WILLIAMSBURG COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT GIFTED AND TALENTED TEACHER PRESENTS AT STATEWIDE CONFERENCE

Mrs. Katie Floyd of Williamsburg County School District presented at South Carolina's Gifted Education Conference last week on December 4, 2024. The title of her session was "Eduprotocols: Bring Your Teaching into Focus." Mrs. Floyd was requested to present by the conference organizers. It was reported that she represented Williamsburg County exceptionally well, and both sessions were full. Mrs. Floyd is the Advanced Academic Placement teacher at Kenneth Gardner Leadership Academy and the Advanced Academic Placement Lead teacher for the district.

Eduprotocols are lesson "Frames" that can be used daily, weekly, and all year long to unleash and enhance student experience/engagement in class. They can be done in less than one class period and are easily adapted to all grade levels and content areas. SCCGE seeks to empower, endow, and enrich the instructional and leadership abilities of South Carolina's teachers of gifted in their mission to enhance and nurture the potential of gifted and talented students as they strive to achieve their personal best and contribute to their communities. The Consortium, in accordance with NAGC denounces systemic racism and supports racial justice for students of all races, genders, cultures, and religions.

Founded in 1978, the South Carolina Consortium for Gifted Education has been a primary source of professional development training for school district personnel involved in the design and implementation of educational services for gifted and talented students.
