From Small Footsteps

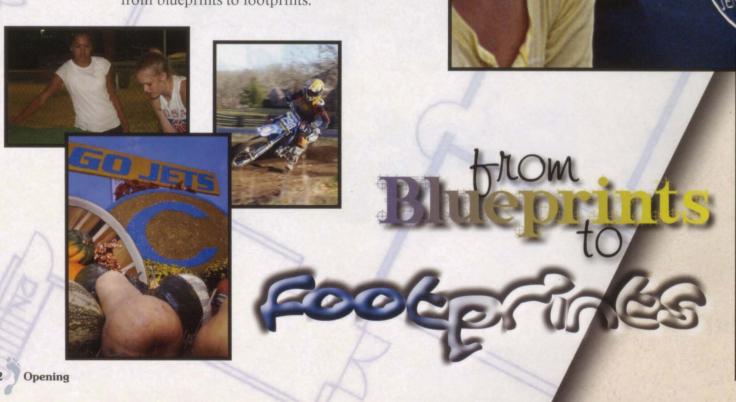

C.C.H.S. To outsiders, those four letters mean little or nothing. To us, those four letters are what we believe in. They set the traditions and define what we do with our lives. C.C.H.S is where we take our first small footsteps into our future; where we find pride in our accomplishements.

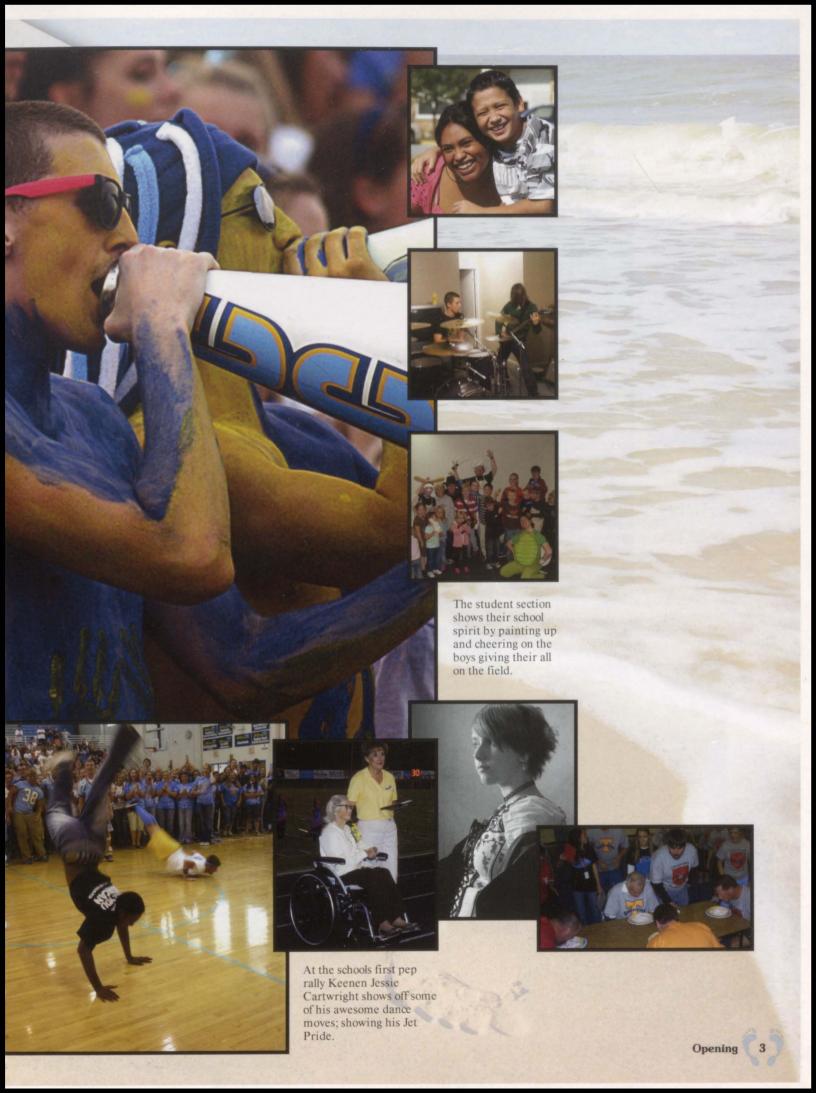

We Leave Footprints

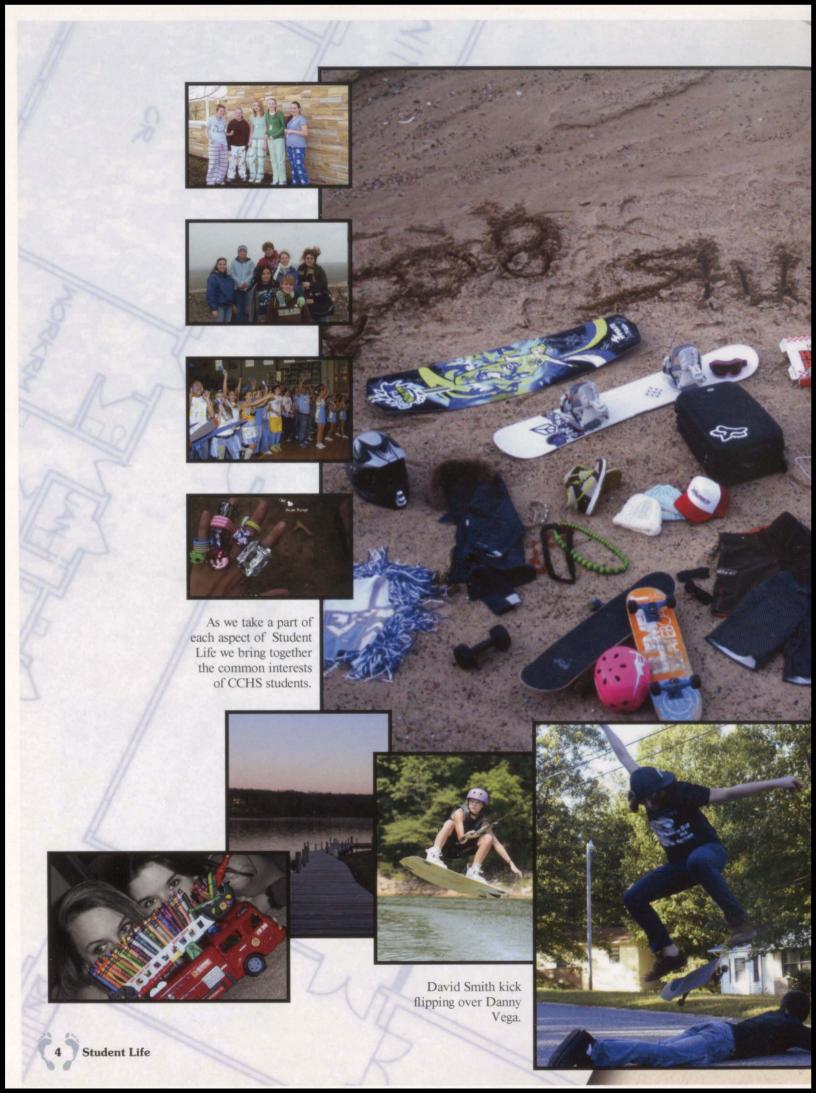

If walls could talk, they would tell the story of our glorious school, and of the footprints of alumni, teachers, and students who have shaped the history of the school.

For Others to Follow

Could the architect have possibly known when he drew up the blueprints what a legacy those who walked the halls would leave behind? We are here to add to the incredible story of how far we have come from blueprints to footprints.

