The Office of Vocational Rehabilitation provides services to eligible individuals with disabilities (ages 14 and over), both directly and through a network of approved vendors. Services are provided on an individualized basis. The OVR counselor, during face-to-face interviews, assists customers in selecting their choice of vocational goals, services and service providers. An Individualized Plan for Employment (IPE) is developed, outlining a vocational objective, services, providers and responsibilities.

For more information on services OVR can provide to your son or daughter, please register through the following link below.
