Ag in the Classroom was Monday afternoon.

Welcome! Let's learn about chickens!

Because of the Asian bird flu, we are not able to incubate chicken eggs and watch them hatch. Crystal showed slides and video clips about chickens and their life cycle. An egg was cracked, and each part of the egg was identified.

Pastor Tim Hall was our chapel speaker. To produce fruit, we must stay connected to the vine. We do that by reading God's Word, praying, and worshiping God.

The polar region is a type of habitat. So, how does a polar bear stay warm. Blubber or fat under the skin keeps it warm. Lane had two plastic bags put on each hand, however in one of the plastic bags was a layer of shortening. Both hands were placed in ice water. Lane said the hand that was the warmest was the one with a layer of shortening.

The House of 100 came down on Thursday. All the boxes were bagged up and then put into the recycle bin.

Show & Tell Spring: jump rope, daffodils, grass, butterfly, fish, and a remote-control toy.