From Skate to Wake

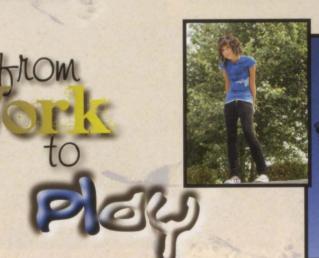

Moment by moment the night turns to day, lighting the skies. The sun will shine, and for all that time we won't waste a minute inside. Using life's blueprints we are catching the waves of life and shredding

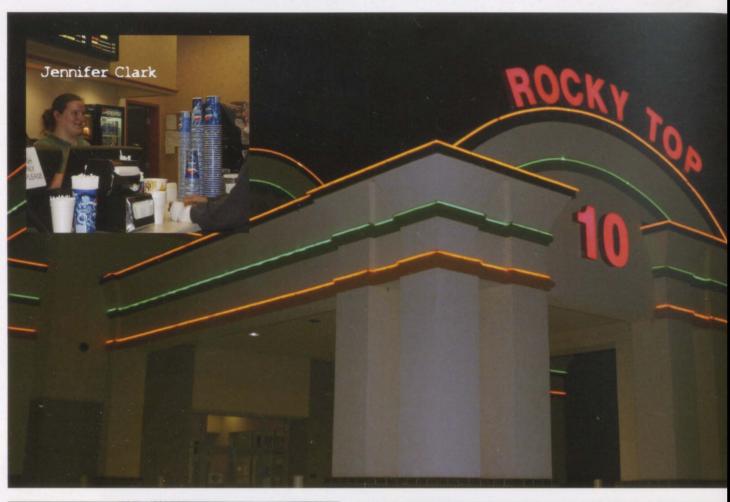

With Talents and Passions

the hills of the future that we will build for ourselves. Day by day and step by step we leave our footprints for others to see. We make a mark for ourselves that will change our lives and build a better tomorrow.

We Created our Own Fashions

Whether we choose to travel around the world, or chill in our hometown with the hobbies of our choice, we all leave our mark; our leagacy for others to follow.

After a long week at school, I woke up on Saturday morning and headed to Big O's to grab a coconut donut and chocolate milk with my besties. After enjoying the company of my friends and my scrumptious breakfast, my friends and I head over to Plateau Lanes for some good ole fashion bowling fun! Once the fierce competition on the lanes had ended, a tremendous hunger for food and refreshments was demanding our attention. So naturally, we congregated at The Ultimate Drink Stop: Sonic, where drinks are half price from 2 until 4. While I enjoyed a Sonic cheeseburger and some hot tasty French fries, a friend of mine suggested that we go see a movie at Rocky Top 10. The idea was a success, and so was the movie. When the film ended, we had to keep with Crossville tradition and in doing that we headed to Super Wal-Mart to see what was going on. Once the glorious Wal-Mart had lost its luster, we headed to the sketchiest place in town The Artist Corner. There we bought delicious Cappuccino's and Jones Sodas, and proceeded to check our Myspace's. When our cappuccinos were cold and the artist corner was closing, we did what every teenager in Crossville does and cruised town. When the time grew late and my gas tank was low, my friends and I headed home only to start the fun again tommorrow.

Puilot balle Spirit Let Got GameGame

The theme of Homecoming this year was "Let the Games Begin! The freshman theme was Olympic Games. The sophomore theme was Clue, the junior theme was video games and the senior theme was board games. Each day, students were showing their JET pride by dressing up to the selected theme of that day. The pep rally was full of excitement as the SENIOR class participation was unlike ever before. Everyone was on their feet supporting their JETS! The majority of the student body was involved by going to the First National Bank bonfire following this years parade as we, I as the Homecoming game against White County. The student section was very lively in showing their spirit by wearing their Blue and Gold proudly. The half-time activities were very exciting as Senior, Jessica Hayes, was crowned 2007-2008 Football Homecoming Queen Way to go to all students who participated in this year's Homecoming events. It was better than ever

Baskets vs. Rhea.Co.

Although our homecoming was cut short due to snow days, the one thing we were not cut short on was Jet Pride. When Monday rolled around our only dress up day was Pajama Day. The pajama turn out was tremendous. Teachers and students alike were all amped up for arriving at school in their Pajama's. Tuesday was the big game vs. Rhea County and Spirit day. Students showed up at school with their faces painted and shining with Jet Pride. When afternoon came and the pep rally began, the gym thumped with excitement and music from the Jet Jazz Band. The Humpty Dump was as famous as ever, and the Cupid Shuffle drew students to the floor. Dave Kirk made a special appearance for the second car drawing, making two lucky "Jets" excited with anticipation for the final drawing held in May. The pep rally ended with the class competition "J. E. T. S" The Seniors came out victorious. The Big game began with the Girls tipping off at six, and after their blowout victory, Ginny Cole was crowned Queen of the Homecoming Court, and Chase Wood was pronounced King. The Boys tipped off shortly thereafter, and were able to triumph over their opponents. The evening ended in two slaughtering victories and a new king and queen.

Let's face it, in high school, most students work. Whether it's a 3 to 10 shift at Sonic or 4 to 9:30 shift at Rocky Top 10. The majority of "JETS" are employed in town. Some kids work to pay bills, like car insurance or their cell phone. Others work because they don't have anything else to do and the money is good. At one point or another we've all encountered the planet's worst boss or the terrible tipper. But, when Paycheck Friday rolls around, we are finally able to see the fruit's of our labor, and that makes our hard work seem worth while. It does not matter if you are a courtesy clerk at Kroger, a waitress at Boston's, or a cook serving up cheesy beefy melts (the greatest thing to come out of Taco Bell since tacos. Our jobs may all be very different indeed, but the one thing many of us "JETS" have in common is a time clock.

Getting involved in sports is great. Don't get discouraged. There is a sport out there for every Jet. Jets just like you!

Basket Ballin'

The Lady Jets basketball season started at the beginning of the summer. We put tons of time into what we wanted our team to be. We ran and lifted wieghts every day for five days a week. Once we got on the court it was MAGIC. We lost four starters last year, yet the chemistry and ability to work hard together was still here and very strong. Everyone has stepped up. We were willing to give it all we had for our school and team. That has shown in each and every single game we play.

The year was a new beginning in so many ways. We got new coaches and a new team. From day one Coach Epperson was all about Lady Jet Basketball. He put all he had into making every single one of us be the best we could be, on and off the court. New plays and a new attitude were also introduced, which, after losing our last coach made it hard to deal with at first. Things started to fall into place nicely. Coach Whitson was our rock from day one. Always serious when necessary, but at the same time, tons of fun. He works hard for all the girls. The coaches have helped us achieve all we have.

Building Team Spirit

Every year begins with cheerleading camp. The squad practiced all summer for the title of camp champs. This year the squad won 1st place in the home pom competition, a dance that the squad makes up at home and takes to camp. The squad was privilaged to bring home the coveted banana, which is given to the most sprited squad at camp.

This year was a rebuilding year for the squad. They started with a new coach, Mrs. Emmy McCoy who is a former cheerleader for the Jets. Coach Em, as the girls call her, whipped the squad into shape with conditioning, stunts and dance practices.

Mrs. McCoy did have some help from the captains, Ginny Cole and Emily Upchurch, who are seniors this year. Kayla Blouin, the only other senior, helped the squad at practices and games, helping Mrs. McCoy with her new cheer coach position. The squad worked hard at practices and games and it showed in their performances. Through wins and losses, fans always saw the girls there to pump up the crowd and cheer on our Jets.

success in their first year of high school football. Though the team may not be very big in number and size, they still have a lot of heart and will not back down. favorite thing about the team is how we come together as one and play until the last whistle blows" says Wesley Lewis. Freshman football is a new experience for all the athletes because they come together from different schools to form one team. Most may not know each other at the beginning, but in the end they become friends. John Young #75 comments, "Compared to elementary football, freshman year is a whole other level with quicker,

The CCHS Freshman Football team has had great bigger players from different counties who are not just your friends from across town. For the players' first year, freshman football requires more conditioning and more strength training. Because of the small number of players, the season requires extra amounts of both. freshman work harder and harder everyday to finally reach that Friday Night Lights experience as sophomores on the varsity team. The young Jets continue to show their

Making the Tackle

Daniel Gonzalez and others assist in the take down. When asked, What goes through your head when you are on defense, Trent Lewis replied, "I really just want to rip someone's head off."

Shane McGonnigle said that his number one motivation was the seniors because they had great leadership in making them better for the future.

Adam Ricketts favorite part of football was, "Hittin' people and just being out there with my buddies."

When asked how it felt to score the first touchdown of the season, Andrew Phipps replied, " I couldn't believe it at first. It felt great. Then I got the priveledge of holding T.D.'s field goal."

When asked what his favorite part of the season was, Alex Cotter replied, "When I started my first varsity game against Stone."

Bobby Griffin said, "Ever since I was little, I never thought that football would go by this fast. After 13 years of playing I have never been with a team that I loved as brothers as much as our team this year."

"The craziest thing that happened this season was when I got diagnosed with ankle cancer," says Zaq Pearson

Time Out

When asked how he spent the bus rides home, Kevin Smith (#73) said, "I listen to my ipod and chill out thinking about the game."

