan Davis

Play Time

Jessica Lewis loves being able to play during activity time in the LRE classroom. It is most definitely one of her favorite things to do during fourth block.

Priviledged Assistant

"It is such a privilege to work as an assistant in the LRE classroom."

-Devin Davis

The Write Stuff

Colton Freitag shows his intelligence working with money. Colton is a very hard worker and loves to have free time to play. Colton also enjoys writing. He can sometimes be found working very hard on his writing skills during class.

"To me, fall break is the most timeless part of fall because there is no school."

-Quinten Trauffer

Words of Wisdom

"As a football program, we took a step in the right direction, and our seniors were a big part of that step. We have got a lot of good football highlights to remember thanks to those seniors. They will always be close to our hearts. We hope you all find success in your lives."

-Coach Partin

Can't Stop the O-Line

"During the game, it's just me and the O-line. We know how to play together, so we can't be stopped."

-Aaron Miller #60

Out of the Blue

"When I was little, I wasn't allowed to play football because my mom told me I couldn't. Then one day, out of the blue, she let me play. Once I got to join the team, it was amazing! I'm so glad that I have a privilege to call myself a Jet football player. I love my teammates, coaches, and most of all...

JET PRIDE!"

-Reed Shaw #79

Fans in the Stands

"Seeing a large turn-out of our student body and family in the stands makes me play even better."

-Daniel Gonzales # 23

Intensity

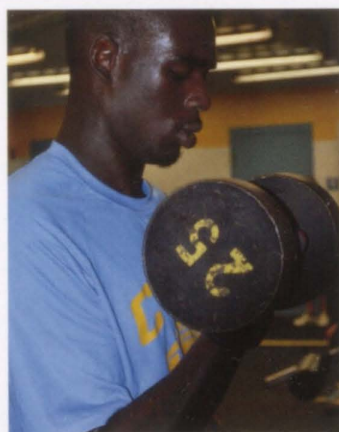

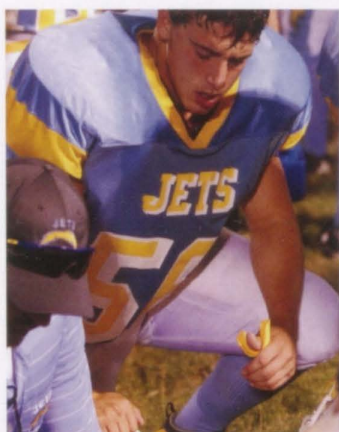

"I am in a very intense state of mind during a game. I just get this rush of adrenaline when I play. It feels like winning is the only thing that matters, and that it is my only job. I stay confident during a game. It keeps everyone else confident, which usually leads to victory."

-Tyler Wallace #29

Victory for Varsity Football

Love of the Game

"I play football for the love of the game. Scoring a touchdown is fun, but the best part is just being able to play whether we win or lose. The atmosphere at a game is just incredible."

-Jesse Wendig #56

Doing My Best

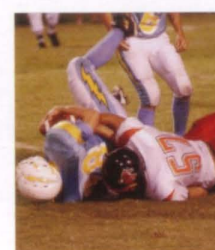

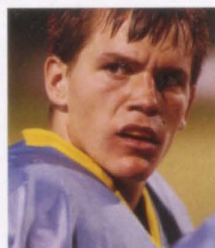

"Knowing all of the fans' eyes are on me when I kick the field goal can add pressure, but I trust my team for support even when I feel on edge. They know that my best is all I can do. I started playing football because of the coaches, and I haven't regretted it once."

-Skylar Keyes #2

The Football Lifestyle

"Basically, everyday of my high school career has been spent playing football in some way. I either have practice, a game, or even football video games. To me, it's not just a sport: it's a lifestyle."

-Vondarous Dawson #3

Sweat pours down his face as the tangerine sun sets in the west. He hears fans filling up the seats of the stadium. Tube socks, in the perfect shade of columbia blue, are pulled up to his knees. His cleats, stained with dirt and grass, stand firmly on the field. "Switch!" Coach Allen calls to the Cumberland County High School Jets varsity football team. In unison, sixty-seven padded and eager teammates fix themselves into their new stretch. The only sound he hears is his own breath, steady and rhythmic. When asked what thoughts go through his head before a game, Wesley Lewis said, "I am usually pretty nervous before a game. I think about my job I need to do on defense, along with everything else I have to do in the game. A lot of thoughts go through my head during this time, but all of them are good thoughts."

Coach Partin blows his whistle, notifying the players that it is time to head back to the locker room one last time before kickoff. Before the big game, Kyle Pritchard was asked how he felt inside, and he responded, "Well, I can feel the butterflies in my stomach, but as soon as I hear the roar of the crowd, they seem to disappear." This is how sixty-seven of CCHS's finest male athletes spend their Friday nights. For many of them, football is their life. Quoting quarterback Terryl Bowen, "I play football because it is my first love. I've played ever since I could run. I hope to continue to play in college and maybe even after then."

These dedicated young men prove that there is more to a football player than muscles, school spirit, and an ego.

"To me, cold weather and fall break is the most timeless part of fall."

The Language of Numbers

Ever since mathematics class has been taught to children, the subject has been a challenge for many students. According to Mr. Robert Akin, "Mathematics is rather loosely defined as 'that class I didn't like' by just about everybody except for mathematics teachers. But Galileo called it 'the language with which God has written the universe.' From algebra to calculus, students in our school wrack their brains in order to simplify, solve, evaluate, and integrate. And why? 'Why are we learning this?' 'What's the point?' 'When are we ever going to use this?' We learn this 'language' in order to create our own understanding of our lives and the world around us." So there you have it--the reasoning behind this intricate subject. If you are one of those individuals that tends to not like mathematics courses, sit back and think, "Why don't I like this class?" If you go into it with an open mind, you might be surprised to find enjoyment in the class after all.

-Karli Threet

What is your favorite aspect of math class?

"My favorite mathematics term of all time would have to be pi."

-Heather Ewing

"The things that I love about mathematics the most are the hard equations, of course!"

-Balie Houston

A Good Example
"Mrs. Barnes is a great teacher because she always explains the problems well."

-Gary Frady

FOIL Method
"My favorite algebra method is the Foil Method because it is so simple."

A Day for Grayson

Grayson Witt, a senior at Cumberland County High School, is shown above kicking a ball to see how far it would go. He was joined by his family and friends, and he was very happy when they cheered him on to victory. He laughed and smiled all day long, apart from concentrating while playing. He made it very clear that this will not be his last time participating in the Special Olympics and made an amazing torchbearer.

Seeking Success in Special Olympics/Golf

One Special Day

Angel Kessler was asked what she remembered from the Special Olympics this year, she replied, "I remember it was really hot. My helper was really nice to me, and everyone cheered me on when I won my metals and ribbons. One day, I want to be a torchbearer."

Words from a Hugger

"I was Rosey's hugger. No matter where she went, I was there to help her. When she wanted to win the basketball game, she had a cheerleader throw it for her."

-Erin Bailey

Winning Ribbons

When Colton Freitag was running with his friend, he said to her, "Come on Carrie, we'll win this race together, and both of us will get ribbons!"

On Sunday, September 19, 2010, the Special Olympics were held at Homestead Elementary School. The sun was high, and the participants were full of smiles and laughter. Huggers were all around, two per athlete. Games such as cornhole, basketball, softball throwing, and races were available for play. The most popular activity, however, was putt-putt. Concentration was the key to success for these players.

Like these special athletes, Logan Stewart, a freshman golf team member, believes that concentration is very important for a great game. He once said, "I am in my own world when I play. I'm very proud of how well this habit has paid off."

One hugger, Aaron Miller, also felt rewarded on the weekend of the Special Olympics. He recalled the look in the eyes of the man he was helping walk around the field. It was a look of pure appreciation for his help. All of the huggers were thrilled to lend a helping hand and also get to make new friends.

Taylor Houston became friends with Bo Davis on the golf course. After knowing each other for many years, Taylor says, "We have a blast before, during, and after a match. Staying serious for intimidation can be hard, but we always manage to do so." This golf team bears a torch representing friendship and a love for the game.

Grayson Witt and Colton Freitag were the torch bearers for the Special Olympics. This torch represents friendship, love, and most of all care.

Proud Tumbler

"I have been tumbling since I was able to walk. One of my favorite things about tumbling is when the crowd gets pumped up by my backhand springs or my backtuck. I feel really proud!"

-Shayla Christopher

Who are we? JV! This is the theme for the junior varsity cheerleading squad at Cumberland County High School this year. From the first practice, this group of girls made up their minds that they wanted to prove they belonged.

First on their list - bring home a trophy from cheer camp. In order to do this, they have to practice, and practice, and practice. These girls spent hard days at in the gym, on the track, and in the gymnastics building.

Over the summer, they attended cheer camp. It was a great experience for them as a team and brought them closer. Josie Graham commented, "I never thought there could be a cheer team where everyone loves and trusts each other as much as we do. We are like sisters. There is no drama between any of us, which is great!" These amazing and dedicated athletes brought home four superior trophies, numerous ribbons, and even the camp spirit stick! This trip to camp not only bonded the team, but also proved to be a confidence booster.

On the day of the competition, the practice finally paid off. The Cumberland County High School Jets JV Cheer Squad had a stellar performance in front of fans and observers from all over. "The feeling we had after we performed our cheer was unbelievable," said Mercedes Lee.

The next time a JV cheerleader for the Jets is asked who they are, they can confidently answer just as Kadee Flowers did, "I am a proud member of the CCHS Jets JV Cheer Squad!"

Senior Traditions--New and Old

Make Your Mark

"I love going to tailgating with my friends before the football games. There we get painted up for the evening. It's a great way to have fun and get pumped up for the game!"
-Morgan DeLong

Gran' Finale
"Not only did I look fantastic in my granny gear on Senior Day, but I also got a senior discount at McDonald's and Flowers Bakery. I should definitely dress like this more often."
-Liz Christ

When people think of senior year, they usually think that it's the end. It's the year you get to leave high school and start planning for the future. Before the seniors graduate, though, they have a bunch of important things to get accomplished.

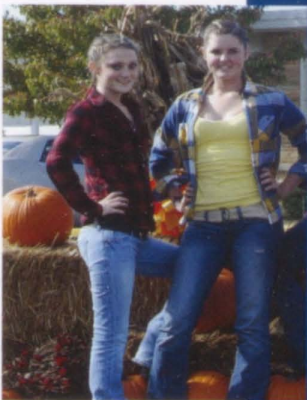

One enduring aspect of senior is the many traditions in which the seniors participate. The traditions vary in different schools, but our traditions usually consist of tailgating, painting up at football games, and dressing up intermittently. Charon Sutton explained, "The best thing about being a senior is all the traditions that I can actually participate in now. In my opinion, tailgating is the most fun senior tradition: it's a great time to hangout with friends and make unforgettable memories. I will never forget my senior year!"

A lot of seniors get involved in tailgating, but it's not the only thing seniors take part in. This year, the class of 2011 had unofficial days for dressing up, including College Day, Black-out Day, Farmer Day, Formal Day, and "Senior" Day. When Erin Bailey was asked about the new tradition, she said, "Every senior class tries to set themselves apart from all the other classes. This year, the Class of 2011 dressed up for our own days. Hopefully, we are remembered by the other classes, and our tradition gets carried down for a long time."

Senior year is a way to celebrate graduating high school by taking part in your school's activities and making your mark. After all, you're only a senior once, so try your best to make it count!

Physical education, or P.E, has a very important roll in the overall education of a student. Some might overlook the value of P.E class, thinking it's just a way to make an easy A, but studies show, the more active the student is, the better focused he or she is in are on the academic classes. Studies show that 32% of all children in America are obese or overweight. Those who get involved in some form of physical activity, whether it's an organized sport, a friendly game of bowling, or something as challenging as running a 7 minute mile, will

Scoring with Girls Soccer

This year, the girls soccer team had a bittersweet season. This year, they took steps into becoming a well-rounded, fundamental team! Many young players this season competed at a high level and are dedicated to making this program successful. The soccer team won seven games, and they played one of the hardest schedules they've had in eight years! Rebecca Taylor, one of the seniors, said, "All four years that I have played soccer have been great! The soccer field is a place that I can go to make my troubles fade away. I've met some of my best friends on the soccer field."

Abby Spitler, a captain since her sophomore year, was asked what it felt like to be a leader. She replied, "It feels good to be a leader on the field. I hope I have been a positive influence for my teammates through the years."

Second year player, Amber Barnes, said she has learned lots on the soccer field that she can apply to her life. Kirsten Cox said, "This year has been my first year ever playing soccer, and it has been amazing. I have made so many different friends, and we feel like family." The girls soccer team was like a sisterhood to all the girls. The soccer field is a like a getaway from all of life's troubles!

David and Goliath, George W. Bush and Al Gore, Wile E. Coyote and Roadrunner--rivalries have existed since the dawn of time. The victor always plunges ahead with his/her head held high, a feeling of satisfaction penetrating from the heart.

October 8, 2010, is a day that would go down in CCHS history. This day found students eager to get out of class early for a pep rally. The students left school that day pumped for the game that was soon to go down in history. This day found a stadium packed full of people of all ages decked out in blue and gold. Many students were ready for the victory. This day was the day the CCHS Jets football team beat the SMHS Panthers football team for the second year in a row. When asked about the tremendous victory, Jet quarterback Terryl Bowen stated,

"It felt great knowing that they couldn't stop our dominating offense, and our defense was so powerful that no Panther could get through it. If winning isn't everything, stay a Panther." Together, the students, faculty, and football team showed Crossville that CCHS is the true King of the Mountain!

As the game started to wind down and come to the last few seconds, everyone was up on their feet ready to rush onto the field and show our boys how proud we are of them.

The Lady Jets Softball team also calls the Lady Panthers its rival. Kate Vandlingham explained, "Victory over the Panthers is what we work hours and hours for every season. Beating that team would be the ultimate achievement for us as a team."

Rivalry on the Softball Field
"The Panthers are definitely our biggest rivals. Other than the District Tournament, the softball team looks forward to beating Stone every year. It's always a close game, so if we lose it just makes us work harder."

-Megan Crabtree

Jet Rush!
"The Stone/CCHS game was certainly the best game of the year. It was freezing, and I was screaming my head off, and I couldn't talk the next day, but when we rushed our rival's field, it was all worth it."

-Taylor Vaden

Teach Me How to Dougie

"After practicing my dance moves for the pep rally, I pulled out the big guns and shocked the crowd with my Dougie and robot. Thanks to me, the seniors beat their lowly rivals and won the dance battle!"

-Liz Christ

It's Tee Time

"The golf team here at CCHS would love to beat SMHS, our biggest rival. I'm going to perfect my swing, and by the time I'm a senior, they'll be toast."

-Logan Stewart

We'll Get 'Em Next Time

"When we traveled to Cookeville, FFA competed against all the other FFA chapters. We did our best, but we didn't beat our rivals in the end. It was Bruce's fault!"

-Craig McGraw

"To me, the beautiful scenery of the country is the most timeless part of fall."

