How will the team ensure that stakeholders, and in particular parents and/or guardians, were able to provide meaningful input into the needs assessment process?	Stakeholders were provided with surveys in which they were able to offer feedback regarding the Family Engagement Plan, the Home/School Compact, and the CNA, and they were provided an opportunity to provide feedback regarding the general operation of Miller County Elementary and how we can improve upon the educational services that we provide. Parents who participated had their name entered into a drawing, and the "winner" was given an air fryer in an effort to increase participation in our survey. Furthermore, ALL stakeholders were invited to attend our School Improvement meeting on June 7 in order to provide feedback. A Google Meeting was also set up, and a link was provided for those who could not attend in-person. To ensure that we would have stakeholder representation, eleven diverse parents/stakeholders were personally contacted and invited to attend our meeting. Of those eleven, six participated. Those six were the ONLY participants. No one participated via the Google Meeting.

2. DATA COLLECTION ANALYSIS

2.6 Data Analysis Questions

Analyze the LEA’s data and answer the guiding questions to determine existing trends and patterns that support the identification of demographic and financial needs. Student subgroups with a count of less than 15 are denoted by “TFS” (too few students).

What perception data did you use? [examples: student perceptions about school climate issues (health survey, violence, prejudice, bullying, etc.); student/parent perceptions about the effectiveness of programs or interventions; student understanding of relationship of school to career or has an academic plan]	We provided opportunities for students, stakeholders, and staff members to complete surveys provided by the DOE. Additionally, we provided our own local surveys to students, stakeholders, and staff members as well.
What does the perception data tell you? (perception data can describe people’s knowledge, attitudes, beliefs, perceptions, competencies; perception data can also answer the question “What do people think they know, believe, or can do?”)	Overall, stakeholders and students feel that Miller County Elementary provides a safe learning environment with high expectations for students, and that teachers and staff support the students in their educational endeavors. Teachers expressed overall job satisfaction in regards to being a positive role model and seeing students having "light bulb" moments. They expressed frustration over workload requirements/expectations, frequent change, and student behaviors.
What process data did you use? (examples: student participation in school activities, sports, clubs, arts; student participation in special programs such as peer mediation, counseling, skills conferences; parent/student participation in events such as college information meetings and parent workshops)	We have a student mentoring program. Participating students expressed general satisfaction and excitement about the program. Parents who participated in lunch and learn sessions and student showcase nights expressed general satisfaction.
What does the process data tell you? (process data describes the way programs are conducted; provides evidence of participant involvement in programs; answers the question “What did you do for whom?”)	The process tells us that we need to look to expand our mentoring program. We need to continue to provide meaningful lunch and learn sessions, and we need to continue to provide student showcase nights that feature the interests and talents of our students.

What achievement data did you use?	We utilized the following achievement data: MAP, iLearn, iStation, Wonders, Illustrative Math, STAR, Write Score, and Milestones.
--	--

What does your achievement data tell you?	Achievement data tells us that students are making overall consistent growth towards mastery of grade level standards. We still have work to do, but progress is being made consistently, and we need to generally stick with our current procedural plan of action (tweaking it from year to year to improve what we are doing).
---	--

What demographic data did you use?	We utilized Milestones data to study the progress and achievement of our different subgroups (Ex. Ed, males vs. females, racial and ethnic performance, etc.).
--	---

What does the demographic data tell you?	Data shows that our minority subgroups are generally closing gaps in regards to grade level standards mastery and achievement. There is a more equal distribution of students in the Levels of Achievement compared to previous years, although we definitely still have work to do. Some of our Exceptional Education students demonstrated grade level standards mastery. Many of this subgroup did not demonstrate such mastery, but they did generally demonstrate positive growth.

3. NEEDS IDENTIFICATION AND ROOT CAUSE ANALYSIS

3.1 Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Read the trends and patterns summaries from each section of the data analysis process. Use the information in these summaries to complete 3.2 and 3.3. Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.2. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Coherent Instructional: Summarize the coherent instructional system trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Overall, findings indicate that Miller County Elementary is functioning at an "operational level" in regards to Coherent Instruction. Faculty and staff members are working to understand teacher clarity principles and to apply their knowledge in their instructional practices. As a result, teachers have a deeper understanding of the true rigor of standards, and students are able to take more ownership and responsibility for their learning. Since teachers are working to have that deeper understanding of standards and what students need to be able to do to demonstrate mastery of standards, we are able to better determine what we need to do to support teachers and students so that mastery and growth towards mastery is achieved.
--	---