Block for Me

When asked about his favorite part of the season, Travis Whittenburg, (right, with ball) said, "When I scored my first touchdown. I was very excited and I remember celebrating with Zaq in the endzone."

On Offence

Eric Fitzgerald (77) trying to catch up to block for the corner back, says his number one motivation is his brother, Tyler.

Building Up the Team

The CCHS Jets 2007 football team fought hard this season. They worked day in and day out and never gave up, no matter what the final score showed. The team consisted of seven seniors, who were great roll models to the other players. The entire team played like veterans by coming together and always having fun. All the players had a great season on the field and in their classrooms acting as leaders. Coming up short with an 0 - 10 record was a huge loss for the team, but it will only strengthen the Jet's determination in the upcoming years. Go Jets!

- Jeremiah Limberg

Footprints on the Green

Have you ever tried playing golf in 108 degree weather? Most of us haven't, but the CCHS Jets and Lady Jets golf team found themselves in this type of heat many times this season. It was not always easy, but our dedicated team showed true Jet Pride. It is this pride and dedication that has proven successful for the team in both local and statewide competition.

Jet and Lady Jet golf team members, Stormi Henley, Jessica Barnwell, Sean Burk, and Cody King went to districts this year. All players showed improvement in their game and style. The hours of practice finally paid off when it came down to regional and state competition.

Congratulations to the Lady Jets for placing second in the tournament, as well as Cody King for placing in the top five. Some of the members of our teams made it to the regional tournament. Sean Burke shot 80, and Cody King shot 88 in this competition. Also, congatulations go to Stormi Henley who made it to state competition. Sean has played golf all four years in high school, but not only that, he has been playing since sixth grade. Stormi and Cody have played all three years that they have been in high school, and will, hopefully, continue next year.

Setting it High

When aked what is your favorite memory of being on the team this season, Abby Patton responds, "The bus rides, eating at Bojangles, and beating Bradley County.

Setting Our Ground

The Lady Jets came into this year going all out. Having only one senior, Ashley Jay, on the team this year, being young did not show in their performance. With coach Kiley Gargac behind them, the Lady Jets came game-ready to every match.

back Coming from only one win last season, they put up a fight against expectations. They were a team starting scratch from physically and mentally. Through it all, the Lady Jets did whatever it took to be the best team they could be. The Lady Jets accomplished their goal with their first win against Bradley County in many years. This year, the team has had the biggest student section ever helping to boost their confidence while playing. Throughout the season the team showed great improvement from last year and seemed to always have fun while doing so. They learned how to play as a team and ultimately became sisters. When asked how do you like being the only senior the on Ashley Jay says, "It has its ups and downs, but mostly ups. The down was that no one on the team was in my grade to share my senior year with because all the girls who would have been seniors are at SMHS. The ups were that we had a team of amazing girls who respected me as captain and also treated me like a sister. There are many more ups but too many to list in a yearbook quote. I love those girls and Coach G. with all my heart and I wish them the best of luck next year."

"Some people think soccer is a matter of life or death...It's so much more." -Author Unknown

"I'm the only person on the soccer team that doesn't even need to look at the ball to be AWESOME!" said Courtney Pearson.

When asked how the team had been affected after losing so many seniors, Mary Patterson said, "To be honest, I thought our team would struggle a lot, but the underclassmen have really stepped up this year.

"Playing on the field is awesome because you get to hit people and slide tackle and goalie is fun but you can get hurt really bad like I did. Having a concussion is not what I expected in my fourth game!"

Replied Kendall Yates

When asked what is up with this face, Lanna Martin said," Coach Cub just called me fat!

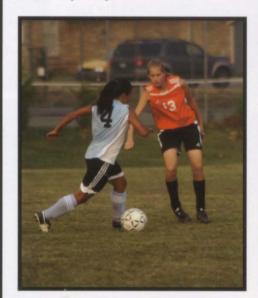

When asked how it feels to be a freshman starting on varsity, Rebecca Kennedy said, "It's really cool that I'm starting varsity because I know I've earned that spot."

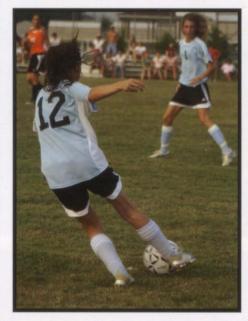

Fast Feet

"Thee livest. Report me and my cause aright to the unsatisfied, because frailty thy name is woman!... In other words, I'm really fast," said Genny Kemp.

Shielding

"In this play I'm using my butt to shield the girl away from the ball... cause that's all I know how to do!" said Taylor Williams.

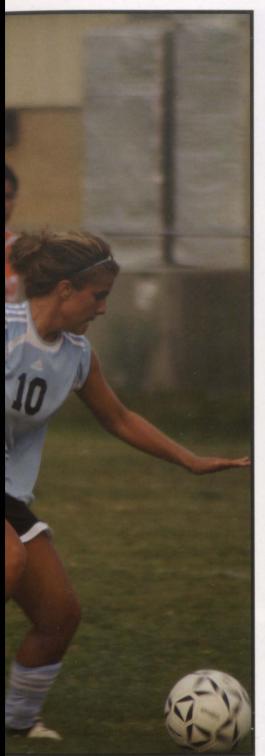

Playmakers

"Victoria and I play really well together. In this picture we're about to do some crazy giveand-goes," said Madison Davis.

When asked whether she likes playing soccer or basketball better, Missy Bargayo replied, "I like soccer better because I can run someone over and it's okay.

Building Toward A Common Goal

Well, I would have to say this season was awesome! We got off to a good start by hosting a pre-season tournament to see just how well we might do this year. In the tournament, we played very well and couldn't wait to start playing our district games. We worked so hard preparing for the season ahead.

As the season started we lost to some teams that we shouldn't have, but we knew that we had another chance to get them back in the district tournament. However, we went undefeated in all non-district games.

When tournament time came around, we played Walker Valley for our first game. We won 2-1 to go to the semi-finals. In the semi-finals we played the undefeated Cleveland and lost 2-0, making it the last game of our season.

Our season ended too soon, but we won't forget all the fun times we had at practices and before and after games. I think some of the best times were before the games when Coach Angie gave us her "Angie Speeches", (which are the best and most funny speeches ever), and of course going out on the field every game shouting our traditional "Kaysume."

Over all I thought that we had an amazing season and some great memories. Our seniors were the greatest seniors ever and helped us out on and off the field. Our coaches, Cubby and Angie, were awesome and they made soccer fun and made us love the game. Our team was great this year and I'm looking forward to next year!

-Taylor Williams

"Honestly I was just trying to kill that bug. That darn ball was in the way. Oh well...Next time," said Macy Qualls.

Walking Down the Lane

Out of all the sports at CCHS, bowling is definitely the most unique. It takes great concentration and willpower to create the same exact shot everytime. To some, bowling is a game of luck and chance. However, to those on the team, it is a game of strategy. When playing, one must realize how the oil on the lanes will react with the type of ball being thrown, how much hook should be used, and/or should one even hook at all. These and other important questions must be considered before each ball is thrown. The CCHS bowling team had a good season this year.

As a team, the record was 7-5; winning 7 and losing 5. The team showed their hard work coming out of the season with more wins than losses. At each match the team had fun and never quit. They also enjoyed being in the company of other schools' teams, and learning new strategies and ideas from them.

At the end of the games ,and most importantly, at the end of the season, is wasn't about the number of pins knocked down or who won the match. It was all about the team, the teammates, and most of all, Jet Pride.

Building Endurance

The CCHS cross country team had an outstanding year. Both the girls and boys varsity teams set school records at different meets throughout the season. These meets include Baylor, Chickamauga Dam, Fletcher Park, and Steeplechase. For regionals this year, at Melton Hill Park, both teams showed an amazing amount of effort. The girls finished in the top three teams and got a chance to go to state! Since it is such a young team, there are high expectations for the CCHS cross country runners in the next couple years.

Takin' the Lunch Pail to Work

In his second year as head coach at CCHS, Coach Scott Eggleston brought his fiery demeanor and innovative coaching style to every gym he stepped foot in this year. As a result, the CCHS Jets Boys basketball team brought their proverbial lunch pail to work, treating each game like a business trip. Coach Eggleston instilled in his guys hard work, fundamentally sound defense, and great self-discipline. These primary focuses kept the Jets in a lot of close games throughout the course of the season.