Life Lessons on V-Wing

You can travel to V-Wing and find a variety of classrooms filled with students interested in everything from medicine to cooking a meal. Important life skills are taught and practiced during these classes--skills that will help those students on whatever path of life they choose.

V-Wing offers classes such as medical therapeutics and health science, taught by Mrs. Laura Gilpin, for those wanting to enter into the medical profession. You can find a class for computer applications and accounting, taught by Mrs. Gloria Dickerson, for those students who either want to work in an office setting or pursue a job in the technical field. Also offered is a marketing class, taught by Mrs. Judy York, where you might go to learn to start your own business or invent a new product. Culinary arts, taught by Mrs. Linda Kingston, would teach you the skills you need to become a chef or restaurant owner, while the family and consumer science class, taught by Mrs. Rachel Shoemaker, would help students learn basics like consumer buying, first aid, and banking.

The other benefits of choosing to take one of these classes are being able to join national organizations, such as DECA, HOSA, FBLA, and, FCCLA. You attend leadership conferences and participate in competitions to test your new skills. The main goal of V-Wing classes is to learn, develop skills, and, most importantly, have fun!

Samantha Miles uses what she learns on V-Wing as she reads to the kids at the Technology Center. "Reading was overall enjoyable. The kids were very attentive and fun. I really love interacting with them. It was a great experience!"

-Jaime Rector

Reading Rainbow

"Reading to the kids at the Technology Center really made me feel accomplished."

-Emily Hurley

Delicious

"Teaching culinary arts is a great avenue for the students to express creativity. We are decorating cupcakes for a teacher luncheon. The best part about it is that we get to eat the leftovers."

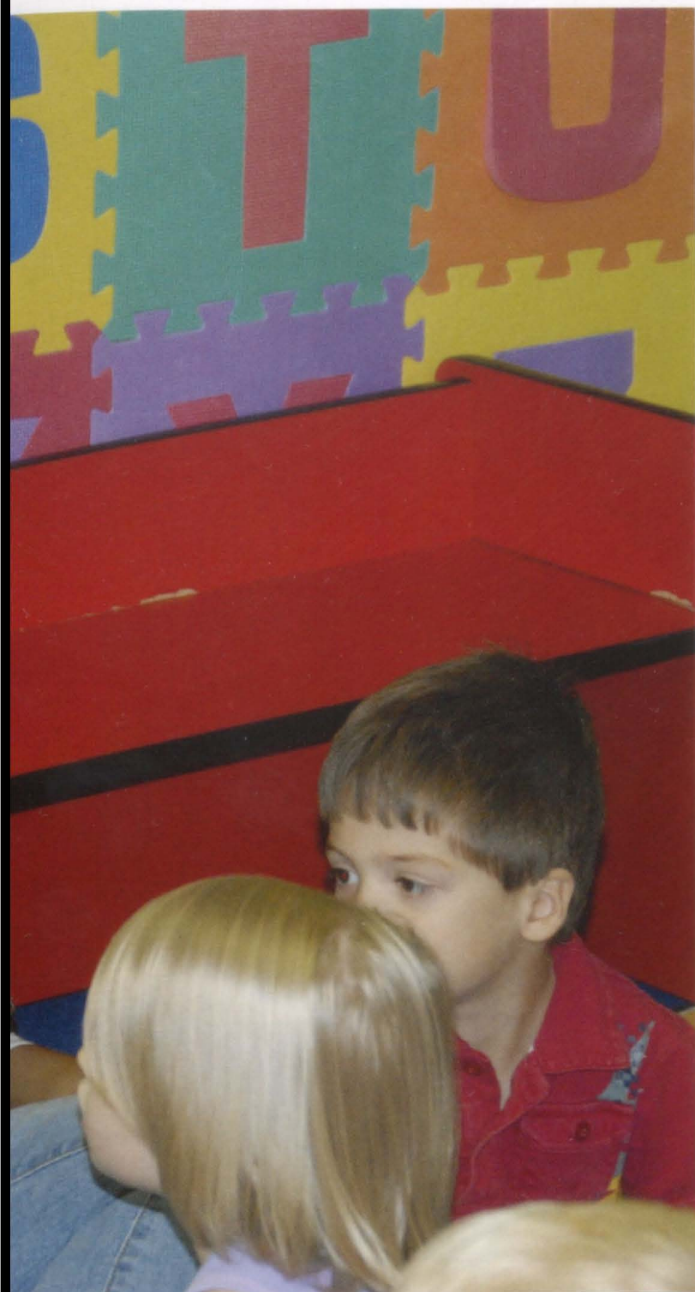

-Mrs. Kingston

Concentration

"It was really fun taking IV's with Jordan and Sadie in Mrs. Gilpin's class. You have to concentrate when you are doing it. Trust me, it's much harder than it looks!"

-Becky Scarbrough

Word of Advice

"Culinary arts has been great. It has been so much fun learning how to cook and learning how a food service environment works. You get to do a variety of cooking activities, like fixing meals in a real kitchen, and you can eat it after you get done cooking it. I strongly advise all students to take this class if you haven't."

-Austin Patterson

Neurosurgery
"When I graduate, I want to be a neurosurgeon, so I'm trying to get all the help I can in Mrs. Gilpin's medical therapeutics. She makes the class interesting and exciting."

-Abi Stone

Super Nursel

"Teaching health science is a joy that never stops giving. It's a fun class to teach, and I hope to do it for many more years to come!"

-Mrs. Gilpin

Talk, Talk, Talk

"My favorite thing to do in health science is to learn all the interesting stuff there is to know about the medical field and bug-ging Becca Monday."

-Johnathan Koch

Computer Apps

"I took computer applications, not only because it's required, but it looked interesting, and it's fun to work/play on a computer for the whole class period."

-Sharon Ulloa

Cute Bags!

"My favorite activity we did in family and consumer science would have to be when we made the duffel bags. Mrs. Shoemaker makes it very interesting and a lot of fun. This class will also help me further my education in becoming a teacher."

-Rebecca Forte

"To me, watching NBA when it finally starts is the most timeless part of fall."

-Zack Gabbert

Stepping Up the Act with Performing Arts

What would the world be like if we didn't have theatre and choir? There is not a day that goes by in the 21st century that the world is not surrounded by performing arts. Whether it's on the your radio, TV, cellphone, or music player, it's always there. To some people, getting in front of a group to act, sing, or even speak is nerve-wracking. To those who do, it's like a dream come true, getting to become what they only dreamed they could. The people on this page may be amateurs right now, but one of these days, they may be the ones you see on TV and listen to on your radio.

Theatre is a great way to meet friends. Brittani Allen commented, "My character in this play and the way I act on an everyday basis are pretty similar. Basically, I am incredibly sarcastic and like to hit Tyler Flack." Sara Brown said, "Theatre arts was a spectacular thing to do. We were able to be ourselves without having to worry about people saying anything. I learned more about what goes into a product."

Choir is also a very special performing art. Allie Lallo, "Choir is amazing! You can use music to express yourself and your feelings. You make people feel the meaning behind the lyrics. There is so much more to music than people probably realize."

-Korinthya Smith

Give A Little Bit

"I love to sing because music is always all around us. Seeing how far we've come this semester has made me sad for the fact that the class had to end so soon. I will miss everyone I met in there, especially our amazing and giving teacher!"

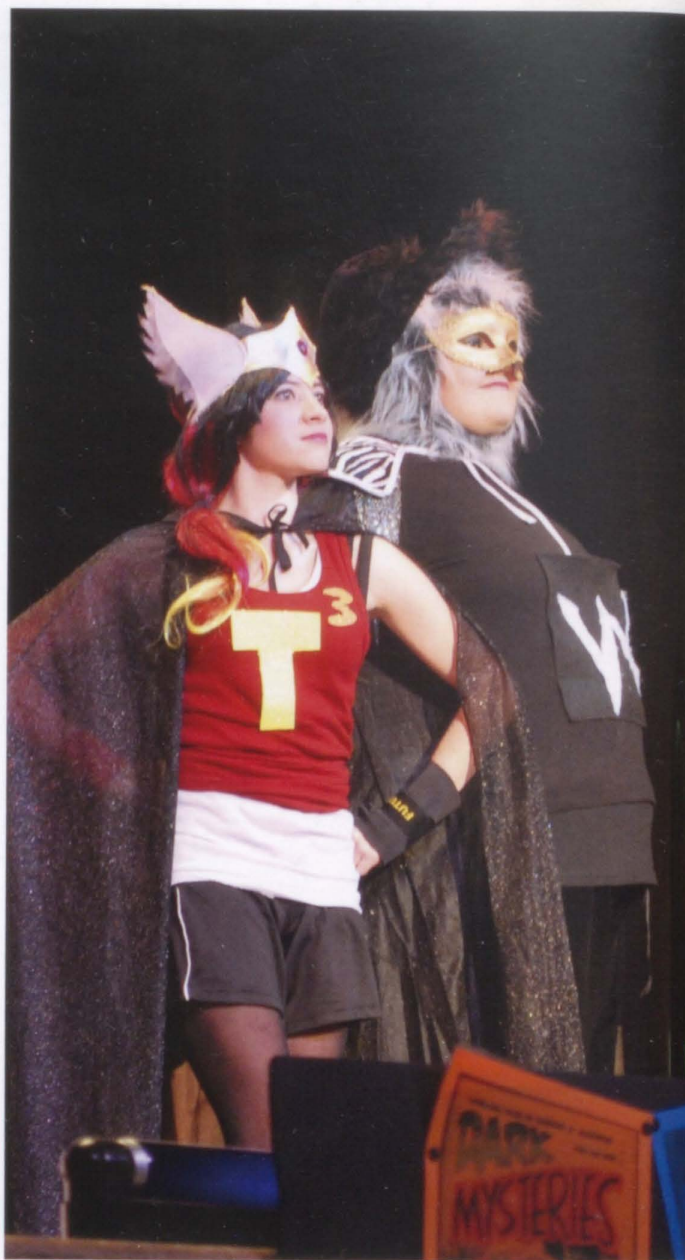

-Laken DeHart

Good vs. Evil

"I loved my part in the Comic Book play. It allowed me to bring out my inner evil side, which I never do because I'm a good kid.... usually."

-Ricardo Bolivar

Sing and Dance

"Choir class is always fun. We always sing and dance. We never have a boring moment."

-Teia Hutchens

Two is Better Than One
 "When we sing in class, we enjoy singing together rather than apart because it sounds better."
 -Harley Dotson

Center Stage
 "In Calhoun Cahootz, the character I played was Miss Kitty. Even though she is far from what I am in real life, I had a great time portraying her. I could finally let people call me a red head!"
 -Fiona Retzer

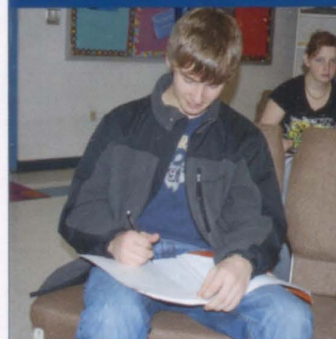

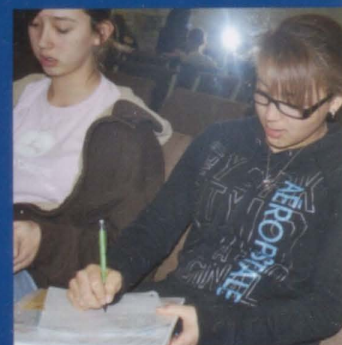

Prep Time
 "Before Comic Book Artist, like before every other show, I had to give myself a talk to get pumped for the performance. Perhaps that even includes making faces at myself. Don't judge me! It helped me get into the character of Star Boy."
 -Tyler Flack

Behind the Scenes
 "Being the narrator, there was a lot of time between my scenes. Behind the curtain, I would help my fellow actors with their lines or costume malfunctions. I would definitely recommend everyone trying acting at least once!"
 -Reggie Morton

Higher and Higher
 "In vocal music class, we sing quite a few songs. I'm always trying to hit the high notes."
 -Marina Taylor

Lots of Fun
 "Vocal music is awesome! We are always singing and having fun. It's a blast."
 -Dylan Qualls

No Longer Scared
 "Choir is extraordinarily fun. It makes you brave and not scared to sing in front of people."
 -Kimberly Norris

Think Priscilla
 "Miss Priscilla is the character I played in Who Killed Calhoun Cahootz. She made me feel like a different person because I am nothing like her. But her costumes were fantastic!"
 -Abi Claflin

"To me, the way the trees change colors is the most timeless part of fall."

-Ben Guder

Thinking Outside of the English Book

English class is sometimes thought of as boring or unimportant to some, but here at CCHS, we are privileged to have great English classes and teachers. The students are almost always excited and willing to get involved and learn something new. When asked about his class, Zach Young said, "English class can be fun, and I always enjoy going to fourth block. The class has a lot of great chemistry, and we have an amazing teacher". The English classes are always working hard on exciting assignments and activities. One of English 12's favorite activities was reading Hamlet. When talking about teaching the book to her class Mrs. Filler said, "I had a blast teaching Hamlet to my senior class this year. They really showed a big interest in the story, which made it a lot easier for me to teach them one of Shakespeare's finest." Nick Harper said, "English class this year has been pretty great. I love being able to do group activities after we finish reading a story because that is the time I can talk to my friends and get their help and opinion on my work." Other classes also have enjoyed reading and learning about Shakespeare this year. English 11 read Shakespeare's Macbeth. "At first, Macbeth was hard for me to get into and understand, but with the help of my teacher and classmates, I figured everything out, and I actually really enjoyed reading the book. It was very interesting how they wrote and spoke back then!" Skylar Goodwin said.

-Lauren Davis

Picture Perfect Letter

"The Scarlet Letter is a pretty good book. The scarlet letter I have to wear is the letter "O." It stands for omniscient. It means all-knowing.

I picked that because my friends say that I know more stuff than I should know. I do not necessarily believe this, but it is very interesting that they think so. I love The Scarlet Letter and my friends."

-Kimber Falls

Helpers and Friends

"The best part about English as a senior is that I have my two best friends, Carlie and Trista, in class to help me. During group activities, we usually have some time to have fun and act goofy. We especially enjoyed Hamlet!"

-Bre Cotter

Cracking Up

"The thing that I love the most about English is that I have a great teacher. She always has funny jokes to tell us to keep us awake! I also loved that this year was when we learned about Hamlet. It ended so tragically!"

-Heaven Moss

Dreaming of English

"English class is lots of fun. I loved reading Hamlet and doing the projects that accompanied it. My books occasionally make great pillows during the group activities we do. I get tired easy."

-Carlie Davis

Keeping Secrets

"What happens in English class, stays in English class. That is all the information I can give."

-Andrew Wyatt

Gigantic Book

"The hardest part of English is that we have to get a huge literature book this year. We read a lot!"

-Connor Crentz

Group Projects

"My favorite part about English class is that we get to do group projects with our friends."

