Continue to earn while continuing your college education

Class of 2022 seniors interested in pursuing a fast track to employment in information technology: Access Point is for you.

"This course is great. Access Point is opening up doors for me and my future. You don't need to know all the ins and outs of coding. The course work, instructors and support have been outstanding."

- Fumi (Current Student)

Access Point guides you to your first job as a software developer and to a software engineering career track by learning how to:

» Build solutions to real-world challenges at area companies with Java and other platforms

» Hone your ability to create highly useful applications

» Design fun games as a path to learning

» Load, transform, and write data from current systems

» Shape user interfaces that are intuitive and innovative

» Construct cutting edge APIs

» Test applications using the latest technologies

» Drive data management with modern approaches to processing large amounts of data

Technology drives almost everything: Bring your perspective to shape the future.