Off the court the Jets are a class act. Good character is just one more admirable quality belonging to this Jet squad. As a team, the Jets basketball team accumulated a B average for the first semester as Landon LaSalle, Jeremy Jacobs, Brent Wyatt, Matt Jones, and Joe Blalock earned early lunch passes. Basketball is a demanding sport, This Jets team is classy; you wont find them in Court.

Foundations for the Future

This year has been exciting for the Jet's freshman basketball team. With a regular season record of 9 wins and 3 losses, the Jets were placed as the number one seed in the Freshman regional tournament. This is the first year that CCHS has placed first in the tournament. The accomplishments of this year's freshmen show real promise for our future Jet program.

Although there have been a few outstanding individuals, the success of this season has been a result of the team as a whole. Due to their strong work ethic during practice, they have progressively gotten better throughout the year. It was a pleasure helping them in their transition from elementary to high school basketball.

The team would like to take this opportunity to thank Coach "Egg" and Coach Foster for teaching them the game. They also want to express their gratitude to Mrs. Graham, Mr. Hall, teachers, parents, support personnel and our fantastic fans! Special thanks go out to our trainers Cody Young and Victoria Davis, Doug, "the man who's done it all", and our manager Shelby VanWinkle.

This was a really great year for everyone involved, and it raises the bar for future freshman classes.

I would like to thank the players for making my first experience as a coach one that was truly amazing.

The participants also of the activities that everyone has come to enjoy. were the torch bearers, and showed great pride in Each participant was on a float. Their fun began with being allowed to throw candy out to the enthusiastic crowd that lined the parade route. The parade gave the participants a chance to meet with his or her hugger.

The huggers have also become a intergral part of the games. They are volunteers who encourage and help the participants.

The Special Olympics was designed to let people who have special needs participate in sports that they normally would not get to do. It gives them a chance being chosen to carry the olympic torch around the track. The National Anthem was sung by a former participant of the games.

In a competition where everyone is a winner, the competitors showed grace and skill in events like softball throw, kickball, one hundred dash, and basketball. To top

Making a Racket

CCHS Tennis is a vital part of our spring sports life. Tennis terminology is another aspect very few It takes a very talented person to be able to hit a small, have dived into. A tennis ace is one who has furry neon green ball with a racket. Speaking of tennis mastered the backhand, never clips the line, and balls, there is much controversy over the color of this ball. Neon green or yellow? Or is it even neon? Maybe it is considered lime green. Some say it is flourescent vellow. And with pressureless balls it's tough to tell where they are out! This controversy is just another thing that makes tennis a challenge. Tiffany "T.P." Phillips coached this hard core tennis team. With 12 players of varied experience, this season will be one to remember. To the average person, tennis may seem confusing. The ball going back and forth over the net and that weird way of keeping score; "love-thirty".

knows when to use a drop shot. This pro has made it to exhibition tournaments where he was able to show off that beautiful follow-through after executing perfect groundstroke. Hitting the ball with the head of the racket is no problem when performing on inside-out of jamming a kick serve. An ace can hit a lob to get the match point and never goes into no-man's land. Nothing is better than a good ralley in a singles match. This is a fascinating and vastly underrated sport that all -Danielle Rose should try.

Footprints on the Field

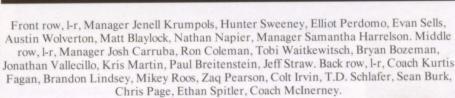

The 2007-2008 CCHS Jet Soccer team promised to deliver some very memorable moments for all of their adoring fans. A new coach, Kurtis Fagan, a CCHS alumni himself, pre-season practices and tournaments, made the season successful. The team had great leadership with captains T.D. Schlafer and Kris Martin always keeping a great attitude. Elliot Perdomo, Ethan Spitler, and Mikey Roos kept the opposing defenders on edge with their seriously spectacular foot skills. Also, with Ron Coleman as keeper, and defenders such as Matt Blaylock and Sean Burk, nothing was getting in the goal. Nathan Napier served as a fierce intimidation factor with his numerous tatoos and rugged beard. With the dedication the team possessed overall, these players created excitement and achieved victory.

Wrestling is the only sport where guys can wear tights and still feel masculine. They get only 6 minutes to try and overcome their adversary. All the wrestlers seemed to enjoy the sport. Although, there were more enthusiastic comments about the bus rides and food. However, the main thing that was continuously brought up was the pinning and throwing of their opponent. "Its the only sport where you get to throw people and get away with it." said Jake Kilby. This could prove the point that boys enjoy fighting way too much!!!

As it is easily observed, some of the wrestlers do get in rather akward positions, but it's all done in the spirit of competition. Even if they didn't come out the winner, they still had a chance to challenge themselves.

They are always learning new ways to twist and toss people, and to manage a way to keep their adversary pinned down for the count.

Its both a physical and mental strain for the wrestlers. Running continuous laps and trying to retain tips to better their style keeps them at their top performance level.

They all seemed eager to learn and highly respect their coaches. "I am out here cause I love Coach Cook!" said Tabitha Fox.

Sliding Towards Home

The 2008 Jets returned seven lettermen from last season, and featured a line up of extremely young talent. Fifteen of the nineteen man roster are freshmen and sophmores. Head Coach Dave Prichard led the Jets in what was his second season at the helm of the Cumerland County Program. New to the staff this season is Assistant Coack Eric McAfee. Coach McAfee originates from Jefferson City where he played for the Patriots for four seasons. He is recent graduate of Emory and Henry College where he served as an outfielder for the Wasps during the 2004-2007 seasons. Coach McAfee said, "I'm really glad I came this awesome school to be part of the baseball program. These boys have worked hard, and will be very successful."

As the Jets prepared for the 2008 season, Coach Prichard said of the team, "I'm excited about the 2008 season and our squad. We are extremely young but we have the ability to play great baseball. It's great to have Coach McAfee on board. Pre-season practice went very well, and we could tell we had a strong team. We really had to stress consistency this year on both the offensive and defensive sides of the ball. The end of the season will tell how much we have learned. The quicker our guys mature, the better we will be!"

Stepping Up To The Plate

Coming on strong a second year, the Lady Jets worked hard in pre-season and got ready to step up to the plate. The Lady Jets worked toward a strong competitive season and looked forward to many wins. Strong leadership was evident in the three outstanding seniors as they led the team toward a positive season. Destiny Thompson a senior said, "Working with the girls this year has been a great experience. They're all wonderful in their own way. All of our coaching staff is wonderful and tough and pushed us toward our goal: district tournament." There were three new coaches joining the Lady Jets this year. Kiley Gargac, a teacher at Cumberland County High School, Jessie Inman, a teacher at Crab Orchard, and a former softball player for the Lady Jets, and Rick Davis, the coach of the Crossville Cyclones. Kayla S.

> Cole was the team's manager and did a fantastic job keeping the girls focused. Along with five returning Lady Jet players, there were seven freshman to add to the team. Seniors Jessica Lancianese and Niki Hassler both stressed that their goal this year was to beat the previous year's record and to beat the Stone Memorial Lady Panthers. With new players to wear new uniforms, new coaches, and a new season, the Lady Jets were stepping it up to the plate for a successful year.

Starting from the Blocks

This year, the 2008 track team was joined by many new faces. Bruce Heady, after having previous experience coaching track at his former school, was asked to be the head coach. Under Coach Heady, the team grew in size to fifty track members.

To make sure the season would go off without a hitch, Coach Bruce Heady proposed the idea of selling cokes; so that the team would be financially stable and most importantly, look supa' fly in their new sweats. Coach Heady also had the great idea of making our track schedule more....'homey' This year the track team had 5 meets at home. In the past only one or two were scheduled for home.

While the coaches were preparing for an amazing season, the runners also practiced everyday after school for their event(s). The runners showed their dedication and hard work by practicing everyday after school despite the weather, in hopes that the hard work would pay off. Sure enough, it did.

Freshman cheerleading started during the summer with 6 am practices, 3 days a week to get us ready for Cheer Camp at Tennessee Tech. We learned a dance routine to perform at camp and some cheers. All the hard work was worth it because we got camp champs! Camp was also a good chance to bond with the other freshman and varisty cheerleaders (even though the varisty cheerleaders made us drink out of sippy cups a couple of days at camp).