-Rebecca Taylor

The Scarlet Letter

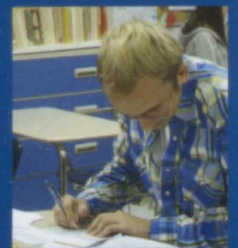

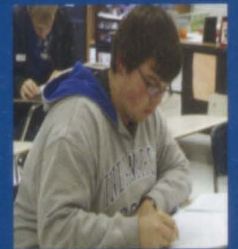

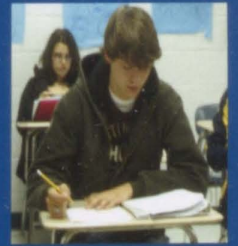

"It's supercalifragilisticexpialidocious. Mrs. Atkins was very enjoyable, and she taught me many things."

-Joshua Linville

Hard-headed

"My letter stands for stubborn, and I just enjoyed the whole story of the Scarlet Letter."

-Cyann Davis

"To me, the dying trees and crunchy leaves were the most timeless part of fall."

-Kendra Gill

Firstdowns for JV Football

The hot sun glared down on the Cumberland County High School Jets football field while the JV team practiced during the summer. These tough guys practiced for hours at a time to prepare for their first season of high school football. They worked hard to improve their game not only for the 2010 season, but also for the next four years to come. This year was just the beginning for these new Jets.

In the last few years, the Jets have had it rough, but this year they tried their hardest and improved greatly. Each and every member of the team can say his game has improved, and he has learned a lot this season.

The coaches for the Cumberland County High School Jets push every athlete on the team to work as hard he can to win the game. When asked what was one of the best aspects of playing for CCHS, Taylor Galloway replied, "In my opinion, football is the greatest sport, and the greatest part of playing it at Cumberland County High School is the coaches. They really pushed the team to do their best this year."

By: Peyton Zeino

Movin' On Up

"Playing football my freshman year was a great experience, and I can't wait for the next three years."

-Colton Dykes #13

Incredible Experience

"My first year playing football for CCHS was an incredible experience. I had a lot of fun with my teammates and learned so much from my coaches. I am looking forward to playing again next year."

-Zakkry King #10

Playing with Heart

"Our coaches have taught us a lot. Looking back, I can tell that we are now a better team. We play with heart."

-Tyler Norris #27

Accomplishments

"I love any contact sport, so tackling is my favorite part of football. It makes me feel like I accomplished something when I hear the crowd cheer for us."

-Dylan Reineking #15

Heisman Trophy Pose

"I guess real athletes are the ones who pose the Heisman Trophy pose when they are running to score the winning touchdown."

-Eric Telles #5

Stay Gold

"Being a football player is important to me. I know, if it's possible, that I want to be a part of the CCHS team all four years. I love blue and gold!"

-Tre McCloud #32

Touchdown!

"Scoring touchdowns is what I do. The team helps me out as much as possible. When everyone tries their hardest, we always win."

-Dorian Holt #25

Toughest Players Around

"At the Stone game, I had to make sure the path was clear for Zakkry, so he could score a touchdown. I do whatever I can to help my teammates during the game. I am proud of myself for working so hard. I know that the Jets, as a team, are the toughest players around."

-James Taylor #72

Childhood Ambition

"I've played football since I was a little boy. I am so glad that I am finally playing for CCHS. It is what I've wanted to do ever since I first started playing."

-A.J. Dick #24

"To me, having a tasty meal with my big family is the most timeless part of fall."

-Megan Wright

Pre-Race Anxiety

"Before a game, you get nervous. But once the gun goes off, you focus on the race. Pre-race, we do our short sprints, stretches, and goof off a little bit to loosen up."

-Landon Crawford

Time After Time

"We always pray before a race. It's calming and bonds us together. Sometimes, people from other schools join us. It's a great tradition for the team."

-Ryan Bedgood

Give a Little More

"I was just concentrating on giving everything I had and trying to get a new personal record. It was good to have someone that could push me to do my best."

-Matthew Pennycuff

Pain and Gain

"Cross country is a difficult sport because you have to stay motivated constantly, but it's worth the pain. I'm so proud to be a member of our outstanding team!"

-Caroline Cravens

Running with Cross Country

"Ability is what you are capable of doing. Motivation determines what you do. Attitude determines how well you do it." This quote by Lou Holtz is printed on the back of all of the CCHS cross country team members' navy blue tee shirts they wear before a race. These motivational words inspire each and every athlete on the team. Runner Shane McCloud said, "The purpose of the shirt was to compare the words. A lot of people get them confused."

Dimi Iles finished her last mile, and made it clear that she was ready to finish. "This was the most challenging race of the season, in my opinion. The hills were crazy! The beginning was really awesome because we got to jump over a hay bale. It was a beautiful course, so there was a lot to look at to block out the pain."

Running for a sport is not for everyone. Most sports do involve running, such as soccer, but not at the level these athletes practice. Just like Lou Holtz said, ability, motivation, and attitude are the three key ingredients to succeeding in life.

By: Sydney Delves

Four Seasons

"Cross country is a challenging sport that takes a lot of endurance to run for several miles without stopping. Whether it's blazing hot or freezing with snow, we still run. It was a great reward to go to state this year."
-Tyler Bennett

The Winner Is...

"I remember wondering if I was going the wrong way since I was the only one around, but then I heard people cheering my name and telling me I won! It was the best feeling! The only thing I wanted to do after the race was go eat."
-Kayla Daniell

"To me, raking and jumping in leaves is the most timeless part of fall."

Football Homecoming 2010

Homecoming is an old tradition started a century ago to bring the spirit out in the students. The memories that homecoming week creates will last a lifetime.

Everyone gets into the school spirit. The dress-up days, being the favorite of the students, really gets the different classes into a friendly competition. This is a time for the school to come together as one. The dress-up days give the students a chance to show their creativity, the pep rallies give the cheerleaders a chance to dazzle the school with their athletic moves, the parade gives the school a chance to show the town how much spirit we have, and the big game at the end of the week gives our football players a chance to show everyone what they are made of.

All the students and faculty go to the big football game to cheer on our Jets, which led them to a victory. Morgan Delong stated, "The parade was a lot of fun because I got to walk with HOSA and pass out candy to all the little kids."

These events all led up to a stunning win on the part of the Jets football team. It was a great night and week for all that were involved.

The F-un Wing

F-wing is the high school's most hands on, if-we-are-not-having-a-good-time-then-why-are-we-doing-this wing. This is where all of the agricultural, engineering, construction, automotive, photography, and year-book classes are located. Teachers on this wing teach students valuable life lessons and skills. These classes are never contained to a classroom. Whether students are in the garage working on a vehicle, in the greenhouse watering and caring for plants, out and about taking pictures of interesting people and getting quotes, or building models of bridges, there is not wasted time.

Jacqueline Maynard fondly remembered, "On this particular day, we were learning about how to pot plants. We had tons of fun. Chris and I had fun getting our hands dirty by working with plants." Chris Richards agreed by saying, "We had a lot of fun in Mr. Lowe's greenhouse class." The agriculture classes sell poinsettias every fall. It is a great fundraiser so that the students can take trips and attend conferences.

All in all, F-wing vocational classes teach students to do things that they would have had to learn to do on their own once they entered the world. Preparing kids for their lives as adults is what all teachers strive for, and these classes are much more hands on than most. Mr. Wanamaker says, "The biggest mistake a kid could make would be to not take a class on F-wing at least once during their high school career."

-Karli Threet

F-Wing Classes at Work

"Supervision of the students who worked on the stadium project was difficult at times, but the wall turned out great. We are proud of the students that helped."

-Mr. Atkinson

"Even it was a blast combining Mrs. Philip's English class with Mr. Wanamaker's class to shoot rockets, I just wish mine would have worked because that was one of my favorite activities."

-Kirsten Turner

"This project was very fun, and I was surprised when the bridge actually broke from the weight of the sand in the bucket."

-Hayden Smith

"Having Mr. Lowe for greenhouse was incredibly fun. He was a great teacher and taught me bunches."

-Cassie Marsh

Winter 2010-2011

by Cassie Wyatt

The year is finally coming to a close. Steaming hot chocolate, mistletoe hung within the entrance of every home's hallways, and Northface jackets bring about the season of winter. A glistening, icy, white blanket covers the ground and makes that warmth of a fireplace feel better than anything. The months of winter are filled with the hustle and bustle of final exams and projects, endless review games in every classroom, relatives flying in from across the states, and the most anticipated holiday of the year—Christmas. Spirituality really stands out due to the Christmas season, and happiness is like an outbreak of the flu that everyone suddenly is captivated with.

However, this winter season was very unique and plans to take the dreaded final exams were uprooted a bit when a snow storm hit Crossville. Dozens of churches were called off on Sunday morning, and the snow was so swiftly accumulating that afternoon that the School Board promptly called off school for Monday. Massive accumulations and continuing snow and ice pushed school to be closed almost all week; Friday was the exception. While the administrators had planned for students to take third block exams, the weather once again thwarted plans. Exams were postponed again and students were extremely relieved to receive an early break on December 17th. Every body's mind set went from exams and stress to playing in the snow.

The little kid in every one of us comes out, whether you are a freshman, senior, or any individual in between. As for Brandon Wyatt, his favorite part of winter is getting to go hunting; although, he also anticipates the morning of Christmas where his family celebrates the holiday with a lot of eating with family members and of course, opening presents. His most favorite gift this year was his Xbox 360 with Kinect where he can virtually interact with technology.

Students began his/her new year in the same classes as the year before with final exams on the desks in front of them. Despite the freezing temperatures the accompany the winter season and the tremendous amount of snow days to be made up, students were optimistic and focus on the upcoming spring.

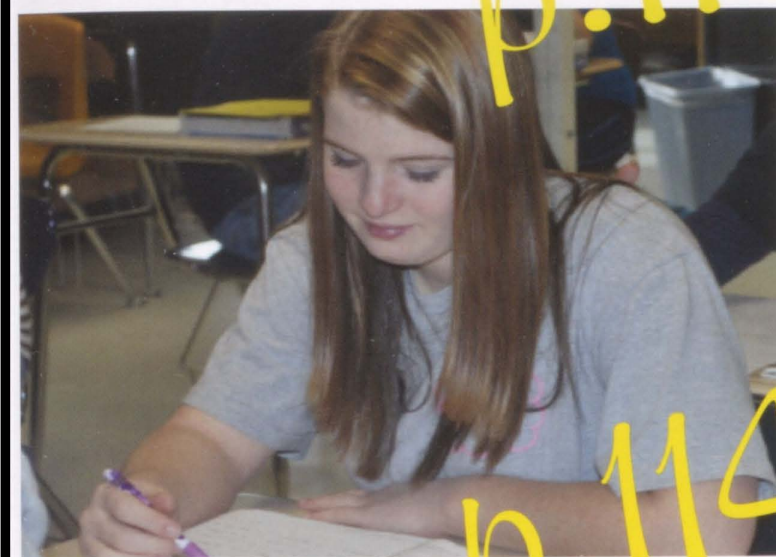

Let It Snow, Let It Snow, Let

It Snow

"My trip to Snowshoe Resort in West Virginia was so amazing and awesome. Snowboarding is my favorite thing to do, and I was really blessed to be able to take this trip with my wonderful friend. The snow there was so pretty, and I had a blast. I plan to go back during the time I have off for spring break, and I can not wait."

Experimenting in Science 101

"Upon entering my freshman year, it seemed that I would be swallowed by the sea of the unknown that surrounded me. My schedule, the tons of new faces, and all of the decades-old horror stories of the teachers seemed to be the scariest, most daunting experience of my life. However, when I walked into my second block classroom and saw Mrs. Brewer's friendly face, I somehow knew I would love her class, and this place that had always seemed so frightening. I'm so glad that I got placed into Mrs. Brewer's science class. She is an amazing teacher. My most favorite part of her class was doing experiments. I know high school will be amazing now. Thank you, Mrs. Brewer."

"The 10-11' Lady Jet basketball season saw a roster that included only four seniors. The varsity level playing experience that the younger classmen received throughout this season will be invaluable to our program in the future. With every new season and new coach comes transition and I truly believe that as the basketball season progressed, so did the Lady Jets. I could not ask for a harder-working group of young ladies to represent our community, school, and the Lady Jet basketball program. I am extremely proud of them and the character that they exhibit."

Entering the World of Foreign Language--Español, Français, and Deutsch

Have you ever heard of linguistics? Linguistics is the study of the human language. Here at Cumberland County High School, our foreign language department strives to go above and beyond. Three different foreign languages are taught here: French, Spanish, and German. The teachers always try to make some of the less interesting parts of the languages fun, with games and other activities. According to Abi Stone, "In Spanish, Mrs. Hall lets us play games to learn our vocabulary words. We play bingo, musical chairs, and this game with a ball and a Velcro dartboard. When you score points, you receive a certain amount of extra credit for tests. Ms. Hall finds fun and interesting ways to teach Spanish."

Devin Allen equally enjoys taking French. He commented, "I love taking French. It's a great way to learn, have fun, and meet new people!" Travis Sietsema is in Spanish class, and he stated, "Being in Mrs. Hall's Spanish 2 class is really awesome. There's never a boring day, and I always learn something new."

Some students even exceed the recommended two foreign language classes and take on independent studies. Currently, Spanish 3 and 4, French 3 and 4, and German classes are offered independently. -Joey Bynum

Daily Pieces of Foreign Culture

"Senora Grenz's class is one of the coolest teachers ever. I am so glad she's my Spanish teacher, and I'm going to miss her next year when I'm a junior."
-Coco Bennett

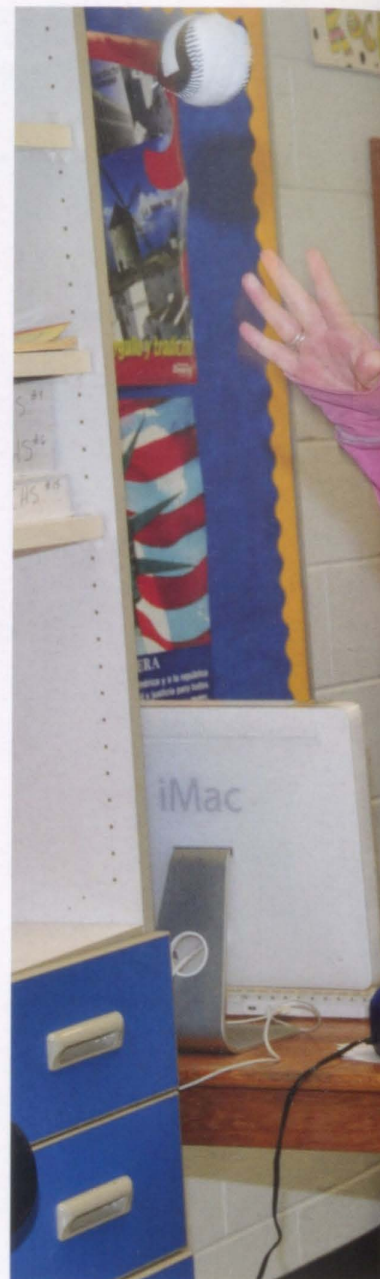

"In this class, we were discussing diversity positives and negatives. We usually do discussion every day if we have time."
-Mr. Alva

Rampaging Remedy

"During matches, I like to think about music. It keeps me feeling calm and focused. My favorite band to listen to before I wrestle is Slipknot. Their music is hardcore and loud, which I like."

