The Freshmen learn REAL QUICK what to do when they see a yearbook photographer.

Boogie and Patrick look so excited about their literature lesson. Maybe they know something that we don't, or maybe Mrs. LaPrairie's finally pushed them over the edge.

Jason and Jacob: The Boudreaux and Pierre of the 90's.

Don't worry. Kim is about to settle Chauntra, Allyson, and Evonda down to some serious yearbook work. Watch out, now!

The Four Mickeys: Karla, Virginia, Roxanne, and Melissa.

Some students just can't study unless they're lying down. It kinda reminds them of their bed at home. But a concrete bench?!?

Emily seems just a tad off balance today. Thank goodness she has Mark, Jeff, and Brock to help her out.

Hey, you usually put files in the filing cabinet, not April! Oh, now we understand — it's the April receipts file.

Here's a snapshot of the BHS Welding Team just before they left to repair the bridge crossing the Mississippi River in New Orleans. It could've been such a great fund raiser.

The Haasville Road Pit Crew: Russell uses a broom to fine tune Jeremy's car. Well, no wonder they lost the race!

Each Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock during football season, all of BHS converges on the gym with signs, noisemakers, and a lot of spirit to show its tremendous support of our MIGHTY PANTHERS. The band, dance line, cheerleading squad, drill team and student body all work together to get our football team pumped up for a great victory.

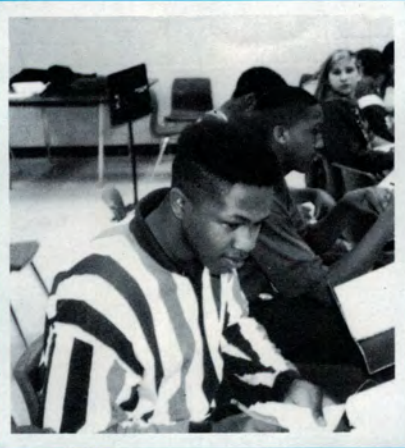

The Freshman Boys of Ag. wait for their leaders before going to plow the lower forty. They help feed the world. God bless 'em.

Amie's job for the day: clean the drawer, but be careful not to vacuum up any of Mrs. Doo's paper clips — or mix up the big clips with the little ones. Heaven forbid!!!

Okay, Gabe, what are you doing? You can't possibly be doing homework cause that might spoil your image, and it's so close to graduation.

BHS's new hand cream, exclusively designed by Coach Reed and Mr. Graser, is getting rave reviews, especially this new fragrance — Eau De Peat Moss.

The beautiful music of students actually at work. BHS students NEVER have free hours.

Calvin smiles widely as he conducts Bunkie High's nationally acclaimed symphony orchestra.

Robbie and Poor Lee, stuck in the middle of all these Senior Stud Muffins. Doesn't ANYONE want to trade places with her? . . . guess not.

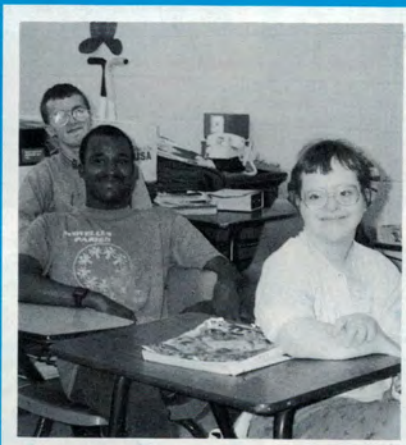

Mr. Elmer's geometry class shows off the miniature bridges they made. Hmm, it looks as though Curt misunderstood the assignment and designed a hat instead.

Brock and Mark, ever loyal to the Junior CLASS, make sure that the juniors make an impressive showing at every Pep Rally with their power air horn.

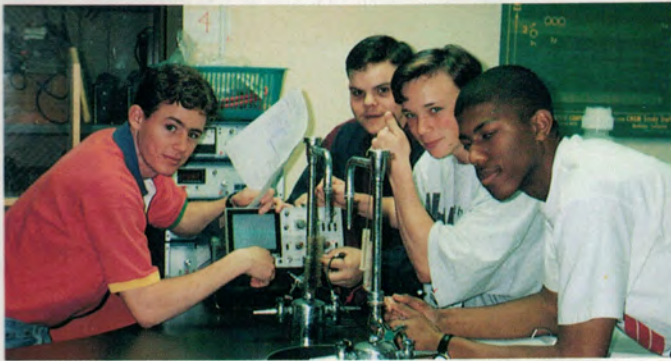

Robbie and Byron, by the looks on your faces, you must've welded yourselves together. Try not to worry; John is there to get y'all apart. Uh oh, Byron looks even more worried now!

Why can't we all be this happy? Ponder that thought a moment.

Luke Skywalker and Darth Vader use BHS's Ag. Dept. to repair Engine 9 before proceeding into the next galaxy.

IT'S FINALLY TIME

Well, Seniors, that day has finally come
When we must admit that high school has been fun,
For our time here is over; the clock's run out.
It's time we learn what the world is all about.

Our teachers and parents have so often preached
About this crucial point in our lives that we've reached.
Now we can't ask "What should I do?"
Because that question can't be answered by anyone but you.

The term papers, the books, the lessons and such,
We used to think they were a bit too much.
But, now we realize it was so easy back then,
Nothing to worry about but being with friends.

Don't look to the past; think of what's in store.
What we had was enough, but we can handle more,
For we've been taught by the best.
We've had a school unlike all the rest.

To BHS's faculty and staff: We thank you,
For you're one of a kind.
We thank you for your patience;
We thank you for your time.

As we graduate, we know it's not the end,
In our hearts we'll always be the best of friends.
We, the Seniors, say "Hello" to the world
And to everything that's to be,
For it's GRADUATION TIME for you and for me.
