

Mrs. Roy's CLASSROOM NEWSLETTER

Class news

We've wrapped up another great week in 3rd grade! Unit 1, Lesson 4 reading tests have been graded and entered into PowerSchool for you to review. We're also diving into our new opinion writing unit, starting with the exciting topic: Should kids have cell phones? (What side do you think your child will choose?) A big thank you to all the families who joined us for Literacy Day! We loved seeing you there and appreciate your support! Please be sure to check the "Upcoming Events" section carefully, as our tests this week will be given on Thursday due to our field trip. Finally, the Home Connections sheet for Unit 1, Lesson 5 was sent home on Friday to help guide practice at home.

Our classroom store opened on Friday, and students were able to spend the money they've earned for participation, being on task, and helping others! I ask that all toys that are purchased in the classroom store stay at home and do not come back to school.

Please let me know if you have any questions! Have a great weekend!