-Seth Zarzycki

"I'm like an animal when I wrestle. I have no fears and I'm quick on my feet. My opponent is like my prey."

-Robby Phillips

"I've been wrestling for two years now. In these two years, I've learned a lot about discipline and concentration. This is a great way to end my senior year."

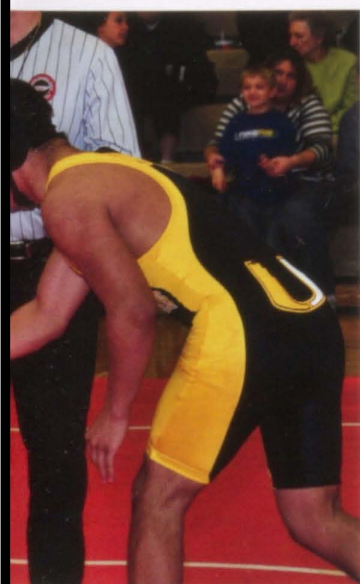

-Andrew Eller

Winning with Wrestling

The 2010-2011 wrestling season has been up and down. This could be expected with the youth of this year's squad. We had only two seniors returning this year. Andrew Eller at 140 pounds and Robby Phillips at 171 pounds have had good senior seasons, and we expect that to continue the remainder of the year. Six sophomores backed these two seniors to form the nucleus of our squad. Anthony Giattino at 125, Cody Caruthers at 135 pounds and Joshua Murner at 145 pounds have had outstanding seasons. Jett Blackwood at 160, Travis Harbert at 130, and John Rowe, who suffered a season-ending injury, have improved during the year. Along with these wrestlers, we have six freshmen who round out our squad. Timmy Billings at 285, Zeth Bolin at 215, Seth Zarzycki at 152, Jacob Calabrese at 119, Dorian Holt at 140, and Haylin Ethridge at 125, our only female wrestler, have been working hard and have shown a lot of improvement. With the number of wrestlers coming back next year, the future looks bright. With a good off-season program and the addition of next years freshmen class, our numbers should continue to grow.

Like A Boss

"Making weight was hard, but winning was definately worth it. I like to win, and I win a lot. It takes a lot of work to be as good as I am, and not a lot of people can do it."

-Anthony Giattino

As Good As Gold

"When you're on the mat, you have to think above what your opponent knows. You have to be faster, stronger, and smarter than him. You also have to be in great shape, so in wrestling off season, I play football. It really helps out."

-Dorian Holt

Winter Vacations

Ready for Summer

"I hate the cold and miss the summer weather. All this snow is terrible! I'm ready for the long summer days."

-Heather Sanders

Vacationing in places like Florida, the Bahamas, and the Caribbean islands is becoming increasingly popular during winter because people don't like the snow and cold. The beaches and oceans are a more popular place to be during the winter, instead of being at home in the snow.

But some think otherwise. They would rather stay at home because they either enjoy the snow or don't want to be away from family and friends for that long. Being with your friends over winter break is a plus for most people.

Others would even go so far as to visit even colder places for the holidays, like Michigan or even Canada. They like the snow and enjoy activities like skiing, snowboarding, and other winter hobbies that can't be done in hot, tropical places.

Students enjoyed the extra snow this year because they got to miss school, stay at home in their pajamas, and sleep in late. Going out and enjoying the cold weather and then going back inside to warm up with a nice warm cup of steaming hot chocolate is always pleasant over break.

While most people like travel out of state, go to exotic locations, or visit family and friends, some would rather stay warm in the comfort of their own homes. "Winter vacation is a great time for me to just kick back and relax. I enjoy not having to worry about doing homework or studying for a test. With all our snow days off this year, it was nice to return to school, though," said Stacey Daniels.

Snowed In

"The week we were out of school for snow, we got snowed in at the Kerley's. We had 16 kids, 4 sleds, 5 four-wheelers, and a bedliner. Nonetheless we all went home sore, but it was a blast. I love my best friends."

-Lauren Sliger

Christmas Time

"The snow is always the best part of winter. Being with my friends and family makes it even better. The main thing I like about winter vacation is the birth of Jesus."

-Justin Dye

Bring on the Snow

"I graduate May 19th no matter what, and I have no plans for spring break, so bring on the snow! That is all I have to say."

-Sadie Shadden

Soak Up The Sun

"I went on a cruise to the Bahamas with my best friend for the winter break. It was great to be in the tropics knowing it was snowing back home."

-Terra Votaw

Easy Sleeping

"My winter vacation was so much fun. Sleeping in everyday definitely got easy to do. Going sledding and four-wheeler riding with my family and Cassie Judkins was an experience. Winter break was fun, but I really am ready for summer."

-Rachel Geer

"To me, watching the snow is the most timeless part of winter."

Directing the Marching Band

Anytime you walked past the band room at Cumberland County High School in the 2010-2011 school year, you would have probably heard the sound of Bon Jovi's "Living on a Prayer." You would have heard the light sound of the flutes reaching the signature high notes of the song and the strong base from the drum line, keeping the band on beat. Freshman newcomer, Crystal Clark, and colorguard member, Jasmin Burgess, agreed, "I didn't really like Bon Jovi when I first joined the band, but now I love them!"

Not just music was made in the band, but also amazing memories with great friends were created. Brittney Young and Bryan Kutchey bonded while discussing everything from their common love for playing clarinets to which dress she was going to wear for winning Band Sweetheart.

The CCHS band made their beautiful music they created seem easy to perform, but it was quite opposite. Deanna Sola, quad drum player, said, "We obviously play music at our daily practice, but we also have to learn choreography. It can be hard, especially since I can't see my feet with my instrument."

With a new band director, costumes with feathery hats to wear, and music to learn, the Jets Band pulled off each and every show with a grace that cannot be put into words.

Learning for Life

"Marching band is one of my favorite parts of school. I have learned so much, and I will miss it when graduation comes around."

-Grace Allred, Tenor Saxophone

Music Appreciation

"Being drum major was my favorite part of band this year. Don't get me wrong, it was a challenge due to all the drama and long hours of practice, but it was awesome being in charge. It feels great to do such an important job. I have learned to appreciate music as a whole so much more."

-Ryne Morton, Drum Major

Spark of All Trades

"I vastly enjoy playing trumbone and by extension, band. I am also a section leader and maintenance guy. I am just a 'Spark of all trades.'"

-Caleb Sparks, Trumbone

Never Change

"I've been playing the tuba for six years. I always had a secret wish to play the trumpet, but I would never change instruments as of this year."

-Daniel Parsons, Tuba

Own Species of Kids

"The kids in band, well, they are their own species. The more people that join, the more fun we have because of the diversity of the group."

-Kelly Owens, Trumpet

Final Showing

"Even though band is difficult, I love being in the band. Practicing hard all year is worth it for our amazing final show! GO JETS!"

-Abbey Green, Flute

After-Game Waffles

"The thoughts that go through my head before a game include tripping, messing up, and making waffles after the game. I love waffles!"

-Drake Parrot, Clarinet

Red Power Ranger

"Sometimes it is so hard to take our drum major, Ryne, seriously. He tries to be strict, but he just cannot. We have made up some nicknames for him, like red Power Ranger!"

-Stephanie Essex, Flute

Band of Gold

"Colorguard kind of chose me. It was an impulse to join the band when I was a freshman, but I am so glad I did. Being named captain was a great surprise to start out my junior year!"

-Shalee Sapp, Colorguard Captain

"To me, singing Christmas carols is the most timeless part of winter."

-Wesley Akin

Electrons, Neutrons, and Protons! Oh My!

When anyone mentions science, most people think that it will automatically be a boring class that is going to be endured rather than enjoyed. Even though students are required to take biology and chemistry in high school, the teachers always find a way to make it fun and a way to make students remember things. According to Erin Bailey, "Chemistry 2 is pretty fun. We get to play with fire and make chemical changes. My favorite event has to be lighting a penny on fire. It pretty much just melted. Chemistry is certainly not banal." Our teachers are incredibly dedicated to what they do in the science department. Ms. Jill Lay has been teaching for 32 years. "Taking anatomy and kinesiology in college made me want to teach science courses. I will continue to teach as long as I am healthy and feel like I have something to offer students and enjoy them as much as I do now."

-Karli Threet

Agriscience Experiments

"Agriscience experiments are entertaining because we get to learn and have fun doing hands-on projects at the same time."

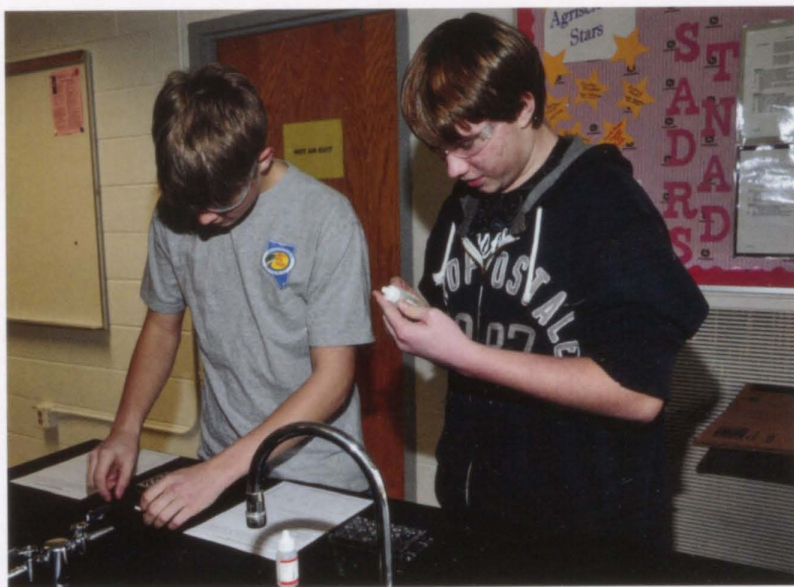

-Reid Guthrie

Different Substances

"I was blowing bubbles for Mrs. Smith's chemistry class. The purpose was to find out the difference between bubble substances. I did get the results that I was looking for because we had to come up with a hypothesis beforehand."

-Kelsey Lewis

Growing Pains

"In agriscience, we were clipping off plants for them to continue growing. It was an interesting way to learn about the environment."

-Lily Brown

A Little Bit at a Time

"I really enjoy this agriculture class because it is fun and interesting, but we also learn quite a bit each day."

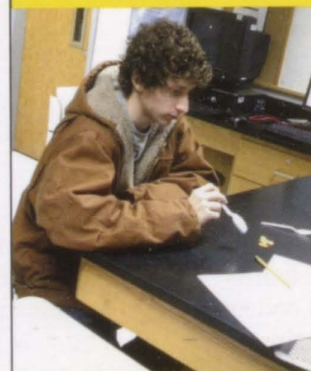

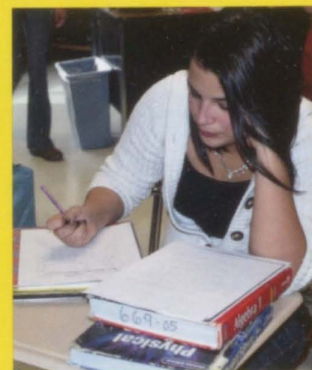

-Hayden Smith

Scientifically Timeless

Friends in Class

"My favorite thing about science class is the friends that I have in there. They make my day so much better."

-Michele Harness

Tragic Lab

"This was the 'Tragedy of the Commons' experiment. We were supposed to learn about preservation for future generations."

-Todd Wisor

Under the Apple Tree

"I enjoy Mrs. Brewer's science class. It was fun, and I learned about Sir Isaac Newton."

-Zach Smith

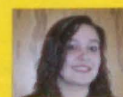

Instead of Just Reading

"I really enjoy Mrs. Brewer's class. I like that instead of us just reading the book, she lets us do experiments such as this one when we measured speed."

-Ivy Luttrell

"To me, snow days are the most timeless part of winter."

-Allison Wilso

Friends Forever
 "My best friend, Cierra Lawson, is also like my sister. I really don't know what I would do without her in my life."
 -Brittany Giattino

Crazy Friends
 "So we are a bit insane, at times genius, and most of the time out there, but we are best friends and have been since Kelsey moved in next door to me."
 -Hannah Profit

Two Peas in a Pod
 "My sister, Taylor Moss, and I are like two peas in a pod. We are pretty much inseparable. We do everything together. Not only is she my sister, but she is also my best friend. I don't know what I would do without her."
 -Heaven Moss

Two's Company
 "Tabatha Stephens has been the best friend that I could have ever asked for. I love her to pieces. We have got through a lot together."
 -Jessica Meadows

Creative Friends

"Cassie and I have been best friends since Freshman year. We absolutely love to take pictures, the more creative and random the better the picture as we always say. I can't wait 'til college when we will be roommates and be able to spend even more time as best friends together."

-Frances Marasigan

"F" Is For Friends

"We're the best of friends, practically sisters. You will always see us together no matter what. We will always have a smile on our faces."

-Savanna Frazee

Just Like Sisters

"We have had five years of good times and bad, but every minute was worth it. We love each other like sisters and we wouldn't change it for anything. I could not ask for a better friend than Lydia Emery."

-Emily Lowe

Best Friends and Good Family

High school doesn't last forever, but best friends and family are for a lifetime. These are the special people in your life that you can feel comfortable with to either laugh or cry with. They are there for you through thick and thin. "Candace Moore and I have been best friends since kindergarten. She asked me if she could be my friend and I said no, but we ended up being friends anyway. Look at us now, still the best of friends. She has always been there for me. From sleepovers to being in school, we are always together no matter what," said Chaylin Dyer. Friends and family are also there for you to get you through any hardships in your life and help you see the light at the end of the tunnel.

Friends can feel like family at times as well. Sydney Shenesky said, "My best friend, Megan Wright, is like my sister. She knows exactly how I am feeling without me even having to tell her. I know I can trust her with anything I say."

The friends you make throughout high school will become the most important part of your life, most of the time you don't even see it coming. Truly great friends are hard to find, but once you have them it is impossible to let them out of your life.

A great friend or family member is someone that knows everything about you and can still accept you for who you are. Alyshia Styles remarked, "My best friend, Rachel Geer, can drive me crazy at times, but at the end of the day I still love her to death."

Many different types of friendships can be made throughout your lifetime, but you will always know the best ones from the good ones. A good friendship can truly enhance a person's sense of happiness.

Striking with Bowling

So far this season the Cumberland County High School boys bowling team has posted a 1 and 11 record. Overall, the boys bowling team is very young. Four freshmen have joined this school year: Dune Bennett, Steven Dixon, K.J. Smith, and Anthony Pippin. Veterans Tyler Walton, senior, and Andrew Waldo, junior, are leading the team.

The girls bowling team consists of mainly upper classmen. Coach Taylor said the girls are having a much better season, and they have been very competitive in every game! This year they have played more as a team instead of just playing for themselves. The bond the team has together is obvious, especially during practice. They joke and laugh between turns, encourage each other, and as a whole, show how a small team can really have a big heart."

