News In Grades 6-8

Each grade level participated in collaborative team planning, and they prepared for parent teacher conferences. The conferences were held on 10/25 & 10/26 here at the school and parents received copies of their scholars' report card.

Parents were able to gain information about their scholars' performance the 1st quarter.

Our overall goal is to ensure that our universal expectations are in place.

Yond'r bags are coming

Students and Parents, we have had a great deal of success preparing for yondr bags by keeping phones off and away during school hours. Implementation of the bags will begin as early as next week. We know that students need their phones to communicate with parents after school, but during school hours they are not required for learning. Please stay tuned for more details in the next few days.

A Note From Dr. Gerald

Westview is a Title I school, and we receive federal dollars to help us support our students in math and literacy. Our scholars recently took their first star assessment, and as a school we are using resources to help them reach mastery on essential skills. Parents, you can help by talking to your scholar about their progress in math and English, and by implementing reading time at home.