We weren't sure what to expect at our first pep rally, but it was a lot of fun. It was nothing like the pep rallies at elementary school. Even hearing "Go Home Freshman" was part of the fun. Some of the best parts of the pep rallies were dancing to the fight song, learning the dances Mrs. Snow taught everyone, and getting the freshmen yelling during the class competitions.

Cheering at our first freshman football game, we could feel the Jet Pride! At the first football games, we didn't know some of the cheers, but the varsity cheerleaders taught us more cheers throughout the season. Along with the cheers we already knew, we learned new basketball cheers so we were ready when basketball season started. We worked really hard to get the people in the stands to yell along with us.

The freshman and varisty squads have been taking tumbling classes this year and we are making great progress. Overall it's been a fun year and we can't wait until tryouts for next year's varsity squad!

From Nap Time to Study Time

Every student starts their education the same way.

We start off learning our basic abc's, numbers, shapes, manners, and of course there is naptime.

But as each year of our academic career goes on we apply more mechanics to this basic education.

With ABC's and Essays

The abc's turn into books, stories, essays, and research papers. The numbers and shapes transform into algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus, and statistics. Naptime becomes our breaks that every student looks forward to. Last but not least manners.

We Achieve Our Goals

Manners become discipline and respect towards fellow students, teachers, and of course yourself. All of these mechanics help you excel towards the goal every high school student wants to achieve. Walking the line at graduation and recieving your diploma.

Exciting Classes

"I like Honors English because Mrs. Pickard is an exciting teacher; she's always doing something funny." -Trista Christmas

Constructing our ABC's

I have always had a great love for reading books; just ask anyone who knows me. So it goes without saving the English(or Honors English for those of us a cut above the rest) is one of my favorite subjects. I mean a class that requires you to stick your nose in a book for an hour and half? You have to be kidding me if you think that is anything short of awesome.

Honors English 12 is undoubtedly my favorite of all the English classes I have had in high school. Granted, we were not given the privilege of reading Atlas Shrugged like those kids in Dual English, but Mr. McInerney made a fair substitute for Ayn Rand. Not only was his class informative, but he maintained a laid-back atmosphere, and he made it fun. Anybody who had him would say the same, and if they wouldn't, they're liars, pure and simple.

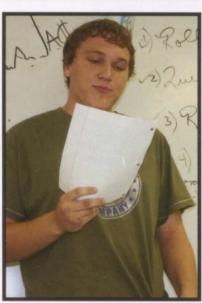

We were given the opportunity to read a few good stories in Mr. McInerney's class including Beowulf, Hamlet, and "A Modest Proposal". Of those three, "A Modest Proposal" piqued my interest the most; I guess I'm just sarcastic at heart, and satirical essays strike a chord in me. Hamlet was good, too, but if it hadn't been for the discussions we had I don't think I could have taken five full acts of a whiny, indecisively suicidal prince.

You might think that most of our time was spent reading books and writing essays, and while it's true that we did a lot of both, we spent a good portion of the class period on "Questions and Comments". I can remember many days when we would get D-Mac so far off-topic with our musings that half the period was gone before we even started any real work. I'm not sure if it was his intention, but I think "Questions and Comments" went very far toward ridding some of us of our fear of public speaking, so you could even say D-Mac's class was therapeutic.

In conclusion, I would just like to say that I've had a great time in all my English classes at CCHS. I believe we've got a good English program, and I'd like to thank all the teachers I've had over the last four years. I can only hope that next year's freshman get as much out of high school as I have, and I wish them the utmost luck.

What is the one subject that most students dread taking? Math. Pre-Algebra, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, etc. You name it most students dread it.

Yet some students are always looking to further their knowledge in this subject or at least enjoy the company of their classmates.

However, whether we want to admit it or not, math has a lot of pratical uses. You probably should have listened to your math teacher when they said that what they teach can be used in everyday life.

"Social Studies is the integrated study of the social sciences and humanities to promote civic competence." Social Studies is a very broad term that has many components. This includes, but is not limited to, economics, geography, law, anthropology, history, archaeology, religion, political science, and sociology. More often than not, one area will involve another in examining data.

Sociology deals with how members of a society stand with one as a whole and the effect of socioeconomic status and how that has an impact on society. History deals with past events and how they affect the present. The purpose of social studies is to keep the individual informed about what's going on in society and help people make decisions based on that.

-Sarah Hubbard

"When I was young, my father filled me with a love of the past; the family stories he had heard while growing up stretched all the way back to the Civil War. I grew up living in the history of the '60s and '70s, absorbing the news of Vietnam, Watergate, the civil rights movement, hippies, the counterculture, and rock and roll. There is nothing that reveals the heartbeat of the country more than the history, whether you're studying it or living

Social studies classes are the best way to embrace the world around you. Whether it history, geography, sociology, economoics, or government, the social sciences give you both the depth and broad spectrum of study that enble you to understand the past and the present, as well as what to anticipate the future.

Learning Science One Step at a Time

So I was asked by the yearbook staff to write about the science program our school uses and how I felt about it. Well as you can tell I decided to write this mini-essay thing. Our CCHS science education program is supercalifragilisticexpialidocius even though the thought of higher science classes sound somewhat atrocious. It is a very well organized program that has some spectacular teachers, my favorite in particular is Ms. Lovely, I'm super cool and awesome at tennis, Ms. Lav.

The effort put forth from the teachers in this program is great. They really care about you and what you learn in their classes. These teachers, work together for the good of all students and do an awesome job. But I came out of each science class feeling all sciency and what not. So without anymore rambling I will say one last thing,

Taking German was challenging. Although, it was one of the most interesting classes that I have taken during my high school years. Mrs. Maltby is a great teacher and those who take her class will learn alot in her class. Some say German is a hard language to learn, but it's really not. I found out that learning a new language is a lot easier to understand if you stay focused and pay attention.

My family is German and it was really interesting to learn about the lifestyle that my ancestors lived and made. If you come from a French or Spanish background, then you might find it more interesting in those classes. It is a lot of fun to learn about the culture that your family came from, and it makes the class easier.

I also took French and Spanish and learned about those cultures and their languages as well. Both of those classes were great and fun to be in, but there wasn't that extra challenge that there was in learning about the German language.

That is all....

CCHS Advanced Choir is known nationwide for their outstanding performances and shows. The sound of the bass, tenor, alto, and soprano parts all mixing together as one creates a bone-shaking and goosebump raising reaction. The director, Mrs. Kathy Snow, is one of the most enthusiastic and pleasant teachers around. She has been a teacher for thirteen years and has taught at CCHS for seven wonderful years.

They have won many trophies and awards since 2000, such as being crowned Grand Champions in 2004 on the Bahama's Cruise Festival, and have recently danced their way back to steal the crown again in 2007 for the show choir division. In 2006 they went to New York to compete in the Northern Music Festival. They won first place in the show choir, gospel, and mixed division.

This year they have done many concerts and shows including a fall semester show involving both Advanced Choir and vocal music classes called the 20th Century Celebration. They also did a Christmas Concert so they had to work extra hard fall semester.

In the spring, they went to Florida for the Southern Music Festival at Disney World. They competed in both show choir and gospel and did very well. Some of the highlights was laying on CoCoa Beach, visiting various theme parks, such as Sea World and Universal Studios, and eating at Bubba Gump Shrimp. It was a great bonding experience for the Advanced Choir before many talented seniors depart for their future college life.

A Blueprint for the Future

What do you remember most about your freshman year at CCHS? Do you remember feeling confident, or as though you belonged? Chances are, these were not your feelings. Moving from the safety of an elementary school into a high school setting can be intimidating.

During the freshman year, teenagers must learn to balance school work and their social lives. This year at CCHS, we began the Freshman Academy that seeks to assist our freshman with this challenge.

Within the Academy, there are two core teacher teams—the Blue and the Gold. Each group of teachers works with about 75 students per semester in order to provide a quality learning environment where students feel confident—as though they belong. Other teachers outside of the core areas adhere to the practices of the Freshman Academy. Of course, with any innovation in education, there must be a set of goals established to justify the change. For the 2007-2008 school year, those involved with promoting the small learning community concept decided that there were five aims for the first-time freshman: 1.) to encourage students to practice behaviors that will enable them to be successful in any classroom, 2.) to enable students to acquire enough credits to move to the sophomore level next school year, 3.) to decrease the disciplinary referral rate, 4.) to improve graduation rate, and 5.) to provide incentives that stimulate our students to strive for excellence.

It is impossible to predict the graduation rate for the Class of 2011, but the other goals are certainly being met. Success breeds excitement, and the Freshman Academy is the place to be!