Senior bowling team member, Tyler Walton, once said, "Bowling is a whole lot of fun. It takes the stress from the day away."

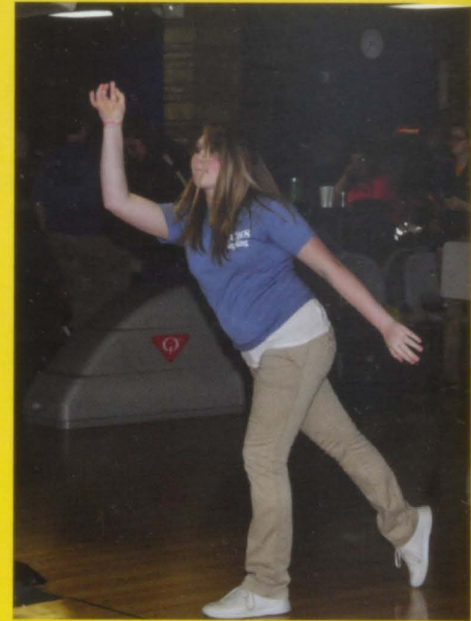

Bowling is a game of a certain level of skill that not everyone has. But this group of students shows that they have that skill! Our bowling team shows its Jet Pride and sportmanship during every game.

By: Cole VanHorn

Payback

"Bowling is fun and easy for me. You can get scholarships and get to travel. I've played for two years now, and I've really enjoyed it."

-Heather Ewing

Suprise, Suprise

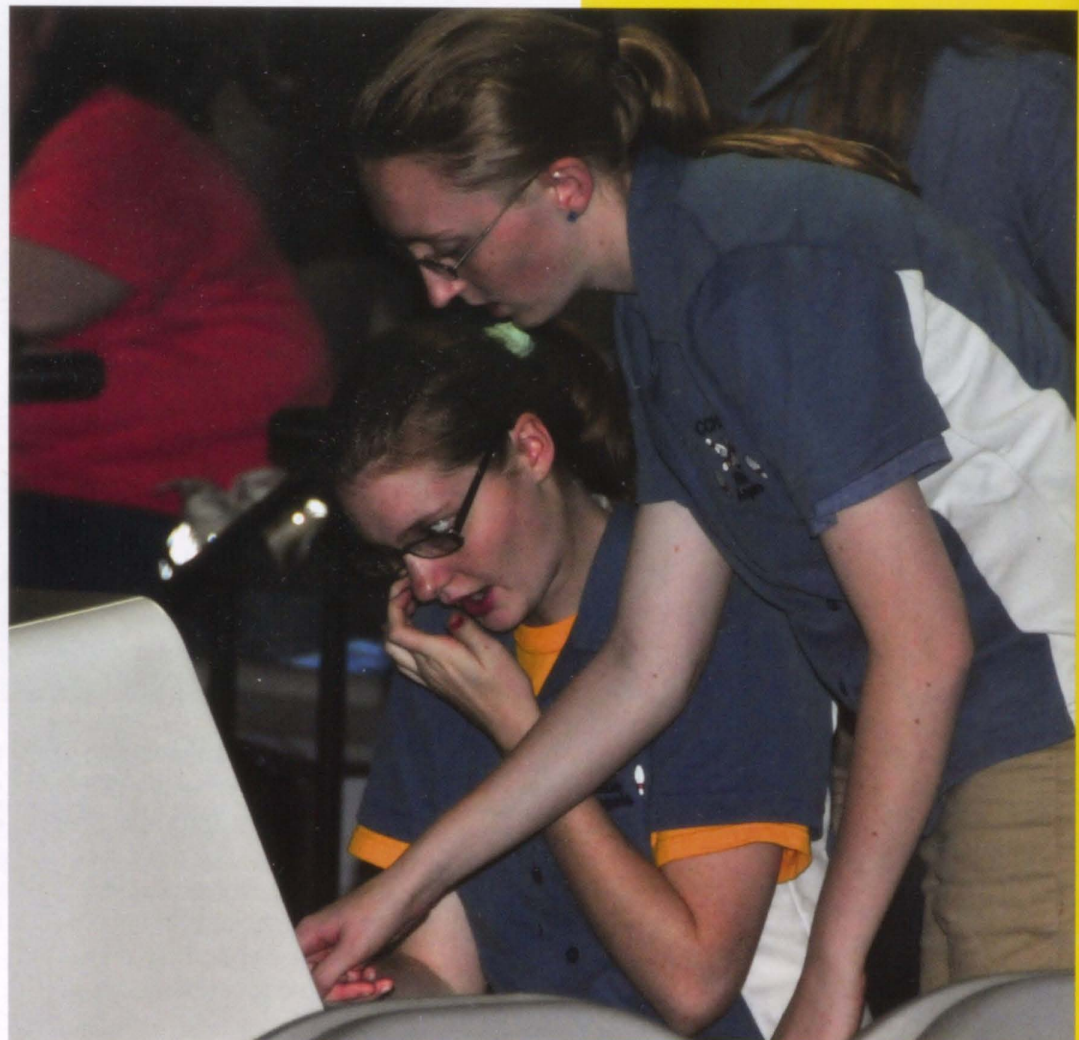

"When I first started bowling, I thought it was going to be boring. But as the season went on, I found out how awesome it was! I can't wait until next year."

-Anthony Pippin

Sister Act

"Our relationship as sisters and as friends has grown a lot over the season."

-Sarah Damron

Coaching

"Mr. Taylor knows a lot about bowling. He's a great coach. I'm excited to play for the rest of my high school career. It's a lot of fun."

-Dune Bennett

Busy Bee

"We practice two days a week or so. And on the days we didn't have practice, we had a game. It was pretty crazy, but it was a great time."

-Andrew Waldo

Part of the Team

"I love bowling because it makes me feel happy, and I'm actually pretty good at it. I have grown up playing, and being on a team is very enjoyable."

-Whitney Aytes

Keep in Touch

"My teammates were very encouraging and friendly. I want to play next year, but if I don't, I know I will still have the friends I've made this year."

-K.J. Smith

Spice Girls

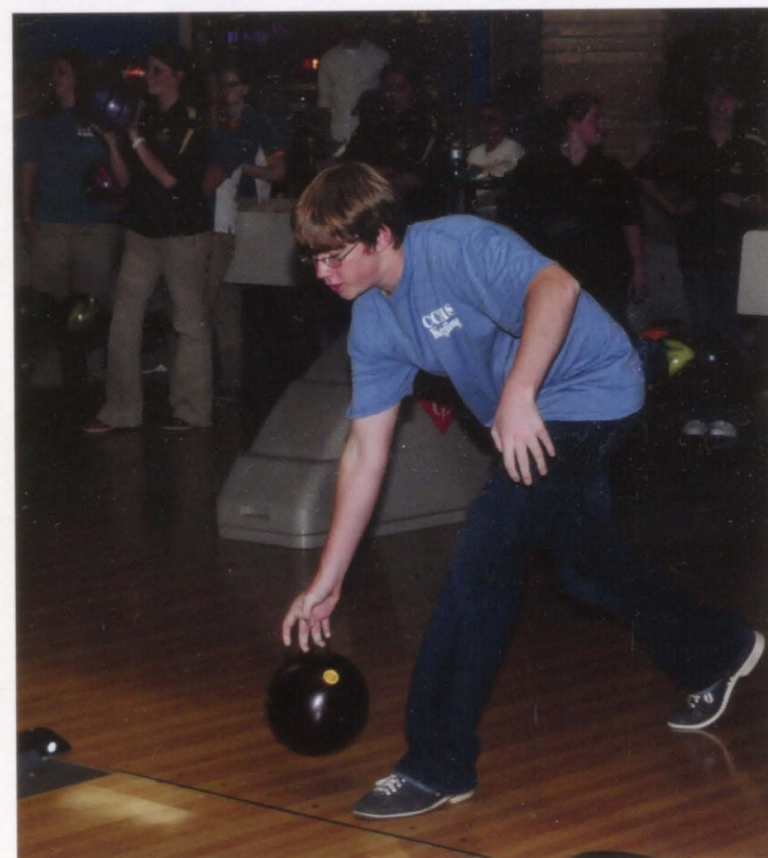

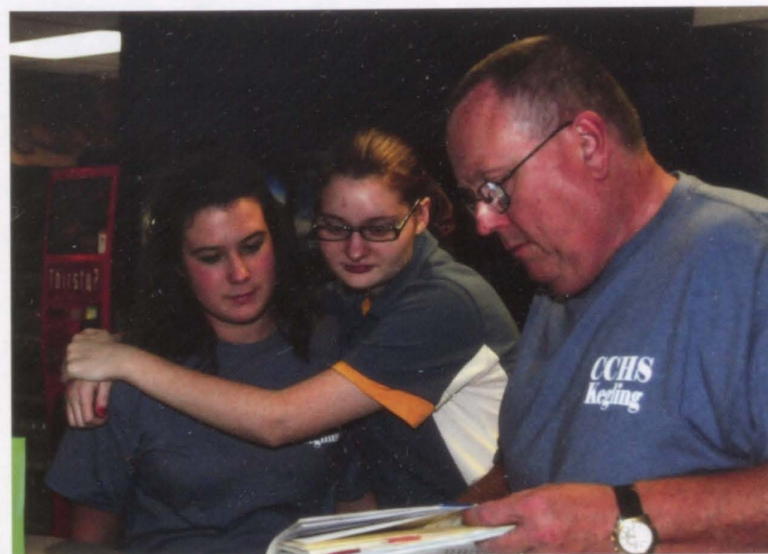

"The away games are the best! Tracy and I sang Spice Girls' songs all the way there. I'm made some amazing friends on the team this year."

-Heaven Moss

Improvement

"Coach Taylor was showing the team our scores from the game we had just played. He was also showing us how we'd improved from the beginning of the year. I did really well, if I do say so myself."

-Stephanie Tanksley

The Young and the Restless

"I love bowling because it's exciting to play. I am going to play until I graduate. I think everyone should join bowling because it has helped me keep my mind off things that aren't so good."

-Steven Dixon

Tumbling with Varsity Cheer

Written by: Peyton Zeino

The Cumberland County High School cheer squad is a dedicated group of young women. Unlike some sports, the cheer squad practices all year. From tryouts in the spring to camp in the summer and football in the fall to basketball in the winter, these girls work hard to motivate the crowd.

Homecoming is a big deal to the cheerleaders at CCHS. The bonfire and parade are really exciting for them, and they love getting the crowd pumped up for the game at the pep rally. Kadee Fowler said, "Football homecoming was so much fun. The parade, bonfire, pep rally, and game were all really exciting. Cheering on the guys at the game was probably the best part because the crowd really gets into the game. The only part I didn't like was the flowers we wore. I had to have help pinning mine on, and they made cheering difficult since they scratched our faces."

Every cheerleader has a reason why she loves her sport, whether it be because she is able to hang out with friends or she simply loves cheering. A senior on the squad, Taylor Davis, said her favorite part of cheering was the stunts she got to do. Taylor happily said, "It's a great view when I tumble: floor, ceiling, floor, ceiling. It's a lot of fun, but it's always fun and exciting when we cheer for the Jets and Lady Jets. The only downside of tumbling is when my bloomers show."

Getting the crowd pumped up for the game is these girls' main goal. They practice hard all year, so they can make this happen.

Football Season

"Cheerleading is a ton of fun. I enjoy being a part of encouragement to our team. Football season is by far my favorite. The parade and bonfire are so much fun. The pep rally and game are even more fun. The spirit of the crowd and band are amazing. Being able to get the crowd pumped up is the best part of cheering. I am very glad I chose to cheer my senior year of high school."

-Erin Bailey

Scratch the Tigers!

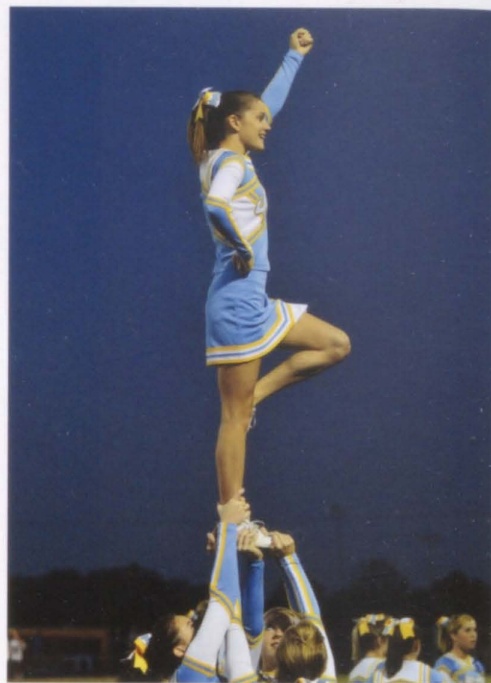

"Football season is so much fun. Making signs for the football team to run through helps us to bond. We all have to put our creative ideas together and come up with the perfect sign. I will never forget Cassie and I almost getting run over...it was scary!"

-Alexis Lewis

Pump It Up

"I always love trying new stunts and using those stunts to get the crowd pumped up. It was important to win that game in particular because they are our biggest rivals."

-Taylor Legett

Fun and Friendships

"This is my third year cheering. I'm so glad I decided to cheer. I have made many new friendships over the past three years. It is so much fun cheering on our teams."

-Cassie Judkins

The Best Part

"This is my second year cheering, and the best part is being able to spend time with all the friends I have made."

-Christina Graham

Homecoming Parade

"This was my third year cheering at CCHS, and I always look forward to the homecoming parade."

-Allysa Kerley

Fire Truck

"Homecoming week is so much fun, especially the parade. Being able to ride on the fire truck was great!"

-Mashayla Selby

Best Friends

"Taylor and I have been cheering together since the sixth grade. Cheering has become harder over the years, but having your best friend by your side makes it fun."

-Stacie Evans

Keep on Laughing

"I love cheering with this group of girls! We have become one huge family. We always have a lot of fun together when we cheer. They always keep me laughing. I'm so glad I decided to cheer."

-Kayla Williamson

Like A Family

"I have been cheering for two years, and I am so glad I decided to cheer. We are more like a family than a squad because we have all become so close."

-Baylee Parsons

Shooting with JV Basketball

Written by: Nathan Jones

This year's freshmen and JV basketball teams had high expectations set out for them by the school, community, and coaches this season. The boys and girls worked hard during practice for this year's season, and every minute of practice counted. The coaches were ready for the season to begin with the JV teams and had set standards for both teams.

With brand new freshmen players, both coaches were looking for only the most dedicated and motivated players. They all had to give it one hundred percent because the coaches were looking for the best thirteen players out there. The coaches wanted to focus on learning offense, building a strong defense, and having solid wins this season. Most of the returning players from last year's freshmen team will make up the JV teams. "The level of competition is the only thing that really separates the freshmen from the JV teams," the junior varsity boys basketball coach, Blaine Moore, said.

Life lessons are always learned when playing a sport. Cameron O'Rourke, a starter for the team, said, "Basketball relates to life in that it teaches you to do hard work and to live with the decisions you make. After all the games, I have learned to never give up. Even if we are down by ten or up by ten, I always give it my all."

