- In honor of Black History Month, we are having a bit of trivia today! This is how we will play: Every student is eligible to play each day. You may take your trivia answer to Mrs. Donna Hill. Please write your answer on a full piece of paper with the date, your name, and grade level indicated. All correct answers will be placed in a bucket and one will be selected to win a candy bar. Our first trivia question is: Who Am I: I am presently a civil rights activist, but my claim to fame came very early in life. My family moved to New Orleans, Louisiana when I was very young. In 1960, when I was six years old, my parents responded to a request from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and volunteered me to be the first black student to participate in the integration of a white school in the United States. Each morning when I arrived at school, I was escorted into the building by officers while an angry mob would throw things at me to discourage me from attending. Someone even said of me, "She showed a lot of courage. She never cried. She didn't whimper. She just marched along like a little soldier, and we're all very, very proud of her." Not bad for a six-year-old! Who am I?