Effective Leadership: Summarize the effective leadership trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Overall, findings indicate that Miller County Elementary is functioning at an "operational level" in regards to Effective Leadership. Administrators work collaboratively with teacher leaders, especially those who are part of the School Improvement Team, to use student learning data to make decisions that will positively impact student learning. As a result of open and clear communication, and a result of a "data driven" culture; student, teacher, and leader needs are addressed consistently and effectively.
---	--

Professional Capacity: Summarize the professional capacity trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Overall, findings indicate that Miller County Elementary is functioning at an "operational level" in regards to Professional Capacity. There is evidence of shared decision-making and problem solving as part of the school culture at Miller County Elementary. Data is utilized to determine professional development needs along with student learning, student growth, and student achievement data. Again, as a result of the "data driven" and collaborative culture of the school, identification of student, teacher, and leader needs are addressed consistently and effectively.
---	--

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Family and Community Engagement: Summarize the family and community engagement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Overall, findings indicate that Miller County Elementary is functioning at an "operational level" in regards to Family and Community Engagement. Miller County Elementary works to create an environment that welcomes, encourages, and connects family and community members to the school consistently. Communication is consistent and is provided often in order to keep parents informed of expectations and student progress. Parents are encouraged to participate in various school-sponsored activities that are designed to provide important information about how to determine student growth and achievement, and parents are encouraged to provide feedback about what the school is doing well and what we can do to improve.
Supportive Learning Environment: Summarize the supportive learning environment trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Overall, findings indicate that Miller County Elementary is functioning at an "operational level" in regards to providing a supportive learning environment. Miller County Elementary provides a supportive, well-managed, yet challenging learning environment on a consistent basis. Teacher clarity practices that are applied to instructional practices in the classroom enable teachers to teach to the intended rigor level in which the standards are written. Such practices also allow students to self-monitor their progress in order to allow for a two-way communication process when teachers provide feedback about their progress towards mastery of standards.
Demographic and Financial: Summarize the demographic and financial trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Data from our most current Georgia Milestones Assessments suggests that we are making progress towards closing gaps between our subgroups of students at Miller County Elementary. For instance, students performing at Level I are not majority African Americans. There is a more even distribution. Our Special Education population also generally demonstrated positive growth based upon data that was reviewed. Our students identified as "gifted" performed at high levels as well, according to our Milestones data. We do need to continue to work to move more of our minority students into the proficient and distinguished categories. Progress, however, was noted. Financially, a large number of our students do live in poverty. This will continue to be a challenge for us to overcome because students who live in poverty do have so much to overcome in order to be successful in school. We must continue to work to level the playing field for those students as best as we can do so. Also, in regards to finance, we have utilized money that has been provided to combat loss of learning wisely based upon our data. There is concern from educators about what will happen as these funds are not available moving forward to provide some of the much needed instruction that has been made possible through this funding mechanism.

Strengths and Challenges Based on Trends and Patterns

Student Achievement: Summarize the student achievement trends and patterns observed by the team while completing this section of the report. What are the important trends and patterns that will support the identification of student, teacher, and leader needs?	Large percentages of our 3rd and 5th grade students achieved the minimum Lexile goal for their grade levels. However, just over 50% achieved the grade level goal in regards to CCRPI. Third grade students had a strong performance on Milestones overall. More students performed at the "distinguished" level in Math than they did at the "beginning learner" level in 3rd grade. This is especially encouraging because these students are the first ones to be in our current Math curriculum since they arrived in Kindergarten. Initial data study indicates that achievement levels on Milestones for 4th and 5th grade is steady and consistent in comparison to previous years, and this data also includes several students who only enrolled in testing grade levels at Miller County Elementary this school term.

IDEA – Special Education, Economically Disadvantaged Children, and English Learners.

Using the summaries in 3.1 and other local data, describe the strengths and challenges or answer the guiding questions for each program. Include strengths and challenges related to: a) general program implementation, and b) students and adults involved in or affected by the program. Focus on strengths and challenges that will assist in the identification of needs during 3.3. Watch the Identifying Need webinar for additional information and guidance.