As anyone can see, these players had a great season and great coaches. Jonathan Elmore quoted, "The games can be hard, but my coaches and teammates make it worth it."

Swat it Down and Stamp on It

"Basketball has been a memorable experience this year. From conditioning with 'swat it down and stamp on it,' to the actual season and our quiet bus rides, it's been great. This season was filled with new things: coaches, players, and coaching styles. We had our best game in the finals of our district tournament where we went into overtime. We were second in our district!"

-Brooke Golden #24

A Whole New World

"Coming to CCHS and playing basketball as a freshman was a whole new experience to me. I love my team, and I don't know what I would do without them. I've really loved getting to know both Coach Keck and Coach Cooley and learning new things from them."

-Balie Houston #33

Remember Your Clothes!

"I have learned a lot from playing basketball. Most of all, I have learned to be responsible and always remember my clothes for practice."

-Meghan Server #22

Building Character

"Basketball builds character; it also is like life because you have to make decisions and live it because you can't change it. My teammates are very supportive."

-J.J. Miller #11

Never Change

-Brian Young #5

Comfort Zone

"Coming to CCHS high school basketball team was intimidating at first, but I've learned a lot. I love my team, and I wouldn't be anywhere without Coach Cooley."

-Ashley Davis #3

Getting In Shape

"Basketball this year has been great, but getting back in shape has been tough. My first year of high school basketball has been a real experience but I've enjoyed every minute of it."

-Dylan Qualls #10

Visual Arts--Expression Without Words

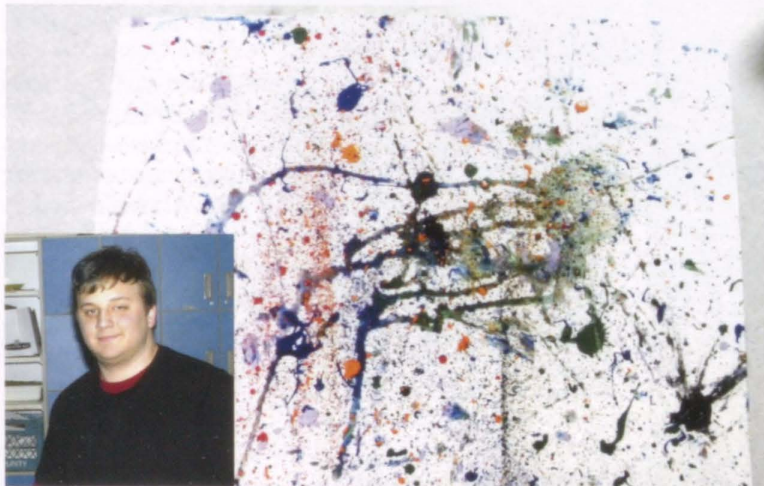

Going into high-school, there are a variety of classes to choose from--visual arts being one of them. Even though visual arts is a required class, there are many students that see it as a privilege. They do not sign up for art because they have to have a fine art, they take the class to enjoy the real beauty of it. Art is a way of expressing feelings and emotions--being able to see things from a different point of view. There are a handful of people that realize this and understand art and how to really get involved in it. Art gives us a way to be creative and express ourselves. For some people, art is the entire reason they get up in the morning. One could say art is something that makes us more thoughtful and well-rounded humans.

Art is such a large part of our everyday lives that we hardly even stop to think about it. Look at the desk or table where you are right this minute, look all around you at the different designs of things, and realize someone made that. That is their art.

Haley Skirpan, a student in visual arts class commented, "Art is everything to me; I can't pick just one single thing that I love about art. There are so many possibilities and so many ways to express yourself. I try to find inspiration from everything, but I think the thing that inspires me the most is love."

- Magen Skinner

Splatter of Expression

"I took art class because I enjoy art, and to me, it is freedom. I would have to say my favorite type of art is cubism."

-Matt Warren

Art's What You Make It

"Just as beauty is in the eye of the beholder, art to me is what you make of it, and it always looks awesome. Anything can be art to someone, so do what you want with it."

-Dalton Stafford

Inspirational Fruit

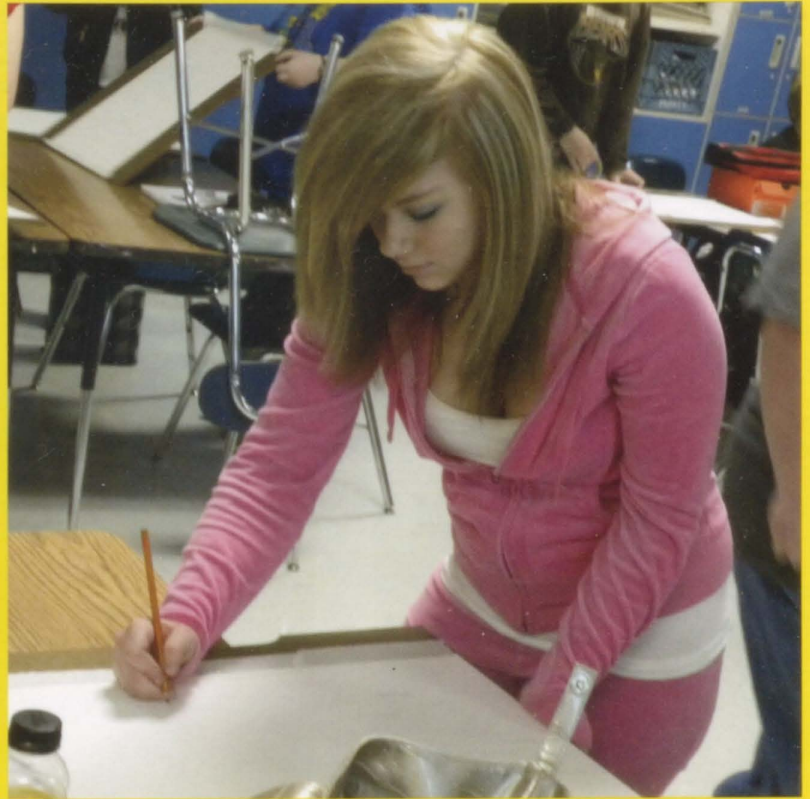

"I enjoyed drawing it because I love fruit and I was inspired to draw it."

-Ricardo Bolivar

Art is Magic

"I love art because I get to show my skills and go beyond my imagination. The art you could do is unlimited. Art is where you go above and beyond and show the beauty of the world in a way that no one else sees it."

-Cheyel Smith

Express Yourself

"Art has variety, so to speak. You can draw anything you want, and I'm able to show all different kinds of feelings through art. It expresses my emotions."

-Paige Coffman

A Sharper Way of Seeing Things

"I like art because everyone has a different idea of what something means to them, and they can express it."

-Coco Bennett

"To me, the most timeless part of winter is when we get to play in the snow."

-Cheyenne Freeman

Friends At Work

"Working at KFC has really been a great experience. I work with my best friend so it makes for a better day of work."

-Alma Lopez

Parents don't always give teenagers the money they need or want, which means it is time to get a job. Students hate being cooped up at home but cannot always afford gas, so getting a job is a big priority.

Tim Smith works at Food City. Tim stated, "I enjoy my job. It helps me pay for the things I need and gives me a sense of responsibility. I like being able to pay for things myself." Having a job is a great thing for college resumes as well.

"I began working at PEG broadcasting in May of 2009," said Karli Threet. "It has been a very rewarding experience. Most high school students get a job at the local fast food restaurants, but I was fortunate enough to begin working in the communications field at a very young age." Having good connections with people can help you land a good job and can also help you out when it comes to college.

As you can see, jobs are not strictly work and can actually be made into a lot of fun. Cars are a big part of a teenagers life as well. Without a car, you wouldn't be able to get to work, but without work you wouldn't be able to pay for a car. Plus, having your own money to get the things you need and pay for gas in your car is a benefit.

Many students work after school to be able to get the things that they want. Whether it be clothes, gas, or food, having a job is very helpful. It is also useful for after high school because you will already have experience with the work force.

Basketball Homecoming 2011

Even though our homecoming festivities were cut short due to snow days, one thing that was not cut short was the Jet Pride. When Tuesday came around it was time for students and teachers to showcase their blue and gold. Although we did not have a pep rally, that did not stop students from representing their colors to school as well as to the game that night. The night began with Maggie Bernabei singing the national anthem. By the end of the anthem, it was time to run our Lady Jets out onto the court. They were ready to get the game in action. Our student section was fired up with their megaphones and horns in hand. They were ready to cheer our Jets and Lady Jets to a victory. The big games began with the Lady Jets tipping off at six against the Coffee County Red Raiders. Our girls played an exciting, well fought game. They did not come out victorious, but they still deserve a pat on the back for all their effort on the court. Between games, the 2011 basketball homecoming was announced. Emily Scarbrough and Derrek Hankins walked away with the titles of Queen and King. The boys game tipped off shortly after. The Jets game was a very high energy game. They stayed neck and neck with the opposing team but could not pull through with the victory. The evening ended with two well-played games.

Dribbling with Girls Basketball

Written by: Kat Kerr

"Even though it may appear that the Lady Jets basketball season starts on the night of the first game, it really starts at the beginning of June. We spend all summer long practicing, running, and playing scrimages to get us prepared for the season that lies ahead.

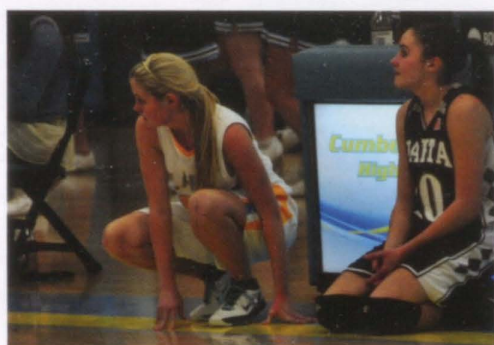

Coach Kayla Cooley was warmly welcomed back once again to the Lady Jet family. Having lost no players from the previous year and with a new coach, we started to prepare for districts. Immediately, things started looking up with her innovative ways of coaching and bringing the team together.

The season started off slow, but things really turned around when we beat Cookeville for the first time in seven years. With them being the number one team in our districts, that really put the rest of our season in a whole different perspective.

Lady Jet senior Emily Scarbrough said, 'Starting our district play at 0-5, no one expected us to beat Cookeville! This gave us the intensity and will power to do what no one thought we could; not only did we beat them, but we beat them by fifteen points!'

Starter Taylor Vaden commented on the challenge this season presented. 'We had a lot of changes. New coach, new offense, new defense, and it was a big adjustment, but it ended well. Coach Cooley really made us all a family. We players put everything we have into our Basketball takes dedication and we're all a family. We players put everything we have into our practices and games.'

Senior Ballin'

"My senior season was definitely something I'll never forget. There's nothing like playing in a game that you know could be your last one. I'm going to miss all the players next year a lot. We have all grown really close and treat each other like we're family."

-Emily Scarbrough #00

A Rare Moment

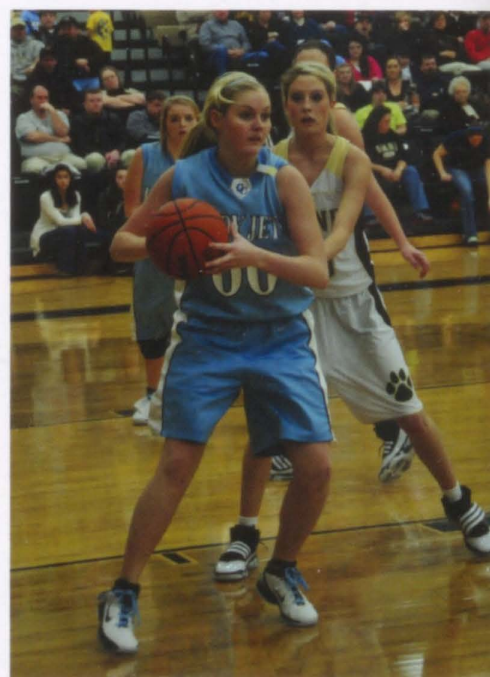

"The picture to your right, ladies and gentlemen, depicts a rare moment in the Lady Jet basketball season this year. Elizabeth Ann Swafford is actually passing the ball. Strange, but it is true. Thank you all for your time and attention."

-Beth Ann Swafford #5

It's My Life

"There were a lot of changes, but all were accepted. My team is like my second family. I've always loved basketball. It's my life. I'm looking forward to a successful season."

-Jaclyn Ragean #34

Beginning College in High School

Why on earth would anyone want to take an Advanced Placement or dual class in high school? Isn't that putting too much pressure on a teenager who is only supposed to "live it up" and have the time of his or her life during high school? These classes are for the people that wish to do better than average while getting a jumpstart on college courses. These classes aren't for everyone. Whether you take Ms. Lay's biology, Mrs. Akin's history, Mrs. Buck or Ms. Herring's calculus, Mrs. Dickerson's accounting, Mrs. Gilpin's medical terminology, or Ms. Phillip's English, they are all incredibly challenging. According to Fiona Retzer, "I took AP biology with Ms. Lay because she really teaches the material. I have learned so much in the classes I have taken with her. This class will help me in the future because I may be majoring in marine biology."

As the famous chip commercial says, "You can't eat just one." That is how it seems to be with the advanced courses. Once you have one under your belt, you get this crazy notion to continue on the road to insanity by way of dual and Advanced Placement classes until you finally complete your high school career with more knowledge than you have any idea what to do with. After a week of having one, two, three, or even four advanced classes, the insane obsession with finishing the semester with a personally acceptable grade overtakes all those partaking in the class, and it is a hard but incredibly fulfilling ride to the end. Ms. Phillips' desk goes to show that those who take her classes seem to love her forever. According to most all who have left their mark there, they still love her dearly and will continue in their education partly because of the stamp she left upon their lives.

AP or Dual? Pick One!

Preparation

"I took dual classes because I knew they would better prepare me for college and were more challenging. My decision to go on to college during my senior year of high school has been a great experience. This year has been a total transition."

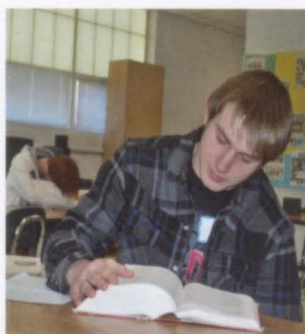

-Anna Hill

The Unexpected

"AP classes are unexpectedly enjoyable offering a challenge. These classes have helped a lot in furthering my education in the college realm."

-Oliver Price

Comprehensiveness

"Not only does AP credit transfer to any college, but AP classes cover more information to prepare you better for college and are more comprehensive, because you have to prepare for the test."

-Brandon Fehr

All About Math

"Dual Calculus is very interesting. It can be challenging but it's rewarding when you get the right answer. I took calculus because it will better prepare me for my college math classes."

-Rachel Lee

CCHS Dual and AP Classes

- Dual Pre Calculus
- Dual Medical Terminology
- Dual Accounting
- Dual Calculus 1 and 2
- Dual English 12
- Dual EMS
- AP English 11
- AP Biology
- AP Honors Art
- AP US History

Late Night Study Sessions

"It's very stressful and time-consuming to take all AP classes, but the knowledge I'm gaining and the teachers I have are definitely worth the late nights and lunches spent studying."

-Shannon Babincsak

Comparing Courses

"At first, I decided to take AP with Ms. Phillips because I wanted to challenge myself. Ms. Phillips and AP both have turned out to be pretty rough, but it is so worth it."

I'm definitely going to take Dual because I want to keep pushing myself as far as I can in the English program here at CCHS. Plus, I've heard Dual is even better than AP!"

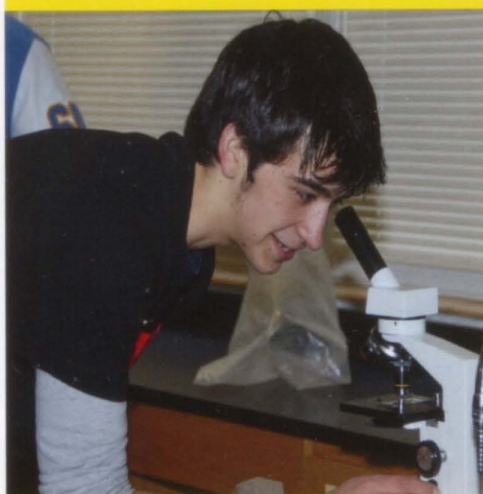

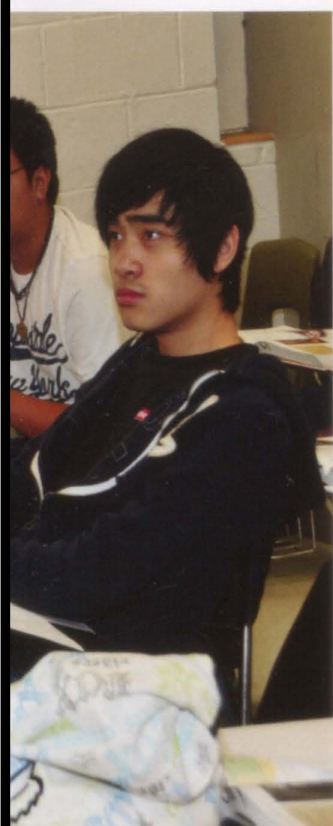

-Kate Vanlandingham

Overly Competitive

"We all get so competitive in the vocab games. We make sure we know the words well so our team will win. If we win, we get five points on the test, and even if we don't, we learned the words anyway."

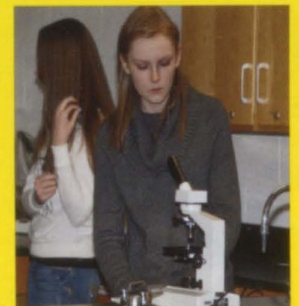

-Jessy Alva

Doctor Mathis

"I want to be a doctor, which means I'm looking at a lot of college time. The reason I took so many advanced classes is so I can be prepared for college and ensure that I will achieve my goals."

-Kaitlyn Mathis

University Level in the Works

"The reason I take advanced classes is because I want to learn everything that is offered in high school. These classes will help me prepare for the university level classes in the future."

-Duc Tran

Fully Prepared

"I took Ms. Lay for two classes because Ms. Lay is an incredible teacher. She has taught us more than I could ever hope to remember, yet I know her class has prepared me not only for college, but even further in my education and future. I know more about biology than I would like to admit!"

Dunking with Boys Basketball

Written by: Sydney Delvers

Imagine yourself sitting in the stands at a basketball game. You smell popcorn popping and hot dogs being fried. You hear the anticipation of the approaching tip-off in the voices of the people around you. You finally see the Jets, wearing white, gold, and columbia blue uniforms, running out to the court. The crowd roars and cheers with excitement. You cannot help but sing along with the beginning of the Cumberland County High School fight song: "Off we go into the wild blue yonder!"

Todd Threet, a junior on the team, was asked why he plays basketball for the Jets. He responded, "I love playing. It's just that simple." Many, if not all, of the basketball players feel this way. Almost all of them have played since they were in elementary school, and some played even before then."

Our Homecoming King

"I crossed over with the left hand and finished over Dishman at the rim. I have had a lot of fun playing basketball this season. Although we were not as successful as we were last season, we still had a great time. We have made a lot of memories this year. Everything from being a starter at almost every game to being Homecoming King has been awesome."

-Derrek Hankins #24

The halftime buzzer rings at the game, and the cheerleaders perform their halftime show for the crowd. But where does the basketball team go? "We go to the locker room, and our coach talks to us to get us pumped up and tell us what we did wrong and how to improve," Derrek Hankins, senior starter of the team, commented.

Imagine the game is almost over. The loud crowd collectively counts down the final seconds of the game. Some players look at the scoreboard, others keep playing until the final buzzer sounds. Either way, when the game is over, each person present at the game will have their own memory of what happened. And almost always, it is a fond memory of another great night in Crossville.

It's A Habit

"I like playing for Cumberland County High School because it is so much fun. It is just a habit. I have played all my life. This year, though, I have improved with shooting because of all the practice we have."

-Brandon Hawkins #20

Looking Forward

"Basketball is fun. It's even more fun when we win. I look forward to winning more in the future. Being a freshman on the varsity team is an honor."

-Logan Parsons #33

Playing With Heart

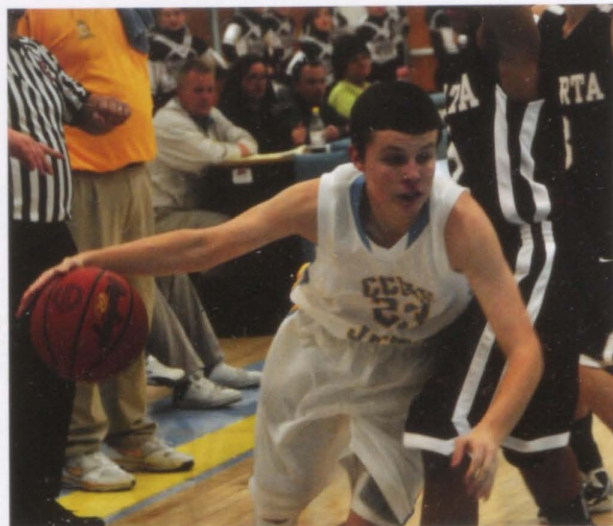

"When I play, I play with all my heart. If I don't, being a starter on the team does not even seem worth it."

-John Bilbrey #3

A Loved Game

"Playing basketball is fun because you get to hang out with all your friends playing a game we all love."

-Taylor Houston #23

Letting It Rain

"I was just letting it rain. It's just what I do. Shooting is my best skill on the court."

-Kyle Pritchard #34

Cherry Stripe

"I like to put my hair in the spike when I feel hot. It also helps me hit from the cherry stripe. If you do not play CCHS basketball, you would not understand."

-Terry Bowen #32

Fun To Be Around

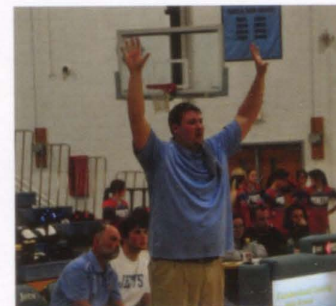

"I play basketball because I have a good time at the games and at practice. My teammates are fun to be around."

-Donavan O'Rourke #12

Support Our Players

"I was out this game, but I still dressed out and cheered on my teammates."

-Steven Hill #30

A Favorite Quote

"'You need to play with supreme confidence, or else you'll lose again, and then losing becomes a habit.' This is my favorite quote by Joe Paterno, and what our team plays by."

-Coach Foster

"To me, getting to hang out with my friends on snow days is the most timeless part of winter."

Spring 2011

by Cassie Wyatt

The sound of Blue Jays and robins fills the air, the fragrance of daffodils permeates the atmosphere, and the snow has taken a backseat as the sun makes its ostentatious appearance. Students can hardly contain their excitement as springtime takes center stage. Juniors and seniors are stressing over Advanced Placement exams as the rest of the school is excited to get End of Course tests out of the way. Everyone is ready to welcome all of the marvelous things that come along with Spring 2011. Students all around the school absolutely cannot wait for Springfest. Seniors are especially anxious for all of the rewards they receive in the spring, such as prom, class night, and graduation.

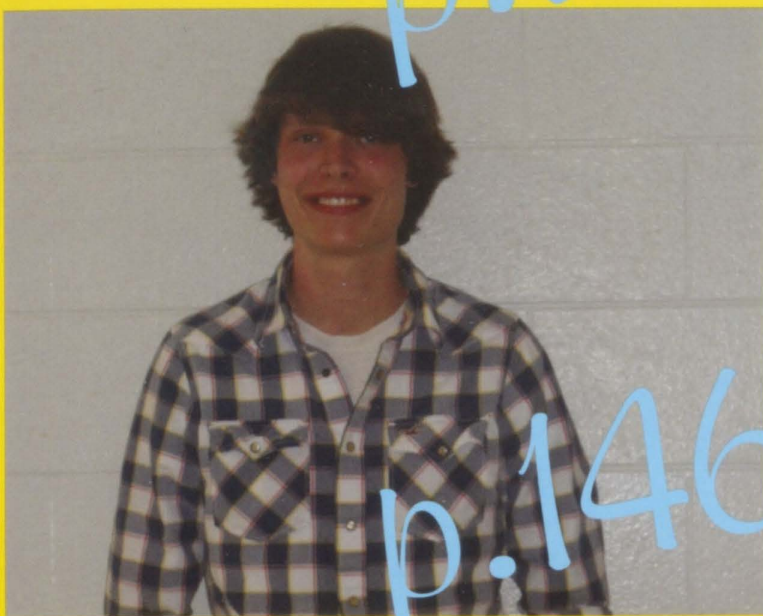

Spring sports are heating up, and everyone is pumped to watch the newest addition to our school—the Table Tennis Team. As with tennis, Daniel Koehl is also the star of the new Table Tennis Team. He stated, "I really, really enjoy table tennis because it is very similar to tennis, but on a smaller table. It is a great way to pass away the time I have after I am finished with my homework. Most of my friends joined the Table Tennis Team with me, and we cannot wait to play against other teams from other schools and counties. We know we will show them how it is done."

There is no doubt that spring is one of the more beautiful and invigorating seasons. It is simply timeless.

I Like to Move It Move It
 "If you learn to play right, soccer is probably the most fun sport there is. It takes team work, conditioning, and a lot of practice to get to be as good as we each individually are. I can hardly contain my excitement until spring comes around solely because it is soccer season. I think everyone should try it at some point in his or her life."
 -Keith Fagan

Feeling Timeless in My Plaid
 "Wearing my plaid makes me feel like I can accomplish anything. The ladies say it looks nice on me and brings out the brilliant, piercing blue in my eyes. Plaid shirts are one of the biggest trends on the Cumberland County High School campus this spring, and I always like to feel trendy. It gives me an underlying layer of confidence and a lot of reassurance that my day will be timeless."
 -Andrew Wyatt

p.148

Sliding in For a Timeless Win
 "Softball is the best sport at Cumberland County High School. I spend all year looking forward to the exact moment that I can step onto my base on the field. My favorite part of softball is when I get the opportunity to slide into a base, even though it is very painful most of the time. However, regardless of the pain, it is still my favorite sport, and I love it. Softball makes my years here timeless."
 -Destiny Lewis

Pushing Myself

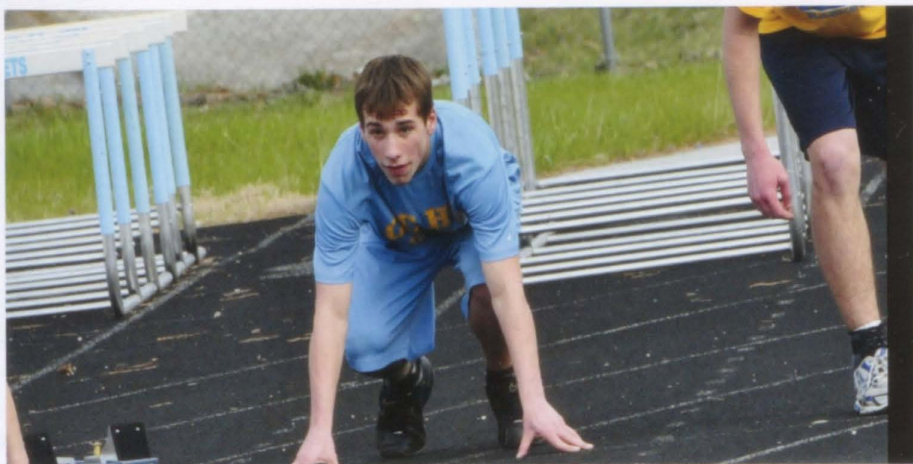

"This is my first year running track, and I'm having a blast. Jaclyn and Olivia push me to do my best."

-Lauren Sliger

The track team at Cumberland County High School is full of eclectic people. From experienced athletes to first year rookies, the members of the track team are all united as one. They are very close, and it is awesome to watch them practice together and compete at their track meets.

Becky Carter, a sophomore track team member, commented, "I love to run. I feel so accomplished after my workouts. Practice makes a big difference. I love it when we all cheer for each other because it makes us all closer. We are all like a family." Like anything in life, being on the track team can be a lot of fun if you make it that way.

Macy Shuey, a freshman, said, "I love running. I am so glad I decided to join the team this year. This is something I hope to do my whole high school career. The team is so united. Everyone on the team is so supportive of each other." Like with life, track teaches those who participate in it to give their all and push themselves to the limit.

-Bo Davis #20

Baseball is the classic American sport. From Babe Ruth to Ken Griffey Jr., Americans of all ages love to watch the "ole" ball game. The stadiums on television are always full. The stands at Cumberland County High School baseball fields are, too. Parents, Jet alumni, fellow students, and friends all come to Crossville to watch the team hit homeruns and strike out the other team that lead to a victory.

Robert Uebelacker, pictured below, commented, "Baseball is the greatest sport at Cumberland County High School! I love playing here. The only downside is tarping the field in the rain, sleet, snow, hail, and lightning. But other than that, it is the best!" Robert seems to have a sense of humor with his comment, but he is also being truthful. All of the Jet baseball players love the sport and just being on the team in general. That is something everyone should respect.

Sophomore David Stallworth told his thoughts about the upcoming baseball season. He said, "We have a really good team, and I think we will do well this year. I am looking forward to playing because it is a lot of fun, and we have a really good time together as a team." The positive attitudes of the players show other teams that the Jets are the best!

Striking Out

Kicking with Boys Soccer

Written by: Peyton Zeino

If you happened to pass by Cumberland County High School after school on any cold, February day you would see the Jets soccer team hard at work preparing for the upcoming season. These guys are dedicated to their sport, and they are out on the field whether it is freezing cold or burning up.

Tyler Bennett, a junior, was asked about the upcoming season and he responded, "I have played soccer at CCHS since I was a freshman, and I have got to say that this year looks promising. I think we are going to do well this year." With confident players like this, they are sure to have a great season in the spring of 2011.