Leaving our Footprints at CCAS

The LRE classsroom is a specailized classroom where students with learning disabilities can receive instruction that meets their specific learning needs. The LRE classroom focuses on skills that are necessary for living independently and skills that are necessary for getting and keeping a job.

Some of the tasks learned by our students are putting parts of items together, preparing food, and laundry services.

There are regular education classes that have a curriculum that enable them to go from the regular classroom to help in the LRE classes. Both groups of students benefit from this interaction by learning ways of dealing with others with special needs. These are always geared toward the future growth of the student.

Often students in the LRE classroom will have physical or medical issues that may make it more difficult for them to be fully involved in school activities, but no group of students have more school spirit or enthusiasm for doing their best and being successful at all they do.

Students participate in learning activities such as health and fitness. Nowhere is this more obvious than the Special Olympics event that takes place every year. The students participate in various sporting events, and everyone is a winner. This builds character, as well as self esteem.

H-wing is a place where learning happens every minute of every day. Students rely on the highly qualified faculty and staff to help them reach their fullest potential. At CCHS - they meet that challenge.

JROTC is a class offered here at CCHS. The JROTC cadets are involved in a range of activites including becoming familiar with the senior leadership (staff) of the JROTC Strader Battalion, being briefed on battalion activites that the cadets should know about and being involved in, being informed of the progress of various assignments that the staff members are working on, or having Drill and Ceremonies competitions.

During JROTC Drill and Ceremony competitions, small groups of cadets (squads) each go through a routine separetly. In these routines the squads (each being commanded by a squad leader) perfom Drill and Ceremonies, which in this case includes marching and facing movements. When marching the squad, the squad leader will call cadence in order to keep the cadets in step with one another. The squad leader will also call commands to direct the cadets to do things such as go to the left or right, stop, or change the pace at which the squad in marching. Each squad is judged by the the amount of skill and efficiency displayed in the routine, and a squad is selected as a winner.

Champions at Work

Many people ask, "What will I do in a Career and Technical Education (CTE) class, and how does it differ from any other classes I have taken?" CTE instructors' mission is to prepare today's students for tomorrow's opportunities. Our department provides students with opportunities to participate in hands-on and relevant career skills which leads to the academic achievement successful employment in a diverse job market both here and throughout the world. (TN Dept. of CTE).

Classes incorporate different methods and stategies for students to participate in real-life experiences. Students have the opportunity to visit various businesses and to take knowledge and apply it to hands-on projects-cooking, sewing, landscaping, building projects, automotive projects, computer applications and media applications. Students in each class are encouraged to participate in and Technical Student Career Organizations (CTSOs) providing opportunites to practice leadership skills and taking part in service projects promoting students to become more responsible citizens both now and in the future.

Brick Layers

A Letter From the Editor...

This book, throughout the years, has brought alot of blood, sweat, tears, and not to mention...stress. Also, the fact that I've had three different teachers in three years hasn't made it any better. Every teacher does things differently, and of course, I've butted heads with all three of them. But in the end everything has worked out. It's hard to believe that I'm a senior and my time on the yearbook staff is up. The memories from the last three years are memories I'll be able to take with me and cherish for the rest of my life. I remember my first day as a yearbook staffer back in 10th grade. Our teacher made it seem really "hxc", but it really wasn't that way at all. It was absolutely amazing having a class with all the "hot" guys. My junior year was by far my favorite year. Getting to meet our sells rep, Josh for the first time was icing on the cake. He was gorgeous and still is. The "mature" Junior Crew ruled the yearbook class that was full of seniors....haha! Now...my senior year has arrived. So far it has been amazing, but full of ups and downs. Being the editor has been a goal I've had since sophomore year, and knowing that I have achieved my goal makes me happy. From day one I made a promise to myself that this book was going to be a book that every senior, including me, would be proud to have. I personally think it's everything I could have ever wanted it to be.

To next year's editor, I wish you the best of luck. A few words of advice never ever get stressed out. It doesn't make the situation any better; only worse. Paige Chappell

Student Life Editors: Corrie Dyer & Kristin Hall

"As Student Life editors, we wanted to take a completely different approach and bring our own creative flare to the yearbook. We didn't want to "re-create," past pages, so we started from scratch bringing 'new life' to the section. The experience was memorable, and it was great working with the staff and everyone."

Ads Editor: Whitney Kratzer

"Yearbook was alot of fun! Especially since I got the chance to work on it with my best friend Christian everyday. Also, I made many great friends."

Sports Editor: Emily Upchurch

"Being in yearbook this year has been a great experience! I absolutely love sports and was so excited to be the sports editor. It was alot of hard work, but I had so much fun!"

"This year as Academic editor, has been alot of fun, stressful at times, but for the most part...fun! The best part was getting out of having to write a story every week. I have really enjoyed being a section editor, and I'm glad I had the opportunity."

Clubs Editor: Jessica Hayes

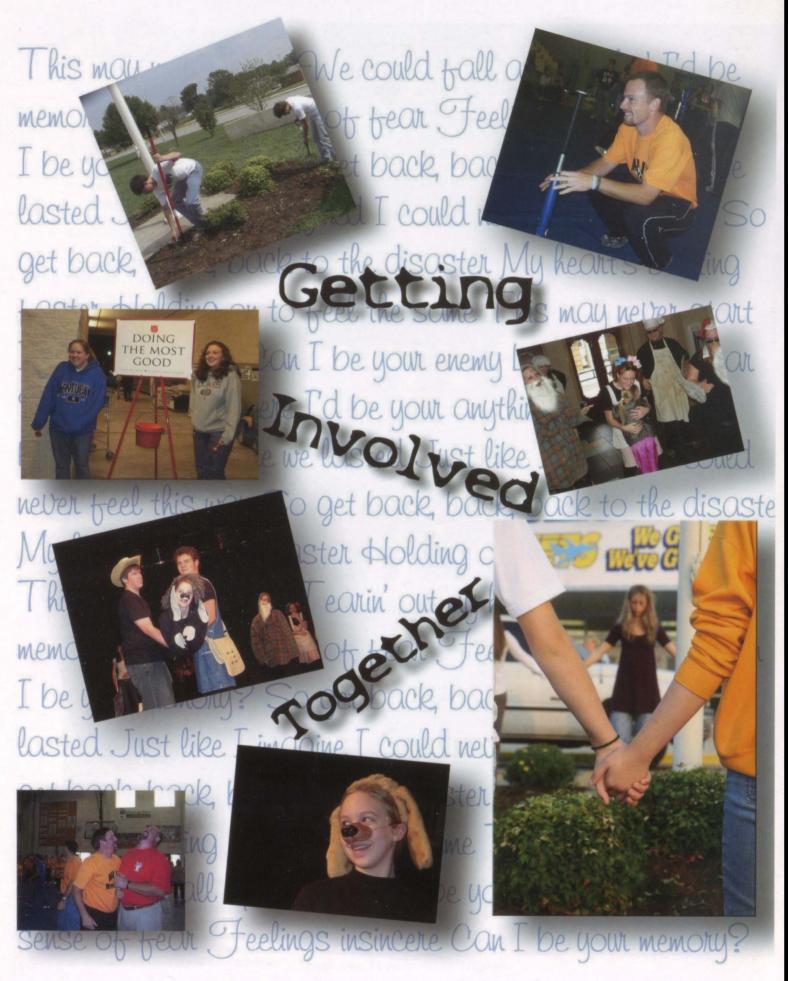

"We've had so much fun letting our creativity shine through. I've loved every minute of being involved. I'll be able to look back and say, 'I helped make this,' It's a great experience to learn about how the yearbook is created. Being section editor was so wonderful. It's something I'll never forget."

