Cell Phone Policy:

As outlined in the student handbook, in accordance with state law, cell phones are not to be out during the school day except during lunch or passing periods. Upon entering the classroom, students should either place their cell phones in their backpacks or in the numbered pouch on the classroom wall that corresponds to their seat number. Students with any unauthorized device will be asked to turn off the device and relinquish it to the teacher, who will send it to the office. On the first offense, students may retrieve the device at the end of the school day. Subsequent offenses will result in confiscation to the office (as well as additional disciplinary action), but a parent/guardian will be required to pick up the device. Refusal to relinquish cell phones is considered insubordination and will result in consequences as outlined in the student handbook.

Restroom Use:

Students are expected to use the restroom during passing periods and lunch breaks. Should students need to leave class in order to use the restroom, they must fill out a pass and sign out at the sheet posted by the door.

Classroom Expectations:

Adherence to the guidelines of the school handbook is expected.

Students are to be respectful of themselves, their classmates, and their teachers at all times.

Continued offenses will result in a discipline referral to the office. Severe discipline problems will result in removal from the classroom; the student(s) will be sent immediately to the office.

Grading:

Grades are awarded on a point system. Grades will be given for homework, projects, tests over each chapter covered (written and oral), and your binder, each of which are assigned a point value. Assignments not completed when checked at the beginning of class will be recorded as a zero. Students may complete the work and turn it in at a later time for a maximum score of 60%. Assignments missed due to an absence will receive full credit when made up within 5 school days. The number of points that you earn is divided by the total number of points possible to determine your percentage and letter grade. Grades are updated on Skyward regularly. You may access your Skyward account to keep track of your assignments and grades.

- *Homework is checked at the beginning of class. Each homework assignment is worth 10 points unless otherwise noted.
- *Project points vary by assignment and will be given with each project rubric.
- *Written tests are typically worth 100 points. Missed test questions can be redone per teacher instruction to receive back partial credit.
- *Oral tests must be taken on the assigned day and cannot be made up except in cases of an excused absence for the student's Spanish class that day.
- *Binders will hold daily board assignments, vocabulary, worksheets, and notes. These will be collected and graded at the end of each chapter.
- *9 weeks exams count for 25% of your 9 weeks grade. (This could change pending school board action.)
- *The two nine weeks' grades will be averaged to determine the semester grade.
- *Students may be exempt from the final exam based on the grade and attendance requirements set forth in the student handbook.

Do your own work! Cheating of any kind is not tolerated. The use of computerized translators is strictly forbidden. Such devices are NOT good tools for beginning language students and their use is considered CHEATING. Assignments that are suspected of cheating or having been completed with the aid of a translator will be given a score of ZERO with no opportunity to make up the assignment.

Google Classroom:

Each class period will have a Google Classroom site. Students are expected to join at the beginning of the semester and check this site daily, especially if they are absent, in order to keep up with classwork. All bell work and assignments will be posted there, along with important announcements. Please note that Google classroom is not used as a grading portal. All official grade records are kept in Skyward.
