targeting a grocery store and fast-food restaurant in North Carolina, arresting an 18-year-old man who authorities say pledged loyalty to the Islamic State group.

Christian Sturdivant was charged with attempting to provide material support to a foreign terrorist organization. Investigators said he told an undercover FBI employee posing as a supportive confidant about his plans to attack people. Their online messages, along with a recent search of his home, indicated attacks would occur with knives and hammers, according to prosecutors and records.

Highlights from Letters to Power 88

Hi! I really enjoy listening to Power 88. I think it's awesome that you guys play Christian music and care that much about the community. I listen to your station every morning before school. It's also nice to know that there is a decent station that I can listen to anytime. I also think it's cool because I am in middle school and my bus driver turns on Power 88. While the other kids are complaining or making fun of the music, I sing along in my head. I just wanted to let you know how many people appreciate what you're putting on the air for all of us. Thank you so much!