People Editor: Gina DeChristofaro

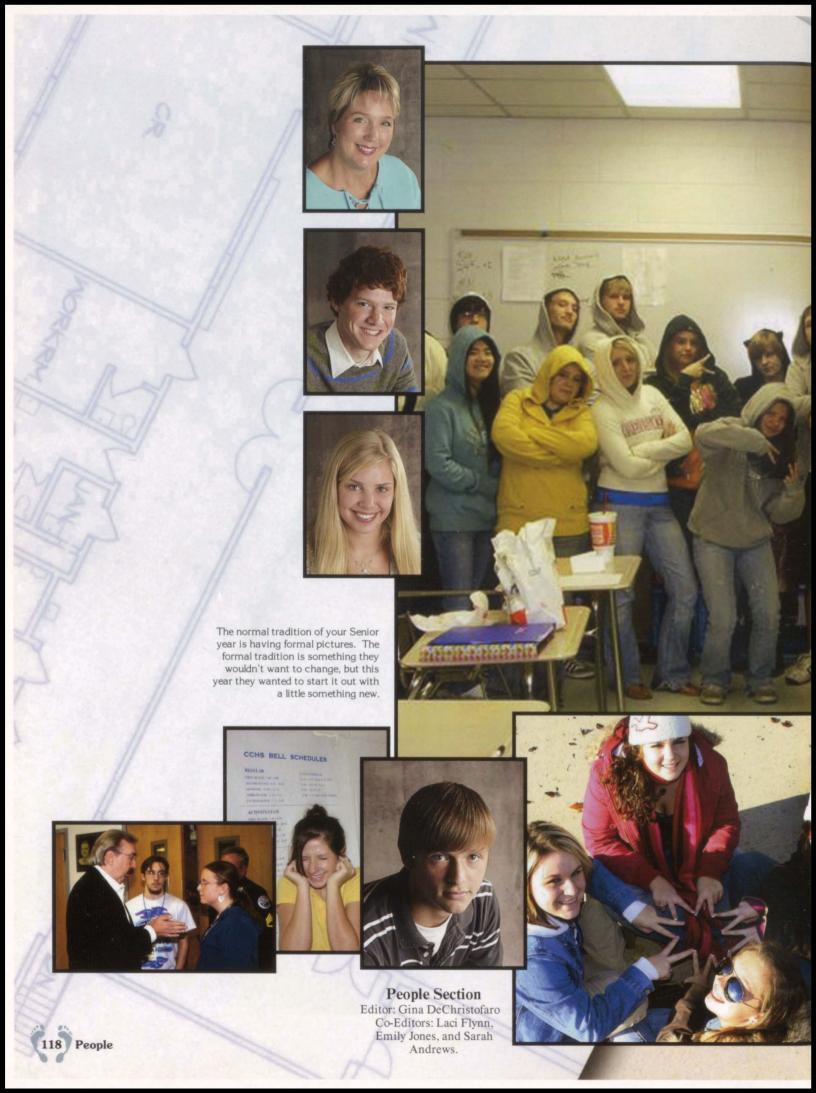

"This year has been a crazy but fun ride. It has helped me to manage time properly and learn about deadline. It was very hard, but I loved the challenge. I think this yearbook has a uniqueness to it and it like no other we have had. I am excited about creating a book next year, even better."

From People To People

From people to people, from face to face, we all have learned CCHS is our home place. A new life our school has shown, it's hard to believe how these years have flown. For the years passed, we've put down our foundation; after all, who one wants to be is their own creation.

From Face To Face

As a Jet, flying high, looking at who we are is more than just an image in the sky. Being your own person is what one needs to see.

Don't be afraid of the hero you are meant to be.

CCHS Is Our Home Place

I'm sure it has all crossed your mind before, but when it is all said and done, be proud of the Jet you are.

Dr. Pat Teeples Vice Principal

- -1st year at Cumberland County after ten years at Clay County
- -Worked in higher education for several years
- -Enjoy the variety- no day is the same
- -Excellent people to work with
- -Enjoy the opportunity to make a difference

Mr. Jon Hall Vice Principal

I have been on the staff at CCHS for the past 12 years. The first 11 were in the classroom teaching math. This is my first year as an assistant principal, and second as athletic director. I enjoy the fact that everyone at CCHS acts like a big family. If there is a job to be done, the staff will do whatever is needed to finish it. As far as being an administrator.

Ms. Mancy Hyder Vice Principal

I am a graduate of CCHS and I have been employed as a teacher, counselor, administrator for over 30 years. After 30 years, I still enjoy watching students grow from shy, awkward 9th graders to young adults when they graduate from CCHS and embark on life's journey. The aspect I enjoy most in my position at CCHS is working with the students whether it be homecoming activities, classroom activities, athletics, or extracurricular activities.

Mrs. Janet Graham Principal

I have been a teacher and principal in the Cumberland County School System for 20+years. My other 10 years of service have been with the Tennessee Department of Education. I have been the principal of Cumberland County High School since January 30, 2006. My favorite part of my job is interacting with young adults and watching them mature.

Freshman

The Freshman Academy is simply a smaller learning community within the larger high school setting. Such an environment affords our beginning freshmen with opportunities to belong and to, therefore, develop a strong sense of family. Through this nurturing environment, we believe that our students will be encouraged to commit to personal goals for success and become a community of learners who will soar.

High school represents a time of changes and challenges where students grow from children to young adults. During the freshman year, students must learn to balance school work and their social lives. In order to be successful, they must come to school regularly, complete all their assignments, and behave appropriately. We feel that our Freshman Academy will provide a smooth transition into high school environment and thus be a stimulus for our students to strive for excellence.

energetic. They are filled with loads of tradition and excitement. They are the bomb. The band gets us started, and ready to cheer on our Jets. Jet

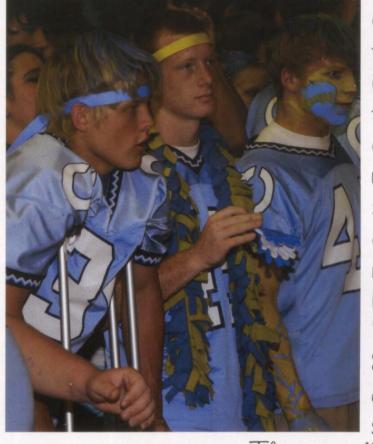

From the moment you walk into the colossal gymnasium, filled with Jet fans, your adrenaline begins to pump to the extraordinary melody of our Jet Pride Marching Band. Once in your designated class section, it just unravels from there. The intense competition between rivaling classas has commenced! Mrs. Snow, usually in charge of the pep rallies, always does a lot of jumping and screaming, and she always starts us off with the traditional J.E.T.S. chant. The freshman class shouts "J" when she cues them. "E" for sophomores, "T" for the juniors, and "S" for the senior class. After that tires us up, the cheerleaders do their thing, which id always funny to watch. Above all the events, what every Jet student anticipates the most, is the heavily acclaimed "Humpty Dump"! Everyone gets out of their seats, and goes crazy. Then we usually end with an old school chant... We are the old school. We're flying high. We've got JET PRIDE. We are the Jets. We are the best. We're CCHS!

Madison Davis

She is the president of the junior class and has been since freshmen year. "I love being a class officer even though it can be stressful sometimes," she says. Her favorite sport is soccer and she has been playing for ten years. She enjoys shopping, going to the beach, and watching her favorite football team, the Oklahoma Sooners.

Courtney Rector

She is the junior class secretary and she has been for two years. She is a huge Indianapolis Colts fan! She enjoys going to the beach and hanging out with her friends. She loves God and is very involved with her church. She is looking forward to next year and she would like to be reelected.

Amy Blaylock

Many Patterson

She is the treasurer of the junior class. She enjoys free-taco day, fireworks, and watching FACES at the pep-rallies and games. Her favorite animal is the skunk which she likes to study alongside Kelsey.

Charla Cooper

She is one of the vice presidents of the junior class. She has been a class officer for two years. She enjoys many things such as playing her harmonica, ebreaking in her car, trying to be a hippie, and writing songs.

Crank Dat Class Ring

The purpose of a class ring isn't just any ring you would get anywhere. It's something that has a lot of meaning and thought. The true meaning is whatever you want it to be. It's something you will be proud of when you look back years down the road.

It's the definition of you and your memories. It's a symbol of the best years of your life. A memory, in itself, that brings a smile to your face. Whatever you want its purpose to be is in your hands and that's what makes it so special.

Major: Biology

Plans after college: I plan to attend vet-school at UT Knoxville. Then hopefully, I plan to work with another vet or either do some research.

Salutatorian Ron Coleman

Age: 16

College: University of Tennessee at Knoxville

Major: Legal Studies/Law

Plans after college: Judge Advocate General for the United States Air Force, then working with government agency dealing with international law.

Genny Kemp Age: 18

College: Undecided Major: Biology

Plans after college: Upon graduating at a 4-year university, I hope to go on to graduate school. By then, I will have decided what direction I will go with my biology major, I will probably be long gone out of Tennessee by then, but if not, I will finish school and move somewhere else.