Strengths	Data study indicates that students who fit in these categories are generally demonstrating positive growth towards achieving grade level standards mastery. Our third grade students that are included in these categories are generally closer to achieving grade level mastery than those in 4th and 5th grades, based upon Milestones results. This is encouraging because these are the students who have been enrolled in school for three out of the four years that the current leadership team has been in place. The practices and expectations outlined by the current leadership team, and agreed upon by the teaching staff, really seems to be making a positive impact in regards to closing the learning gap and encouraging student growth as a result of curriculum decisions that have been made.
-------------------------	--

Challenges	The major challenge that exists for students who fall into these categories is that they enter school so far behind as a result of circumstances beyond their control. As a result, they seem to have to constantly be in a battle to "catch up", while our teachers work so diligently to provide remedial interventions that are necessary in order to close the gaps that exist. An additional challenge that exists is the lack of parental support and understanding of how to best help their children (in many cases) for students who fall into these categories.

Required Questions

1. In developing this plan, briefly describe how the school sought advice from individuals (teachers, staff, other school leaders, paraprofessionals, specialized instructional support personnel, parents, community partners, and other stakeholders).	Miller County Elementary sought input from faculty, staff, and students, as well as parents and stakeholders, by utilizing various surveys. Everyone associated with Miller County Elementary had the opportunity to provide feedback. Furthermore, a representative team of teachers assembled themselves together with administration to review student learning data from the previous year and to plan collaboratively for the upcoming school term. All parents and stakeholders were provided with the opportunity to participate in the parent feedback session on the second day of this session to provide specific feedback. A survey was also created to gather input from all staff members for professional learning so that differentiated professional development can be provided to our staff members as well.
2. Describe how the school will ensure that low-income and minority children enrolled in the Title I school are not served at disproportionate rates by ineffective, out-of-field, or inexperienced teachers.	We will ensure that all students are taught by teachers who are rated as effective based upon TKES ratings. We will ensure that all students are taught by teachers and staff who have appropriate certification. We will see to place students with experienced teachers as much as possible. When students are taught by inexperienced teachers, we will see to not place them in such a classroom for consecutive school terms. We will work to create rosters that reflect the general population of our school as much as is possible so that no particular classroom is disproportionate.
3. Provide a general description of the Title I instructional program being implemented at this Title I school. Specifically define the subject areas to be addressed and the instructional strategies/methodologies to be employed to address the identified needs of the most academically at-risk students in the school. Please include services to be provided for students living in local institutions for neglected or delinquent children (if applicable).	The Title I instructional program at Miller County Elementary seeks to "level the playing field" for our at-risk students by providing additional support over and above what is provided by the local school system. Subject areas addressed include ELA, writing, and math. ELA in general is a major area of concern for Miller County Elementary. To combat this challenge, we will continue utilizing Reading Wonders. We will continue to utilize iStation resources for intervention and progress monitoring purposes for students in Tier 2 and Tier 3. We will continue to utilize our Reading interventionist to provide remediation and interventions for Tier 2 and Tier 3 students, including Seeing Stars usage with our K-2nd students. We are also working to have all of our teachers of reading to participate in LETRS training. Furthermore, in addition to grade level reading instruction, students who are below grade level will also be provided with extra 30-45 minute reading instruction on their level each day. Teachers will continue to use Write Score to sure up our writing instruction delivery. We will continue to utilize Illustrative Math and iLearn as our primary curriculum and Extra Math for fact fluency practice and assessment.

4. If applicable, provide a description of how teachers, in consultation with parents, administrators, and pupil services personnel, will identify eligible children most in need of services in Title I targeted assistance schools/programs. Please include a description of how the school will develop and implement multiple (a minimum of 2) objective, academic-based performance criteria to rank students for service. Also include a description of the measurable scale (point system) that uses the objective criteria to rank all students.	Not applicable

We work closely with our PK teachers and staff members who are in a different building than our K-5 students regarding the learning needs of students prior to their entry into Kindergarten. PK students also came for a tour of our facilities prior to the end of the school term. NOTE: Miller County Bright From the Start PK students will attend Miller County Elementary beginning in August 2023. This should make the transition to K a bit smoother.
6. 7. Describe how the school will support efforts to reduce the overuse of discipline practices that remove students from the classroom, specifically addressing the effects on all subgroups of students.	We will work to be proactive in the area of student discipline. We will teach rules, expectations, and procedures clearly and consistently to begin with. We will then work to provide meaningful professional development in regards to dealing with diverse learners so that teachers and staff members are more empathetic towards students.