This is Koby Wilson's first year playing soccer at CCHS. "This was my first year playing soccer, and it has been a great experience so far! I am really glad I decided to try out."

Dedication is key in playing any sport, but especially in soccer. You are always in motion. If you are not running up and down the field while thinking about how to kick the ball if it comes to you, you are cheering on your team and thinking about how to pick up where they left off if you get put into the game.

New coaches and ways of playing were introduced early to the possible athletes during tryouts. Whether a veteran or newbie was at the pre-season practices, they were all treated the same. All is fair in love, war, and soccer.

Stretch It Out

"Stretching is a very important part of any sport. It keeps you loose and you are sure that you will not get injured. Gonzo and I stretch with each other before every game."

-Brandon McNally #22

Over the Years...

"It has been a blast playing for the past four years at Cumberland County High School. I have met a lot of really cool people through soccer. I will miss being a part of the team. I will miss all the friends I have made, as well. Soccer will be one of the best memories I have of high school. Over the years, my soccer skills have improved dramatically. I had a great time with my coaches and teammates."

-Jonathan Vallecillo #17

Greatest Sport in the World

"I love playing soccer for Cumberland County High School. I think soccer is a great sport. It is a tough sport. Soccer needs endurance and stamina. Everyone should try to play the sport if they haven't yet. Soccer is the most famous sport in the world!"

-Jarrod Roberts

Tennis is one of the most competitive sports here at CCHS. All the players train to go head to head with their opponent in an intense match for the victory. All of the players had high hope for the season and never get discouraged when they lose or get overly confident when they win. "Tennis is one of the few sports where you can play individually and on a team. It is nice to have both because you're able to be in a bad mood about your team losing but happy about you possibly winning by yourself. Our team is just as good as what it was in the past couple years, but it seems better. We pray for our guys' team to make it to state for once because it has never happened in CCHS tennis history, and I believe we can do it this year," said Daniel Koehl, a sophomore on the tennis team.

A player for the girls team, Sara Loveday spoke about how much she enjoys the team. "Tennis is such a great team sport. There is a lot of support that we give each other, but there is also competition for the ranking of players. When we're competing against each other, we know that it is serious, but no matter who wins, we are still a team," said Sara. For all the tennis players, being on the team is a honor and a privilege.

-Cody Treadway

The shopping time before school starts is the time to update your wardrobes for the weather that will soon be coming and get the newest trends. The end of the summer and the end of winter break is the time to get clothes to dress to impress when students return to school. From looking in magazines to watching fashion shows, many different trends will surely come into the new year. The first day of a semester is the time to really make a statement.

Over the years, trends seem to change as others are revived. What a person wears can really show what their personality is like. Some students wear outfits just to impress other people, and others dress for their own comfort. A lot of students would rather act as individuals and start their own trends instead of jumping on the bandwagon of trends.

"I love my backpack a lot. I like all the compliments I get on my backpack about how cute it is. I feel like it really expresses who I am. I'm glad my backpack gained school-wide recognition," said Jessy Alva.

Since clothing trends can be here today and gone tomorrow, many students find ways to participate in the latest fashion trends by incorporating them into their own personal style. Teens have to also find ways to look trendy without breaking the bank. Personality is a key role in the making of trends.

Pitching with Girls Softball

Written by: Kat Kerr

The 2011 Lady Jets Softball season opened up with a good pre-season win against Stone Memorial High School. The win against Stone this year was the first time the Lady Jets have ever defeated the Lady Panthers in softball. This win really pushed them to work harder and prepare for the rest of the games that were to come. Kelly Walker helped out the Lady Jets win against Stone Memorial by hitting her first home run hit ever! Kelly will also continue on after high school to play with Tennessee Wesleyan on a full scholarship as starting pitcher. "I'm extremely excited about my full scholarship to Tennessee Wesleyan. As for my home run, I couldn't believe it! Actually I am still in disbelief. I guess it's like your parents always say, 'If you believe it, you can achieve it.'"

"This year, the Lady Jets became more

It's My Thing

"Pitching has been my thing ever since I was younger. This year, with the help of my pitching coach Danielle Lancianese, I have improved so much. Being a freshman is great. I know I have so much left to learn still. I'm going to miss all the seniors next year."

-Amanda Beck #18

serious with the way we approached practices and the way we prepared for games," said Whitney Hankins. "We started this year's practices completely different than last year by not goofing off as much, working harder, and being extremely focused in all of our drills."

One of the best qualities about the Lady Jets softball team was that regardless of what may happen, all the girls had each other's back on and off the field. This team is most likely the closest team at CCHS in the sense that they all get along and they try to make sure drama does not get in the way of their one true goal. That goal is to go out on the field, play hard, and walk off with yet another win.

Helpful Seniors

"I love being a part of this team. All of the seniors were so helpful and taught me so many things. If it wasn't for all five of them, I wouldn't be half the player that I am. I am going to miss all of the seniors so much. They have really helped out all the freshmen."

-Ally Scruggs #21

Early Bird Catches the Worm

"Although I've only been catching for three months, I work hard at it every day and it has become my favorite position. I'm glad that all my hard work and dedication payed off."

Ads & References

2010-2011

By: Cassie Wyatt

Every year, the yearbook staff spends the months of fall going around Cumberland County selling advertisements to various businesses to publish in the book. The staff is given a short tutorial on how to sell the ads to the business people. The three main rules are to go in looking professional, to know what you are talking about, and to be prepared for any questions. This is done to offset the price of the yearbook for the students and to also showcase the city of Crossville as part of our Timeless edition of The Plateau.

Traditionally, the person who sells the most in advertisements receives the title of "Best Advertisement Salesperson." For the 2010-2011 book, this person was Jamie Beth Rector. She said, "When I entered yearbook class, I really didn't know what it was all about. When Mr. Sanderson first told us about selling ads, I was definitely excited about getting commission back. At the end of the semester, my grand total came to one thousand and three hundred dollars of ads sold. We each got five percent of the total back, so I ended up getting seventy-one dollars. Selling them wasn't my favorite thing to do, but going out into the community certainly was. I believe I'm going to be on the yearbook staff next year just to get commission, and I plan to sell the most ads again."

Business advertisements are only the first type of advertisements. The other type is senior ads where the family and/or friends of a senior purchase an ad for that senior. These ads also vary in size and price, but it is the final way for seniors to be remembered and have their own fifteen seconds of fame in every published yearbook.

Work, Work, Work, and Work Some More

"Doing the advertisement section is not as easy as some people may think. The ads section takes time, and a WHOLE LOT of patience! The ad section is very stressful, and most days, we tend to apply our excellent knowledge and skills in Photoshop. Sometimes when we do an ad, we manage to get things out of proportion and mess some of it up, so Mr. Sanderson assists us in fixing it. The editor proofs ad pages that will be going into the yearbook, so we usually catch all of the mistakes. Yearbook has its fun moments also like taking pictures."

Taylor,

We are so incredibly proud of the young woman you've become. You are so beautiful, intelligent, and talented. You always keep us laughing. But even more importantly in life, you're able to laugh at yourself. You have such a kind heart and a great personality. As much as it hurts to know that you will soon be leaving for college, we know that you are prepared for the challenge. We have faith that you can do anything you desire.

We Love You!

Mom, Dad, and Garrett

You will forever be in our hearts...

When you left us, we all had to be strong for you and take one step at a time. You have a smile that could light up the world better than the sun in the bright blue sky. You are a wonderful girl who could bring joy to everyone around you. Your love for your animals always could bring a smile to everyone that surrounded you. With your silly stories about feeding your raccoon chocolate and the way you lit up when you talked about your dog, the energy you brought into the world could keep anyone going on for days. All of your friends looked up to you. Amber, you were always an angel walking on Earth. When times were bad you showed us how to overcome it with an immense amount of strength and a gorgeous smile. We know that you have been standing right by all of us since you left, holding us up, and making us stronger. God broke our hearts to prove to us he only takes the best. We think of you in silence, we often speak your name. All we have are memories -- your picture in a frame. A million times we've thought of you, a million times we've cried. If love alone could have saved you, you never would have died. It broke our hearts to lose you, but you didn't go alone. For a part of us went with you the day God took you home. Just remember that we miss you and will always love you.

-Love always, The CCHS Student Body

Justin, where did the years go? You have turned out to be a fantastic young man and we are so proud of you. We know you will succeed in anything you decide to do in the future. Keep preaching and servicing God throughout your life. We will always be there for you. Keep that wonderful smile and kind and loving heart, and you will go far in life.

Proverbs 4: 3-7

3. For I was my Father's son, tender and only beloved in the sight of my mother.
4. He taught me also, and said unto me, Let thine heart retain my words: keep my commandments, and live.
5. Get wisdom, get understanding: forget it not; neither decline from the words of my mouth.
6. Forsake her not, and she shall preserve thee: love her, and she shall keep thee.
7. Wisdom is the principal thing; therefore get wisdom: and with all thy getting get understanding.

We watched a chubby-cheeked baby crawl across our floor. But, when we turned around, the baby was no more. He was replaced by a toodler who never stopped for a minute. Then, he ran through those years, discovered school, and jumped in it. A whirlwind of grades brought a plethora of friends, instrumental memories, some beginnings and some ends. As he grew a bit more, he became aware of his ambitions to achieve goals, lead others, and make wise decisions. So, here we are now in your present time, son, and we couldn't be prouder of the man you have become.

Timeless.

Webster's New College Dictionary, my true and trusty friend defines the word timeless as "having no beginning or end; not restricted to a particular time or date; not affected by time". As we explore the theme of this year's yearbook, this definition becomes important in understanding the concept of timelessness as it relates to us as individuals.

As you continue to grow and mature there are many things you will come to consider timeless. To each of us our view of things considered timeless is a constant, therefore, the view according to "me" will be a bit different for each of us. What is your vision of "timeless?" For me love, family, friends, school, children and memories both good and bad are considered timeless. As a mother, daughter, wife, principal, friend, whatever my role may be, the memories attached to each of these roles create a vision in my mind that are forever and timeless. I am sure you can look back, as can I, and see clearly your roles in life and the experiences that are special to you and see how they can be considered as timeless. This is where I feel the "me" factor enters this equation. Your memories and experiences are about you. Life in general would never be considered timeless, but many memories and events actually will be. The memories you are making and living during your years at Cumberland County High School will remain with you always and a part of you will be "frozen" in this time.

Though I have been out of high school for many years, I frequently and fondly have the occasion to recall special memories that remain a part of me and of dear friends that experienced those occasions. You will do the same. The memories of these days will be brought to the forefront every time you look at this yearbook, now and in the years to come.

I encourage you to make the most of your days here and make special memories for yourself for all time. The dear friends pictured in this publication will become dearer as the years pass and they are an important part in the making of your timeless memories.

Janet Graham

Colophon

The 2011 volume 48 edition of the Plateau was published by the yearbook publication and digital design class of Cumberland County High School. The Plateau was printed by Taylor Publishings in Austin, Texas. The 208 page full-color book, including candid photos, was submitted digitally for a press run of 450. The book sold initially for $80.00, and then rose to $85.00 when the internet sales stopped. Ads were sold by the staff and ranged from $80.00 to $300.00 for senior ads and $80.00 to $400.00 for business ads. All pages were produced using Adobe Photoshop CS4 and InDesign CS4. The Plateau sales representatives were Josh Houston and Kristin Jobe and account executive was Jessica Youngpeter. Senior, underclassmen, faculty, and group photos were taken by Prestige/Lifetouch Studios at no charge. We would like to thank Mrs. Graham, and the entire CCHS faculty and staff for the support they gave us. We say thank you to Ed Grief and Walt Riches for all the donations of pictures.

Book specifications are as follows:

Cover: Lithocote with four-color process, designed using Photoshop CS4. Fonts used were TimesT and Murry HilDOT. Also, there is a laser cut-out of a jet.

Endsheets: designed and created by yearbook staff using Photoshop CS4. Inside Pages: 9x12 100# Enamel with Smyth-sewn binding. Fonts: TimesT and Murry HilDOT.

Yearbook

2010-2011

Because of my strong faith in Christ and my perfectionist nature, I am a very passionate person. When I entered F102 three years ago, I had no idea the significance that yearbook would have in my life from that day on. Summer camps, spring workshops, long after-school hours, snow days at school, classroom disputes, and anxious preparation. What started as a simple elective turned into a three-year commitment. I soon realized that yearbook was one of my biggest passions. I understand how important the yearbook is to this school: it truly is the story of our lives.

As academics editor junior year and now editor-in-chief, sometimes my responsibilities seem endless. Completing this work and managing these duties have revealed a great deal about me. One positive aspect of my character I have discovered is my inability to settle for less than my best. While it would often be easier to take shortcuts, I have dedicated myself to always uphold certain standards and never accept second best for our publication. The result, I feel is a great book that will be cherished by students--not because of any fresh ideas or pica-perfect layouts, but because it holds timeless memories.

To any future editors, I say this: give all you have to your book, and be proud of your work. People will always find something to criticize, but knowing you have done your best is really all that is important. Together this year, we have revamped most of this school's cliché yearbook, and I know I wouldn't trade all the stress, blood, sweat, and tears for anything.

Valedictorian John Garland

Has it always been a goal to achieve the highest honor of your class?

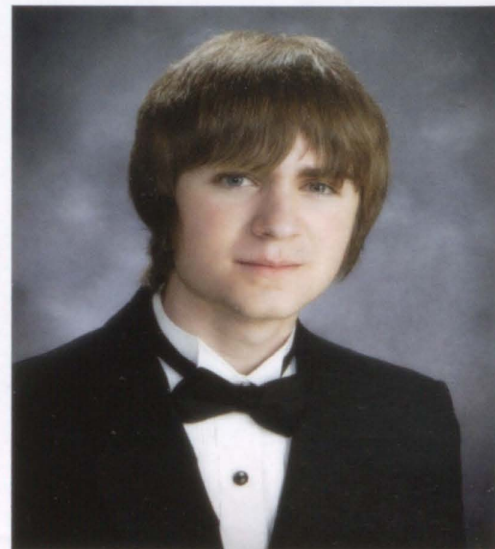

My primary goal these four years has been to do well enough to get into a good college. Being Valedictorian was more of a hope than a dream for me.

How does it make you feel to be Valedictorian?

It feels amazing. I could say other things, but they would be redundant.

How are you going to use this achievement to affect your future?

I can hopefully use it to get a scholarship at Clemson. Other than that, I now have bragging rights.

Salutatorian Anthony Scott

Has it always been a goal to achieve the second highest honor of your class?
Since I was a young child, I have strived to maintain the highest of grades in the hope that I would one day I would graduate at the top of my high school class.

How does it make you feel to be Salutatorian?

I am thrilled to be the Salutatorian of the Class of 2011. It has been a long, stressful journey; but it was worth every minute of it.

How are you going to use this achievement to affect your future?

Achieving Salutatorian has truly proven to me that I can claim anything I set my mind to. I will use my achievement as inspiration to always push harder and rise to the top in anything I do in the future.

"To me, the changing weather through the different seasons is the most timeless part of high school."