College: University of Tennessee at Knoxville

Major: Pharmacy

Plans after college: I want to be a pharmacist.

Timmy Lau Age: 17

College: MIT or NYU

Major: Biomedical or Biochemical Engineering, Medical

Plans after college: Too much.

Nathaniel Beaty

Age: 18

College: Undecided Major: Mathematics

Plans after college: Teaching and research. More than anything though, I plan to do two things, live and enjoy life.

Rebecca Darling

Age: 17

College: Possibly Rhodes College or Washington University in St. Louis

Major: French

Plans after college: Ever since I was a youngling, I hoped to be a princess. However, at about age three, I discovered that that particular path of life was merely impossible. Therefore, I devised a more practical plan... After much deliberation I decided that the life of an interpreter would be the life for me. Hopefully, like a princess, I will live happily ever after. The End.

Age:17

College: Tennessee Tech University Major: Instrumental Music Eduction

Plans after college: Pursuing a Ph.D in Music on Saxophone, and freelance professional musician for movie soundtracks.

Plans after college: Continue learning! I want to work either at the Body

Farm or at the FBI Profiling Unit in Quantico.

Age: 18

College: Massillon Baptist College

Major: Religious Education

Plans after college: Going into the mission field as a missionary.

Traveling around the world, leading people to Christ.

Valedictorian Kristopher Martin

Has it always been a goal to achieve the highest honor of your class?

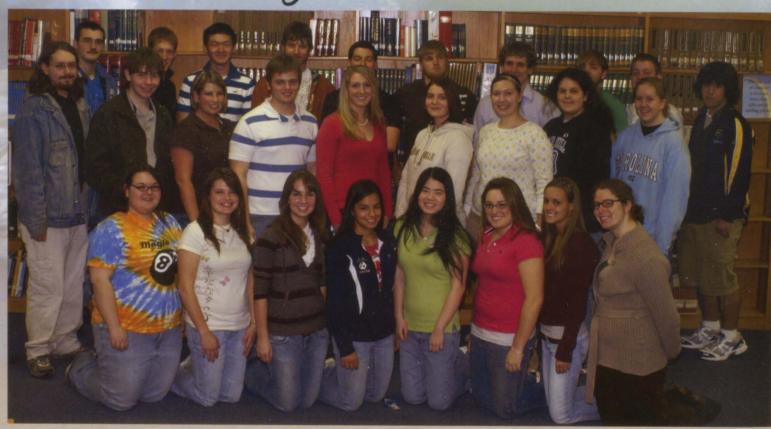

Honestly, it hasn't always been my goal. I approached high school not worrying about who was going to be number one, but was motivated enough to maintain my grades which meant keeping straight A's. It also helped to have parents who cared about how I was doing at school.

How does it make you feel to be Valedictorian?

I didn't realize how much I cared about who was number one or two until everyone started to talk about it after Christmas break. I became aware that I had a good chance of being valedictorian. When it was finally announced, and I knew beyond a shadow of a doubt, a feeling of accomplishment flooded through me. There is really no way to describe the emotion, but it was just great to know that all of my hard work had paid off. How are you going to use this achievement to affect your future?

This achievement will help me accomplish one of my goals - the ability to finance four years of undergraduate school and attend Veterinarian School. Being valedictorian will help me in receiving scholoarships necessary for my education. Knowing what it takes to be number one will help me achieve my fullest potential in college, in Vet School, and in becoming a veterinarian. Maybe one day I can come back to Crossville, give my son or daughter the opportunity to be valedictorian of their class just like my dad did for me.

Salutatorian Ronald Coleman

Has it always been a goal to achieve the highest honor of your class?

Yes, it has, I have always considered myself a competitor, and I excel in academics. As soon as I realized this, I made it my personal goal to be the best out of everyone. Also, with the love and support of my mother, I have been continuously motivated to continue working hard.

How does it make you feel to be Salutatorian?

It is one of the best feelings in the world. Aside from being a Christian, it is the thing I am most proud of. I think I can finally say I have received a physical award, not just a good feeling or something, for all the work I've put in. Now I feel motivated to go for the same thing in college.

How are you going to use this achievement to affect your future?

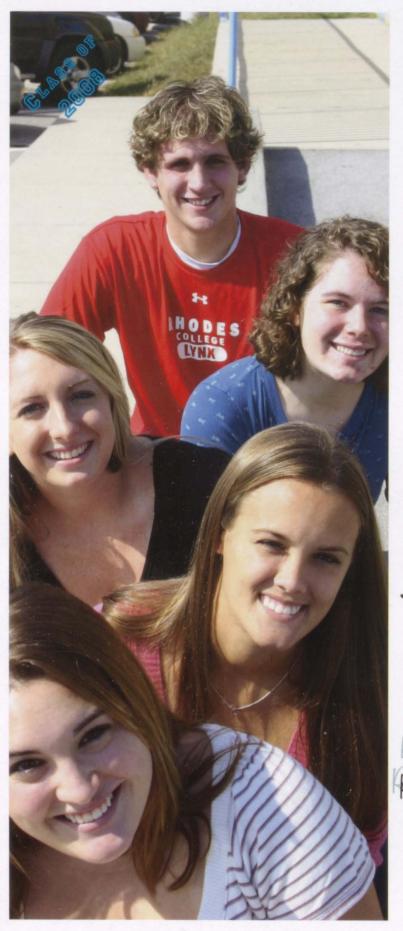

This is something I have earned, and I plan to use it in every way. It will assist me in my college funding, my search for a job, and any other way I can think of. However, I do not prize it for its usefulness, but rather for what it states about me and how much it means to me.

Whitney,
No parents could ask for a better daughter. Even though you are all grown up, you will always be our little girl. We are very proud of you. We love you very much.

When you were little everyone would ask "How's that little girl?" I always replied "Perfect in everyway." Here you are, a grown lady and when I am asked today how you are, the answer is still the same-"Perfect in everyway." You are all we ever dreamed of and more.

Jessica Hayes

To Our Daughter Jessica Hayes, It is with Great Pride that we recognize you and all of your accomplishments as you graduate with the outstanding Class of 2008. We can reflect on your steadfast progress and growth from that little girl you once were to the young woman you've become. Your self motivation and determination to learn and becoming the best that you could, will carry on with you as your life moves forward. Your dedication to yourself, your family, your peers, your school and your beliefs exhibit the quality of the woman that we, as well as others admire and respect. You surrounded yourself with good friends and thanks to them they helped with your tears from the pains of 9/11. We wish all of them the best as the Class of 2008 takes the next big step. We are very proud of you Jessica, and as you move on to college, we must say, "Look Out World, Here Comes Jessica "!

GO JETS!!!!

From Small Footsteps

We all finally made it to the end of the 2007-2008 school year. Our first unsure footsteps of getting back into school was a struggle, but somehow we did it. Throughout this year, we spent time learning, making new friends, and mostly having a good time.

We Leave Footprints

Seniors finally made it! They have come so far, and looking back over the past, the many changes are obvious. Saying goodbye wasn't easy, but it was time to graduate and move on. The footprints they leave behind are there for the rest of us to follow.

For Others to Follow

The underclassmen have been left a blueprint to follow. If they hold onto these blueprints, and follow the footprints, their high school expirence should be a great one.

The 2008 volumn 45 edition of the Plateau was published by the yearbook publication class of Cumberland County High School. The Plateau was printed by Taylor Publishing in Dallas, Texas. The 232 page full-color book, including candid photos, was submitted digitally for a press run of 550. The Plateau sales representatives was Josh Houston, and the account executive was Terry Galindo.

Senior, underclassmen, faculty and group photos were taken by Prestige/Lifetouch Studios at no

Copy for the yearbook was written and edited by Plateau staff members. Candid photos were taken by Plateau staff members, while some photos were obtained courtesy of the Crossville Chronicle and Walt Riches. We would also like to thank David Hatfield, Mike Graham, Maria Server, and Pat Koehl contributed sports and various other pictures. Photography students Chris Kolhepp, Mike McCarthy, Matt Truitt, and Mike Wolverton who took many of the pictures which appear in the book. And finally Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Way and the CCHS guidance department as well as the entire faculty and staff for their support.

All pages were produced using Adobe Photoshop CS, and Taylor's Elitevision.

Advertisement was sold by the Plateau staff, and senior ads were offered to parents and friends. Theme elements and the cover design were developed by the staff. Book Specifications are as follows:
